Pentagon, Solon Start Crackdown On Military Feud

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—A double crackdown was threatened today to halt a public feud among the U. S. armed services—a great dispute over how the nation should prepare to defend itself in the nuclear age.

After unnamed sources, evidently within the Army, passed documents to newsmen charging that present emphasis on air power could lead only to "national disaster," there were these quick developments:

1. Secretary of Defense Wilson called the public policy row "a most unfortunate business" and said he would look into it personally. Hinting at possible action, he said the armed forces "don't have to practice psychological warfare on each other."

2. Sen. Chavez (D-NM), hairman of a Senate Defense Appropriations Committee, warned that Congress might cut the funds of the armed forces unless "petty jealousies" are done away with. "They ought to quit being prima donnas and work for our common purpose, the defense of our country," he said.

Although the Army-Air Force differences are the latest to boil over, there are hot disputes also between the Navy and Air Force. Recently the Air Force declared the Navy's big carriers could deliver only a "small" strategic punch. The Navy, backed by President Eisenhower and Secretary Wilson, has pictured its areial might as tremendous.

Sharply worded staff studies circulating in the Pentagon were quoted today in several newspapers, including The New York Times, New York Herald-Tribune and St. Paul Pioneer Press. Some represent the views of individual staff officers, some the settled official opinion of an armed service.

Among other documents disclosed today was one in which Air Force public relations chiefs instruct public information special-

Butler Says

Demos Won't Straddle Fence On Race Issue

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 19—UP—Democrats will not straddle the fence on racial integration in their 1956 campaign platform, National Chairman Paul M. Butler said Saturday.

He said they will take a "clear and unequivocal" stand on the issue which will follow the "moderate" view of the South upholding the U. S. Supreme Court's ban on segregation.

"We're not going to recommend that the Supreme Court decision be enforced by guns, bullets and bayonets," he told newsmen. "But we're certainly not going to straddle the fence on the necessity of all our people to recognize the decision of the Supreme Court as the law of our land.

"I think we can state that principle in our platform without any offense to the moderates in the South."

He said Democrats will not try to chart a course on the degree of enforcement of the court order because that is something for federal courts to determine.

Butler was in town for a meeting of the Indiana Democratic state committee, which re-elected him to a third two-year term as the party's national committeeman.

Butler said the Democrats expect to regain a "Solid South" in the fall election. Four years ago, President Eisenhower carried Texas, Tennessee, Virginia and Florida.

A "moderate" view on the racial issue prevailed in the South in 1952, he said, and the moderates seem to have even more

J. Coon Issues His Statement On Segregation

The text of Mayor Coon's statement follows:

"Much has been said of late about bloc voting. According to an official statement of the registrar of voters of Ouachita parish appearing in daily press last Friday and Saturday, there is a total of 12,045 qualified voters in the city of Monroe. Of this number 11,124 are white voters and only 921 are colored. It will be seen by mathamatical application that of the total qualified voters 92 per cent are white and only 8 per cent are colored.

"I have certainly not raised the segregation issue in this campaign. The first I have heard of it has been my chief opponent's official statement published in the Monroe News-Star of May 18.

"Now, since this question has emanated from my chief opponent's own lips, I think it only fair to the voters of the City of Monroe that they should know that this opponent has campaigned actively in the Negro business and residential sections, going from door to door soliciting their vote and support and it is only reasonable to assume that his efforts in the Negro sections will be met by a substantial vote from the Negro voters.

"I was born and raised in Ouachita parish and cling most dearly to all of the traditions and ways of life heretofore enjoyed and now enjoyed in our southern states.

"I not only advocate segregation but I point out with emphasis that during my administration as your

Bell Telephone Strike Averted By New Contract

ATLANTA, May 19 (AP)—Southern Bell Telephone Co. announced tonight that agreement has been reached on a new contract with the Communications Workers of America. It affects an estimated 55,000 nonsupervisory employes in nine states.

Frank M. Malone, Southern Bell personnel vice president, said the new contract provides for wage increases ranging up to $5 per week depending on the job and the town classification of the employes.

The contract is for one year, he said, but will be extended beyond this initial period unless terminated by 60-day notice by either party. It goes into effect tomorrow.

Bargaining sessions between the company and the union have been in progress since April 23. The old contract ended at midnight last night.

The union and the company reached agreement on a pact last year after a prolonged, strife-filled walkout of 72 days. Arbitrators are still investigating and ruling on dismissals made during the strike.

Last year the union won wage increases of from $1 to $4, bringing their scales to $40 for a starting operator in a large town with a top of $53.50 after six years. In a small town an operator would start at $40 and increase to $48.

Telephone company bargainers include Frank M. Malone, vice president in charge of personnel; M. A. Candler, C. T. McKinney and M. P. Green.

Southern Bell covers 700 towns in nine Southeastern states including Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Kentucky, Mississippi, Louisiana Tennessee, North and South Carolina.

NEW ORLEANS, May 19 (AP) — The American Sugar Cane League tonight announced its opposition to bills in the state Legislature to replace Louisiana's right-to-work law with a similar act to apply only to agricultural laborers.

Sen. B. B. Rayburn of Bogalusa, a leader in the unsuccessful fight against the law in 1954, introduced two measures in the Senate last Wednesday. Senate bill 51 would repeal the law which forbids union contracts requiring a person either to be a union member before obtaining a job or to join a union within a certain time.

LONGVIEW, Tex., May 19 (AP)—Interposition petitions distributed throughout Texas were short only 15,000 signatures tonight, Robert Cargill of Longview reported.

He said he expected the 140,000 required signatures to be received before Monday, when he will appear before the State Democratic Executive Committee at 4 p.m. for a hearing.

JAMES C. (JAKE) USSERY

Ussery Is Named Junior Chamber's State President

SHREVEPORT, May 19 (Special)—James C. (Jake) Ussery, of Monroe, captured 53 of 81 votes on the first ballot at a statewide convention here Saturday to become president of the Louisiana Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The convention, attended by 415 Jaycees and their wives representing 31 Jaycee chapters, was held in the Captain Shreve Hotel.

The Monroe - West Monroe chapter was named the winner of the coveted Giessenbier Memorial Trophy for Division Three—cities with population of 25,001 to 100,000. The trophy is presented annually by each state organization to the Jaycee group within the state having the most impressive records and programs. There is one award in each class and Monroe-West Monroe won first in four categories: Extension, Youth Welfare activities, Memeograph publications, and Project of the Year.

The Jaycee Jaynes Junior Chamber auxiliary meeting in the garden room of the Captian Shreve hotel yesterday afternoon named Mrs. C. R. Elkins of Rayville as their new state president. Other new officers are Mrs. Vince Forte, Plaquemines, first vice-president; Mrs. David Masur, Monroe, second vice president; Mrs. J. E. Bruce, Rayville, secretary; Mrs. Martine Van Huesen, treasurer.

Ussery, who won over Sylman R. Lang, a Baton Rouge engineer, was nominated by Gordon Schexnayder, of Lafayette. Seconding speeches were made by DeWitt Mathvin, of Alexandria, and John Hooks, of Rayville.

Mrs. Ussery was introduced to the delegates following the announcement of Ussery's election. President Ussery planted a kiss on his wife in approval. She is the former Miss Jo Ann Guerriero, of Monroe. They have three children.

The new president will serve for the next year. He immediately appointed seven Monroe men to his staff, including Tom Hyland and John Kelso, both past vice presidents of the Monroe-West Mon-

Ex-Red Leader In U.S. Denounces Communist Party

YONKERS, N.Y., May 19—UP—Earl Browder, once the nation's No. 1 Red, denounced the U.S. Communist party Saturday as a "contemptible sect with no roots in American life."

He said he no longer calls himself a Communist but made it clear he has not changed his Marxist political views and does not plan to give government Communist hunters any help in their task.

Browder turns 65 Sunday, a sadder but wiser man about the movement he led in the 15 years before and during World War II.

He was ousted from leadership in 1945, and from the party in 1946, for holding views too capitalistic for Moscow's Red blood. Now his only political interest is that of a "student of history," he said.

Benson Offers Qualified Okay For Farm Bill

Quick Accord On Measure By House, Senate Predicted

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—Quick settlement of Senate - House differences over the latest draft of an election year farm bill was forecast by some House leaders today.

Although sharp differences of opinion still existed, they did not appear to defy compromise in time to get a bill to President Eisenhower next week.

There was even a chance the House would accept a bill passed by the Senate last night without further wrangling.

The Senate version, passed after two days of debate, won qualified support today from Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Benson commented that "a quick check of the bill indicates that, overall, it has been much improved from the standpoint of the Department of Agriculture."

The Senate measure modifies some features of the House-passed bill distasteful to the administration, and gives the President his $1,200,000,000 soil bank program for paying farmers to take surplus crop land out of production.

Neither Senate nor House version authorizes advance soil bank payments this year on next year's land withdrawals. Eisenhower asked for this authority when he vetoed a more extensive farm measure last month.

In advance of compromise efforts, Rep. Cooley (D-NC) said in a statement he hoped the new bill will go to the President before the end of next week and that he "can see fit to sign it."

Cooley, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, sought an immediate meeting of House and Senate conferees in the event the States' Righters Claim Nationwide Support For Plan

JACKSON, Miss., May 19 (AP) — Mississippians For States' Rights claimed today they are part of a nation-wide effort to either throw the presidential election into the House of Representatives in November or bargain votes for concessions with the Democrats and Republicans.

In a statement of plan and purpose, leaders of the movement said theirs is "no rash and intemperate move. Powerful forces are at work over the country, both North and South, to bring about the election of such a large number of unpledged electors that neither of the major party candidates will receive a majority of the electoral votes . . ."

The announcement said bluntly that if the effort to deny both the Republicans and Democrats a victory in November is successful the unpledged electors could:

"1. Demand and obtain a return to constitutional government or,

"2. Throw the election into the House of Representatives by casting their electoral vote for some great Southern Democrat like, for instance, Sen. Harry Byrd (D-

Calcutta Cholera Epidemic Grows Worse; 173 Dead

CALCUTTA, May 19 —UP—The government sent in health officials Saturday to cope with a growing cholera epidemic that has stricken 1,207 persons and killed 173 of them in the last weeks.

A total of 160 new cases were admitted to hospitals Saturday. Ten of the patients died.

Angry charges of scandal and mismanagement accompanied the appearance of the black plauge in this crowded city. The mayor ordered an investigation of charges that pipe retrieved from scrap heaps had been used to sink wells for drinking water. A union official charged that municipal garbage collectors were selling spoiled fish hauled from markets.

The epidemic appeared to be most critical in the slum areas.

Friday's 170 attacks were the most that have occurred yet on a single day.

Nervousness spread through the 3 million inhabitants with the sight of victims collapsing with the sight of victims collapsing with the symptomatic cramps and violent nausea of the disease.

Solons To Introduce New Set Of Segregation Laws

U. S. Issues Warning On Red 'Smile'

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—A symposium released by the House Committee on Un-American Activities today warns that the new Soviet campaign of anti-Stalinism presents a menace to the free world greater than Stalinism itself.

The new Russian leaders, who have denounced the dead dictator, were described as still pursuing his goal of world domination but by subtler methods—seeking to lull, divide and undermine the free nations.

The committee asked 39 educators, writers, veterans' organization leaders, labor union heads, ex-Communists and others to write their views on anti-Stalinism and the recent 20th Congress of the Soviet Communist party.

The views were published in the symposium which the committee entitled "The Great Pretense."

In a summation at the end of the booklet, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said:

"When the Communist smirk begins to change to a smile, as is the case right now, we would be well advised to refocus our sights. Behind those changing spots, the same bad blood still flows through the leopard's veins."

Hoover said the "defrocking" of Stalin has brought repercussions in Communist circles over the world and in the United States "confusion and disillusionment have developed in the Communist party."

He added, though, "there is no danger that the unbiblical cord will be severed. The party in America still is a dedicated child, completely dependent upon the proud parent in Moscow."

Hoover repeated his warning that Communists in America are trying to work through front organizations.

In a foreword, Rep. Walter (D-Pa), chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, said the Stalin purge is all the more dangerous because of the confusion and deception which it engenders.

Legislature To Be Offered 7-Point Plan

Rainach Reveals Details Following Talk With Long

BATON ROUGE, May 19 (AP) — Legislative leaders said today they will introduce a seven-part segregation program next week which would make Louisiana the sixth southern state to defy the U. S. Supreme Court with interposition.

Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia have passed interposition resolutions which declare they consider the court ban on school segregation to be invalid.

Racial feelings run at mild temperatures in Louisiana, although New Orleans police sought a Klan link to a blazing cross found two days ago on grounds of Catholic Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel.

The church official months ago named a committee to study the possibility of integration in church schools after next September.

A federal court a few weeks ago ordered New Orleans public schools to comply with the Supreme Court decree — but set no time limit.

For weeks, the Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation has been drafting a new pattern of laws to bulwark Louisiana's official stand against mixed races in public classrooms.

Sen. W. M. Rainach, the mild-voiced but tough-minded north Louisianian who heads the group, made public the new segregation package after a conference with Gov. Earl K. Long.

Presbyterians To Buy Property On Stubbs Avenue

The Board of Trustees of the First Presbyterian Church of Monroe have entered into a binding agreement to purchase a large square of ground located two blocks north of the Sears building on Louisville for $75,000, it was announced Saturday by owners of the property.

Selling the property are Kellogg Realty Inc., Nelson Realty Corporation and R. Fred Petty.

The property measures 1,000 feet by 260 feet and is bounded 14, 11, Stubbs and Royal streets, all of which are in the process of being paved.

A formal transfer of the deed will be made within 30 days, it was further stated.

Crazed Gunman Kills Two Policemen Before Rain Of Bullets Stop Mad Spree

CLEVELAND, May 19—UP—A crazed gunman ran wild through downtown streets and stores during a Saturday noon shopping rush, firing fatal shots at a patrolman and store detective, then the gunman himself was killed by a police bullet.

The gunman was identified as Frank Williams, 43, of Cleveland.

Williams, a Negro, was fatally shot by Sgt. Bernard Schweter of the Cleveland police hit-skip unit, one of the dozens of policemen who converged on public square to chase the killer.

As he ran, the killer abandoned his cap, a trench coat and sun glasses.

Finally, a half mile from where he killed two, Williams was cornered. The police radio reported "We've got him." Seconds later, the same radio reported "Gunman en route to the morgue."

Victims of the gunman were veteran traffic patrolman Joseph Haydu, 34, and store detective Frank Begin, 58.

Detectives said that Williams had "an awful long record" of felonies here. They said the Williams record of one and one-half pages listed robberies, shooting and burglaries and that Williams had spent "a lot of time in the (Ohio) penitentiary."

The shooting sphree which left three dead began about noon when the gunman invaded a Kresge Co. variety store near the center of downtown Cleveland.

He slugged and robbed Mrs. Joanne Morrison, 61, a cashier. The loot later was estimated at $110. The gunman fled the store, pursued by Haydu. The case led to another Kresge store nearby. The officer and fleeing theft grap-

There were 50 of the little fellows, all black and white spotted and were contained in two pasteboard containers.

"What am I offered," began J.S.

"I'll give a dollar," shouted a man in the throng.

An attractive young woman evidently intrigued by the sight of such an unusual thing as an auction sale in the lobby of the postoffice even before she knew what she was doing, cried out in silvery tones.

"Mister I'll bid a dollar and a half."

The bid was raised and finally the young woman bid $3.50 and the small flock became her property.

Stevenson Back As Front-Runner In Oregon Win

Adlai E. Stevenson forged back into a front-running position in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination Saturday on the basis of a smashing victory over Sen. Estes Kefauver in the Oregon primary.

Returns showed Stevenson holding a commanding lead that virtually erased the effect of his defeat by the Tennessee senator in Minnesota.

President Eisenhower, running unopposed in the Republican primary, piled up a bigger total vote than Stevenson and Kefauver combined. However, Mr. Eisenhower's name was printed on the Republican ballot, whereas all of the Stevenson and Kefauver votes were write-ins. No candidates name appeared on the Democratic ballot.

Stevenson was "delighted." He said his victory margin was "much larger" than he anticipated.

Kefauver had no immediate comment.

Both Stevenson and Kefauver were already looking ahead to their next head-on clash — in the May 19 Florida primary. Stevenson spent Saturday handshaking his way through Sarasota, Fla.,

Report Eisenhower Feels Increased Surplus Not Enough For Any Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, May 19 —UP—Reports circulated in diplomatic circles here Saturday that Russian pilots recently delivered 21 big planes suitable for paratroop use to Egypt.

The planes — already bearing Egyptian markings — were reported to have flown over Greece en route to their destination.

The reports co-incided with a top level review here of western relations with Egypt in the light of the Middle East nation's surprised recognition of Red China. Officials speculated that Egypt received the planes — assuming the reports are true — "payment" for embracing the Chinese Communist regime.

President Eisenhower and his advisers are admittedly disturbed by Egypt's steady progression toward the Red bloc and violent anti-western statements. There is apprehension that other Arab nations may follow Egypt's lead. This could cause trouble later this year if new moves are made to seat Red China in the United Nations.

Some officials fear Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser may stumble into Soviet satellite status "if he doesn't slow down."

The State Department is "assebling all the information it can" on current moves by Egypt, particularly its decision to recognize Red China.

There is evidence that Nasser, who aspires to leadership of the Arab world, may seeks arms from any source in order to give him more political - military influence in the area as well as raise a menace to Israel. Upon getting late model jet planes from Czechoslovakia, Nasser turned around and sold older British Vampire jet fighters to Saudi Arabia.

Acquisition of the Russian planes could be similarly used to transfer military equipment to other Arab states.

Va) or Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga)."

Thus far, the week-old organization called Mississippians For States' Rights, has had only one name connected to its organization, that of Circuit Judge M. M. McGowan of Jackson.

McGowan released the statement of policy and pointed out that if neither the Democrats nor Republicans receive a majority of electoral votes the election would go to the House of Representatives where each state would cast one vote for a president and vice president.

"It is easily conceivable that a Southern Democrat could be elected president for the first time in more than 100 years."

Gov. J. P. Coleman, titular head of the Democratic party in traditionally Democratic Mississippi, has indicated he will have none of this planning. He stated this week he intends to go to the Democratic convention in Chicago in August "with no strings attached by the State Democratic Convention" to play the situation by ear. He has asked for an uninstructed delegation.

The extent of the strength—or lack of it—of the States' Righters may be revealed at the public meeting here May 30.

McGowan's release said, "We positively refrain from provoking any feud or fight between Mississippians. We simply want the people to have all of the information before they make a choice. When people are compelled to make a choice between two evils, it is a sure sign someone has failed them along the line."

The States' Righters want Mississippi to elect a set of presidential electors not pledged to either major party.

Their ultimate aim, they say, is to return to constitutional government as "opposed to bureaucratic socialism and particularly federal interference in the internal affairs of the several states, specifically integration or race mixing."

Two Negroes Die In Pistol Shooting Incidents In City

Two Negroes were reported victims of pistol shootings in Monroe, Saturday afternoon.

Dead were Richard Lee Thompson, 18-year-old Negro, and Elijah Jones, 31, Negro, according to Chief of Detectives Hugh Tolbert.

One person was charged by police and lodged in jail in connection with one of the deaths. She was identified as Irene McGuire, 25, Negro, of 100 North 11th street, who was charged with manslaughter and placed under $5,000 bond, as recommended by the district attorney, the detectives chief said.

Ouachita parish coroner Dr. J. T. French said that Thompson was a victim of suicide by shooting. The coroner gave a verdict of homicide by shooting in the death of Jones. The bullet entered above the collar bone severing the main arteries in Jones' neck, he said.

Chief Tolbert gave the following accounts of the incidents, using eyewitness reports:

Officers received a call about 2:15 p.m. to investigate a shooting at 3012 Brunson street. Upon arrival they found that Thompson had been shot and that the only witnesses were the victim's two sisters 9 and 15.

The girls told the officers that Thompson, playing with a revolver, unloaded it and replaced two shells. He then placed it against his right temple to play "Russian Roulette."

The first squeeze of the trigger resulted in a mere snap, but the second time the gun fired. The bullet entered the boy's right temple just above the ear, and he was later reported dead by physicians on arrival at the E. A. Conway Memorial hospital.

The boy's father, Charlie Thompson, is employed at the Clover Leaf Dairy creamery. Chief Tolbert said that the father also was present at the hospital.

The chief's account of the second shooting was based on Irene McGuire's report to officers.

She told officials that when she went on duty at the "Chicken Box" dafe, operated by Joe Lacy at 1111 Adams street, about 2:30 p.m., Elijah Jones was in the cafe.

After a few moments, she said, when she was behind the counter and alone in the cafe with him, Jones came up and began an argument and slapped her. Then, she said, he came around the counter and she picked up a Smith and Wesson revolver from under the counter and told him not to come back there.

The McGuire woman said he kept on coming and that she fired once. He was reported by physicians as dead on arrival at E. A. Conway Memorial hospital.

Chief Tolbert said investigations of the two killings were being continued.

"I don't think anyone will fight, bleed and die over it now," he said.

However, Rep. Poage (D-Tex) indicated a fight may be impending and declared "it may take quite some time to get an agreement."

He itemized as "basic differences" Senate omission of a House provision spelling out congressional intent for getting the soil bank into operation this year, and Senate approval of the cut-rate sale of 100 million bushels of surplus wheat annually as livestock feed.

The House specifically provided that soil bank payments start in 1956. The Senate bill, in effect, says Benson may start operations this year only to the extent he deems practicable.

Poage charged the Senate language was a "political gimmick" which would allow Benson to channel soil bank funds to "doubtful districts" where the Republicans need votes next November.

"I don't think it would go into effect in Georgia or Texas, for example," he said.

The Senate provision for selling government surplus wheat as livestock feed has been turned down on three previous occasions by the House Agriculture Committee. Both Poage and Hope singled it out as a likely issue of further dispute.

The final compromise is certain to fall short of every administration farm policy goal. Over all, however, it shaped up as a major victory for Eisenhower in his continued opposition to rigid supports and other price lifting devices contained in the vetoed farm bill.

Long Gratified With Assurance Of Re-Election

WASHINGTON, May 19 (Special)—Sen. Russell B. Long today expressed "deep appreciation" to the people of Louisiana who have made it possible for him not to have opposition in the Democratic primary.

The junior Louisiana senator issued the following statement:

"I have just been informed that the deadline for qualifying for U.S. senator in the Democratic primary has closed and I do not have an opponent.

"Naturally, I am extremely gratified. I wish to express my deep appreciation to the people of Louisiana who have made this possible. I have particularly in mind those citizens of Louisiana who made clear their intention to support my candidacy actively and enthusiastically regardless of who my opponent might be.

"I have always felt the deepest sense of gratitude to the many friends of my father, the late Huey Long, both for their devotion to his memory and for the help they have given me. It was primarily this group that gave me my chance to tart in public life. Particularly helpful to me in every race I have undertaken has been my uncle, Earl K. Long.

"I also want to thank the many fair-minded, sincere people who have come to approve of my activities during the past several years, especially those who had to overcome a prejudice in order to support me. Among the number of those who opposed me in previous years, there have been proved to be many who were willing and anxious to give me the benefit of the doubt. They have judged me favorably on my record of service.

"I wish to assure every citizen of Louisiana of my good will toward him as an individual and of my desire to cooperate in every measure that will be of benefit to our people, state and country. The fact that I am not opposed in the Democratic primary will enable me to continue my effort to benefit our state and nation during the concluding weeks of the final session of the 84th Congress.

Birth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gustaf Sandlund of Gothenberg, Sweden announced the arrival of a daughter, Lydia Anne Weir, born April 26. Mrs. Sandlund is the former Anne Weir Varino of Monroe.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George V. Varino of Monroe.

Mrs. George Varino has been in Sweden since April 1 and will return to the states with the Sandlunds June 6.

At that time Mr. Sandlund will take office as special representative of Swedish American Lines Cleveland, Ohio, where the family will make their home.

Test-Tube Babies 'Intrinsic Evil', Pope Tells MDs

VATICAN CITY, May 19 —UP— Pope Pius XII Saturday denounced the practice of artificial insemination and the production of test-tube babies as unnatural and "an intrinsic evil."

In an address to 1,500 doctors and scientists, the pontiff stressed the church's dundamental objection to the use of an auxiliary father in cases where a husband proves sterile.

The experts, gathered for the address in the consistorial hall of the Vatican, opened the second World Congress of the International Fertility Association Friday in Naples.

The pope's 2,500-word address was so technical that in parts of it, he switched from French to Latin.

He described artificial insemination as "always an act against nature and an intrinsic evil."

The pontiff discussed the spiritual advantages of family life.

"What you are striving for," he told the scientists, "is not just to increase the number of men but to raise the moral level of humanity, its power to do good and its will to increase its stature physically and spiritually."

The pope probed into the moral issues involved in the marriage contract.

"Artificial fertilization goes beyong the limits of the right which married couples have acquired by the matrimonial contract," he said.

"That right being the right to exercise fully their natural sexual capacity in the natural accomplishment of the matrimonial (sex) act.

"Still less can it be made to derive from the right to have a child, the 'first object' of marriage," he said.

La. State Police Arrest 62 Persons During Past Week

Charged with drunken driving were Leon Davis, 46, Negro, Joe Alonzo, 31, both of Monroe; Willie Stewart, 54, Negro, of Tallulah; Mardis W. Goodwin, 53, of Baton Rouge; Jesse D. Hanks, 50, of Bastrop; and James C. Walker, 39, of Downsville.

Other arrests include 21 for reckless driving, five for speeding in autos, eight for speeding in trucks, four with no drivers license, five for auto theft, five for disturbing the peace, one for simple battery and one for vagrancy.

Fellowships In Science At LSU Open To Teachers

BATON ROUGE, May (AP)—Louisiana State University today announced a fellowship program for high school teachers as a new step in helping meet a critical shortage of scientists.

Educators agree that the teaching profession holds the key to the shortage, LSU said.

The new program consists of $500 fellowships for selected science teachers to attend a special summer course at LSU. It will emphasize science fundamentals.

LSU said the program was made possible by financial support of five Louisiana industries.

The Proposed New Public Library Mill Tax

A special election open to Ouachita parish property owners has been called for July 31, when the proposal to hike the tax for public library support from one-half mill to two mills is to be approved or rejected.

The two-mill tax would run for ten years, beginning in 1957.

The current half-mill library tax, the first in Ouachita parish history, was voted nine years ago.

Now, the impression of many voters naturally is, why take such a big bite, and quadruple the library tax? Wouldn't a one-mill increase be sufficient? Perhaps a half-mill?

The seven-member Board of Control of the Library has offered reasons in justification of its request to the tax-paying voters; and these merit our earnest consideration, along with any opposing consideration, if advanced, that the proposed tax is too high.

The Board points out that "Nine years ago when we voted our first library tax we knew that we were not asking for enough money, but we also knew that we were asking for all that the taxpayers were prepared to vote at that time. We have been operating on this limited amount of money for eight years and we have stretched our resources just as far as we can. Let's take a look at the accomplishments of these eight years.

"1. We have established a Bookmobile service which covers every section of Ouachita Parish outside the limits of the Twin Cities. In its eight years of operation it has circulated 818,187 books to a total of 5,000 borrowers. We have completely worn Out one Bookmoble and have recently purchased a new one.

"2. We have established a branch for the Colored people of Ouachita Parish which means a great deal to them, especially to the children and other students.

"3. We have increased the total circulation of books from the library more than 300% during these eight years.

"4. The Book Collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library has grown from a total of 22,823 books on January 1, 1948 to a total of 44,407 on May 1, 1956. This means that in the past eight years as many books were added as during the entire 32 previous years. This increase has not only been in quantity but also quality. We have built up our children's collection, our circulating non-fiction collection and our reference collection.

"5. With increased facilities has come increased use of the Library. On January 1, 1948, there were 7,792 registered borrowers of the Library. Today there are 23,339 people who use its resources.

"6. We have added a number of special services, such as ceiling projectors for the use of sick patrons, a moving picture projector which we use with clubs and groups and the microfilm reader with a vast store of material on microfilm.

"7. Each summer we have sponsored vacation reading clubs for the children of Ouachita Parish which have grown through the years. In 1949 only 300 children earned certificates, in 1955 a total of 1508 certificates were awarded. We have plans for another exciting club during the coming summer."

The Board of Control has drawn up a ten-year plan of expansion and development, based upon the hope that the voters will approve the mill-tax hike.

The plan is two-fold, based upon capital developments and improvements which would absorb one mill of the proposed levy, and the expansion of services which would absorb the other mill.

The program follows:

1. The erection of a new building on a site north of Louisville Avenue.
2. The erection of a second building on the lot now occupied by the Monroe Branch of the Library.
3. The acquisition of a site and the errection of a new building in West Monroe.
4. The purchase of a Bookmobile for the colored people of the parish.
5. The erection of additional branches or the purchase of new Bookmobiles as the situation directs when the year 1966 comes.

What do we mean by extension of service?

1. The purchase of many more books. The American Library Association standard is 2 books per capita. We have at the present time only a little over ½ book per capita. As well as building up the quantity we hope to develop new fields where our resources are weak or non-existent. One of these is the field of business and technology.
2. We propose to establish a record lending collection, which has been tried in other cities and found most successful.
3. Although at the present time we can borrow films for our patrons, we know from experience that they do not always have time for us to do so and we need to establish a small film library.
4. We need to purchase a slide projector, for there are many wonderful things on slides which are not on film.
5. We hope to establish a lending collection of reproductions of fine arts. This has been most successful in other cities of the country.
6. In the plans for all of our new buildings we hope to have auditoriums which can be used by clubs and organizations.
7. We need more staff members, especially graduates in Library Science.
8. We need to install a new charging system as the one we have is cumbersome and out-of-date.
9. Last of all, we need to be able to adopt new techniques in library procedure when we hear about them, without being stopped because of the shortage of money.

The Board of Control of the Ouachita Public Library cannot pledge its successors, but its members say that at the end of ten years no renewal of the one-mill tax for the expansion of plant facilities will be requested.

As the Board aptly points out, The Ouachita Parish Public Library "has been operating since 1947 on the smallest millage and one of the lowest per capita incomes of any library in Louisiana."

As compared to the curent on-half mill rat n Ouchtta Parish, for the Public Library, with its 1955 income of $46,388.07 last year, here are some figures:

Jefferson Parish, population 103,873, compared to 74,713 for Ouachita, 1955 tax rate 3 mills, library yield $308,829.66.

Lafayette Parish, population 57,734 tax rate 2½ mills, revenue $89,635.

The Ouachita Parish Public Library, by reason of its choked and starved budget, has been unable to hire trained library assistants with accredited college degrees in library science.

It proposes to employ at least seven of these skilled and scarce technicians, under the new program. Its board and its librarian acknowledge frankly that the Library is far sub-standard by tenets of the American Library Association.

The physical plants of the Public Library are old and shabby, and hopelessly outmoded. No worthwhile progress can be achieved until these ancient facilities are replaced by modern buildings.

The public library has been described as "The people's university," and it offers the wisdom and lore and learning of all the ages to every person who can read; and some of the world's most brilliant scholars and intellects owe their education primarily to this vast and beneficial fountainhead of learning.

Ours is a prosperous and growing community, and a rapidly rising regional cultural center. Can we afford a two-mill tax to bring our public library facilities up to a national standard?

Every qualified voter should ask himself this question and be prepared to ballot in the July 31 election according to the answer that his conscience and sober judgement dictates.

Walter Winchell

Parties Seek To Heal Midwest Farmers' Wounds

WASHINGTON — The Midwest farmer is the sick man in a healthy American economy; the party whose political medicine he buys probably will win the 1956 election.

That's why Washington is scanning Iowa rainfall reports and Indiana farrowing statistics with the deadly concentration usually reserved for the latest Russian note.

How bad off is the midwest farmer? Worse, even, than most people realize, a Congressional Quarterly analysis indicates.

It has been reported, for instance, that the nation's farmers received $830 million less for their products in 1955 than they did in 1954. What has not been publicized is this: The drop in the 12 midwestern states alone was $959 million, one - seventh greater than the national total. Gains in other sections of the country partially off-set the midwest losses.

As for net income, the official figures aren't in yet but a conservative estimate indicates this: After the midwest farmers paid their bills last year, they had $1.1 billion less to show for their efforts than they did in 1954 due in part to increased costs. Compared to 1952, their net income was off almost one-third.

An Iowa State College study of 140 Iowa farms showed the average net income declined from $10,247 in 1953 to $7,051 last year. The average return on 20 Central Illinois grain farms checked by the University of Illinois dropped from $7,836 in 1953 to $1,161 last year.

In the whole area from Ohio west to the Dakotas, from Missouri north to the Canadian border, the farmers in only one state — North Dakota — had a year that compared favorable to 1952. And the North Dakotans had survived two years of sharply diminished income before the 1955 recovery.

In Kansas, hardest - hit of the 12 states, farmers' receipts were down an official 30 per cent from 1952; net income was off an unofficial 62 per cent.

All other economic indicators point the same way. Midwest farm mortgage debt increased 9.4 per cent in the first two years of the Eisenhower administration. Hogs, the leading cash crop, sold for $16.52 a hundredweight in December, 1952; last December they brought $10.38.

Cattle, calves, dairy products, corn and wheat — the other main cash producers — each brought less than in 1952.

Both parties have acted to aid the midwest farmer. The politicians are concerned — and not only about the economic problem. The midwest is just about the biggest prize in the 1956 campaign.

12 of the 435 House seats.

Nine of the 35 contested Senate seats, eight of them now held by Republicans.

And the lesson of history is the man who wins the midwest wins the presidency. The rule has been broken only twice in the last 14 elections — in 1916 and again in 1944.

Farmers are a key to control of this vital region. They number only one-eighth of the midwest's population, but their mood and their purchasing power affect the whole region.

It may have been coincidence that Democrats overturned Republicans in a string of Indiana cities and towns in 1955, the first year of serious economic trouble for that state's farmers. But it's not the kind of coincidence politicians ignore.

The farmers have a reputation for voting their pocketbooks and they boast a demonstrated political independence. In the past seven Presidential elections, the midwest has given Democratic candidates 589 electoral votes, Republicans 524.

None of the 12 states has voted Republican more than five times and none less than twice; the same is true of Democratic allegiances. In four of the last seven elections, the Midwest has voted as a bloc —twice for Democrats and twice for Republicans.

Mr. Eisenhower swept the midwest in 1952, receiving 57.6 percent of the popular vote. But in 1954 Republicans received just 51.4 percent of the midwest's House vote, falling below the 50 per cent mark in Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota and Missouri. Their share of the House vote in 61 predominantly rural and small town districts declined from 61.9 per cent in 1952 to 56.5 per cent in 1954.

The politicians of both parties read these returns to mean the farmer has his pitchfork out. Now the question is: Which side gets pitched?

Democrats made their bid for the farm vote by passing a 90 percent supports bill. President Eisenhower vetoes that, but immediately sweetened the pill by boosting the props under dairy products, corn and wheat — three, four and five on the Midwest farmers' list of cash commodities.

Congress also seems ready to pass a $500 million supplement to the $427 million normally available for direct purchase of perishable commodities. As much as $700 million of this would be available this fall to bolster the vitally important hog and cattle market, where Midwest farmers obtain two-fifths of their income.

The current expectation is that government action — plus normal market trends in some crops — will be sufficient to prevent "another 1955" in the farm income. No one, however, is predicting a substantial general recovery for the midwest farmer this year.

Democrats, sensing a chance to repeat their 1948 corn belt upset, are taking the offensive on the farm question, bolstered by new protest groups that have sprung up among farmers themselves.

They'll also have the comfort, if not the aid, of a siezeable number of anti-administration Midwest Republicans. Twenty - nine of the 49 Midwest Republican Representatives and six of the eight Republican Senators up for re-election voted for the farm bill vetoes by Mr. Eisenhower. Many of them are as outspoken in their criticism of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson as any Democrat.

100th Anniversary

Brunswick, Ga.

Editor, Morning World.

You will note from the above letterhead that the 100th anniversary of Brunswick, Georgia as a chartered city will be celebrated August 13th to 18th.

By means of this communication, it is our hope to locate former citizens of this community now residing in other sections of the country that we may extend to them a personal invitation to come back to us during that period, renew old acquaintances, and have a whale of a good time.

Communications should be addressed to the Brunswick-Glynn County Centennial Celebration, Box 574, Brunswick, Georgia.

Homes Called Shacks

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World

I realize that we have many classes and creeds of people in the world, as this was God's work and he intended we have different ideas and ways of living, but I will never understand why one person will intentionally hurt another without a cause.

The homes on and in the area of Chatham Drive have been called shacks by several different people and I wish to take this means of letting the public as a whole know that these so called shacks are our homes and they are dear to us. We have all worked hard and made personal sacrifices to own these homes. The home owners in this community have their homes paid for without any liens against them.

There are a few small rent houses here and I wish to make it known these people live here by choice and each one pays his rent a month or more in advance without the landlord asking for it.

Even though we don't have private clubs in our community or try to put on an outward show, I feel that we have a wonderful neighborhood to live in and I am justified in saying, this as I have lived here 26 years.

I realize that some of us are not active church members, but I have been taught that having my name on a church roll didn't mean that I was a Christian. It seems that some people think they are safe and will make Heaven just because they have their name on a church book and the reverend has given them a pat on the back.

If these people that have an ill feeling toward us on account of our unpainted homes and that we don't belong to clubs and churches would study their Bibles and understand the meaning of the word Christian, maybe they would not be so quick to throw stones our way.

Parris Island Tragedy

Baton Rouge, La.

Editor, Morning World.

I hope immediate steps will be taken by the Armed Services to correct conditions that led to the death by drowning of six young Marine recruits at Parris Island. It was no surprise that the drill sergeant who took his platoon on a night march into the swamps was under the influence of alcohol when he did it.

Mrs. Coughlin, the mother of one of the recruits, has the sympathetic support of every mother when she says, "I feel that correction should be taken from the top and go on down."

This tragedy could not have occurred, had not the Marine Corps made liquor so accessible to non-commissioned officers on the post. Much of the responsibility must go to the Department of Defense who writes to us "The Department of Defense is opposed to restrictive legislation and regulation of Liquor which discriminate unnecessarily against the members of the armed forces and which result in the denial or curtailment of privileges enjoyed by other citizens."

Let us hope that the Department of Defense will change its regulations and keep all alcoholic beverages off Armed Services installations in the future.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. Harvey A. Hall
President, Louisiana Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Lionel Crabb—Cold War Warrior

Since the cold wars described in the Old Testament, espionage has been an accepted facet of any nation's preparedness.

Each generation in its time, has been beneficiary to the unselfish courage of a strange breed of restless men. Spies.

These are the cold war warriors who live quietly and generally die the same way in the shadowland where the nation they love most is pledged to desert them if they get caught.

That's part of the deal, part of the grim bargain under which the professional spy is employed.

Prime Minister Eden was forced to bring the case of Commander Lionel Crabb, the missing frogman out into the light. The Laborites discovered they could use the incident to his embarrassment, and made the most of it.

We assume Crabb lost his life while inspecting the underbellies of Soviet ships in Portsmouth harbor.

Moscow would have considered the British stupid if they had failed to try.

There is much to be learned from such subterranean search. Composition of the hull coating, location and nature of electronics gear, size and number of torpedo tubes. So forth.

Last year when the British Fleet visited the Soviet Union, Soviet frogmen engaged in underwater espionage. Nothing was said about it.

When the Soviet Cruiser Sverdlow was in port for British coronation ceremonies in 1953, Commander Lionel Crabb, now missing, checked the underside of that Russian ship. Nothing was said.

But Laborite politicians and Soviet propagandists seized upon this incident, exploited it for their own ends, and so created a "mystery" all out of proportion to the importance of the mission.

Prime Minister Eden has tried to put patriotism above politics. He has said as much, or as little, as he could say.

Commander Crabb was on a free-lance espionage mission, intending to sell information to British intelligence agencies.

That is the whole of it.

Mr. Eden can hope that is the end of it.

But perhaps it is just as well that this incident has revealed the importance of the dirty, thankless, necessary job these men do. There are no monuments to them. History rarely notices and never records their names.

But ever since Moses sent his advance men into Canaan to see what the enemy was up to . . .

Ever since Joshua planted spies in the house of harlots up there in the walls of Jericho before he dared attack . . .

From the un - named agents of ancient empires to Lionel Crabb...

There have been just enough of these restless, frantic fools . . .

Just barely enough of these unhonored, unrewarded, miserable, magnificient men . . . who will offer their lives even to nations which are not always deserving of such devotion.

'State's Rights Battle'

By Charles O. Gridley

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Whatever the outcome of the new "state's rights battle", which is one way of describing the debate over bills to clarify the powers of the United States Supreme Court, the court itself realizes that it is back in the searchlight of public scrutiny, much as it was in 1937 when the court packing bill sponsored by President Roosevelt was defeated after a Senate debate which lasted for 138 legislative days.

This is a different kind of fight with a quite different issue. Then a president was piqued because the highest court rejected his legislation to aid industrial and farm recovery, so he proposed to increase the size of the court sufficiently to give him a majority.

Now at least 12 senators, including several who opposed FDR's packing plan are sponsoring legislation under which would be established "rules of interpretation governing questions of the effect of acts of Congress on state laws." That is the origin of the "States' rights battle" headlines.

The bill was not limited to the school segregation controversy. But at a time when committee discussions on it are about to begin, former Governor James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, who is also a former associate justice of the United States Supreme Court, has made a forthright statement of his disagreement with his former colleagues, in which he charges the court with usurping power to amend the Constitution and destroy state governments.

Published by the U. S. News and World Report, former Justice Byrnes' argument is sufficiently forceful of itself to focus attention on the court's swing in several key cases to a doctrine of federal supremacy over states by placing its own interpretation on the intent of Congress.

The Byrnes statement is so well documented that it will doubtless become a magna carta for the court's critics. From a distinguished former jurist who also served in the executive and legislative branches of the government — one of the few men in American history with that record — the argument that the court has swung away from legal precedent in its reasoning to a new sociological theory carries considerable weight.

He calls attention to the consideration given by the court in the segregation case to the views of several psychologists, whose qualifications were not stated at the time, but who were said by Senator James O. Eastland, (Dem-Miss.) chairman of the Senate Judiciary committee, to have been on the lists of several Communist front organizations. The same persons were also cited by the House Committee on Un-American Activities as members of subversive organizations.

Byrnes also presents the arguments against integration as clearly as they have been drafted by anyone, and his appeal to "the court of public opinion" will doubtless be a rallying point for the opposition.

The twelve senators from seven southern states, whose bill was offered by Senator John L. McClellan (Dem.-Ark.) before Byrnes made his statement, summarized their reasons in a statement by Senator Harry F. Byrd (Dem.-Va.) as follows:

"The (Supreme Court's) theory holds that when Congress enacts legislation on a subject, the court may presume that Congress intends to take exclusive jurisdiction in the field, and state laws on the subject are nullified.

"This theory has become known as the "pre-emption" doctrine. At the time it originated the federal government was not legislating in the broad field it now has usurped. Under today's expansive interpretation of interstate commerce, Congress is legislating on nearly every conceivable subject."

The senators' argument is that the court's new course must be outlawed. How long the debate in Congress over this court controversy may continue can't be predicted, but it could go on, in toto, much longer than 138 days.

About 300,000 tons of dates are exported from the country of their origin every year.

In 1900 about 194 Americans per 100,000 died of tuberculosis compared to 10 in 1954.

BE SURE TO VOTE

BE SURE TO VOTE

TO MY FRIENDS OF MONROE!

On next Tuesday you will go to the polls to select your Municipal Officers for the ensuing four years.

You elected me four years ago over both of my present opponents, and reports reaching me from all sections of the City, indicate that I will again defeat them by a substantial majority on next Tuesday.

The four years that I have served as your Mayor, has been the most progressive period of Monroe's interesting history. Never before have we witnessed such advancement and growth. Few cities have enjoyed this healthy, steady expansion. During my past term 2,146 new buildings have been constructed at a total cost of over 22 millions of dollars. And this does NOT include a VAST PROGRAM of renovation and remodeling that has added to the building program MANY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

Our population is now approximately 55,000 persons, which is DOUBLE that of only recent years. Prospects are VERY BRIGHT for the future, and it is only fair to estimate that in another decade our city will populate 75,000 people.

Our ways of living have become changed in recent years. The whole City has now become AIR CONDITIONED and ELECTRICITY MINDED. Every household and business in the City presently consumes MANY TIMES the amount of electricity as in former years, before the advent of air-conditioning, electric home appliances and refrigeration in all its modern phases. Every place of business of importance has in recent years become AIR-CONDITIONED, and most homes have either air-conditioning or air-cooling . . . Machine shops, places of business, manufacturer, and craftsmen of the building trades, formerly depending on means other than electricity, NOW consume electricity IN EVER-INCREASING QUANTITIES.

Our power plant AND DISTRIBUTION SYSTEMS were originally constructed to meet ONLY the City's THEN VERY MODEST and IMMEDIATE DEMANDS. From time to time, as the City took on more growth, the facilities were increased. BUT NOT UNTIL THE PRESENT DECADE have these facilities been increased UNTIL DEMAND GREATLY EXCEEDED PRODUCTION, OR EXCEEDED ABILITY OF THE DISTRIBUTION SYSTEMS TO CARRY THE LOAD.

Therefore, the City, growing and expanding by unprecedented and unpredicted leaps and bounds, having in few years doubled itself in population, soon overtook and exceeded in DEMAND every increase made to the distribution systems, ALTHOUGH the POWER PLANT ITSELF has NOT been overtaxed in recent years. Our difficulty has been in providing DISTRIBUTION SYSTEMS to all areas of our rapidly expanding city, with its constant demands for additional electricity. A distribution system can CARRY electricity ONLY WITHIN ITS WATTAGE CAPACITY. And every distribution system has a VERY DEFINITE LIMITATION in capacity of carriage.

Therefore, my friends, WHEN MORE DEMAND is placed on a distribution system than the system has CAPACITY to carry SOMETHING HAS GOT TO GIVE!!!

Unfortunately this happened in the peak of the heated term of last year, when electricity was so VITAL to our comfort and way of life, and when the use of electricity reached its very maximum.

Our present power plant itself has a capacity, in production, of about 25% in excess of the anticipated demands of 1956, and while this was true of the power plant in 1955, the DISTRIBUTION SYSTEMS OF THE CITY IN SEVERAL AREAS WERE BADLY OVERLOADED BECAUSE OF INCREASED DEMANDS FOR CURRENT. In other areas everything was normal and there was no interruption of service. I can tell you, that in the past year we have increased the carrying capacity of ALL distribution systems, having recently completed the installation of 9 new 1500 KVA substations, 5 new 500 KVA substations, 1 666 KVA substation, 2 1,000 KVA substations, 1500 new distribution transformers and 100 MILES of new primary and secondary wiring. Therefore, it is confidently believed by experts in electrical engineering, that our distribution systems are READY and QUITE SUFFICIENT to SUCCESSFULLY CARRY THE 1956 DEMANDS.

As the City continues to expand, we will provide additions and supplements to the distribution systems ADEQUATE TO TAKE CARE OF INCREASED DEMANDS.

Now, my friends, may I here strike a note of caution, in the fact that any distribution system is constantly VULNERABLE to attack of Storms, Vandalism and SABOTAGE. And when storms, vandalism or sabotage occur, we naturally will suffer interruptions of service in the area affected, but repair crews will be IMMEDIATELY DISPATCHED to restore the service. Let us HOPE AND PRAY AGAINST SUCH MISFORTUNE TO OUR PUBLIC UTILITIES, AND YOU MAY REST ASSURED THAT THOSE GUILTY OF VANDALISM OR SABOTAGE WILL BE PROSECUTED in the criminal courts to the FULLEST EXTENT OF THE LAW.

A GREAT DEAL OF CRITICISM IS BEING ISSUED BY ONE OF MY OPPONENTS ABOUT THE UNFORTUNATE POWER FAILURES OF LAST SUMMER. BUT I ASK, IN ALL FAIRNESS, MY FRIENDS, DO YOU THINK THIS MAN, WHO CRITICIZES SO FREELY, COULD HAVE DONE ANY BETTER HIMSELF? COULD HE, WITH MERE RETAIL MERCHANT KNOWLEDGE, SURPASS IN WISDOM AND CAPACITY, THE KNOW-HOW AND ABILITY OF MEN WITH LONG YEARS OF ACTUAL POWER-PLANT EXPERIENCE, AS WELL AS MEN OF BOTH PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE AND COLLEGE DEGREES IN ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING? HE CERTAINLY COULD NOT, AND HAD HE BEEN IN THE CITY HALL, THE UNFORTUNATE EXPERIENCE WOULD HAVE COME UPON US JUST THE SAME.

IF MY OPPONENT HAS HELD THE SOLUTION TO THE POWER SITUATION, AS HE NOW SO LOUDLY PROCLAIMS ON ALMOST THE EVE OF ELECTION, WHY DID HE NOT, AS THE PUBLIC-SPIRITED CITIZEN THAT HE HAS ALWAYS CLAIMED TO BE, VOLUNTEER HIS ADVICE AND COUNSEL TO YOU, AT A TIME WHEN YOU, THE PUBLIC, MIGHT HAVE BENEFITTED BY HIS RARE WISDOM, AND NOT WITHHOLD THIS KNOWLEDGE FROM YOU UNTIL HE THOUGHT HE COULD MAKE USE OF IT AS A SPRINGBOARD INTO PUBLIC OFFICE. IT SEEMS TO ME, MY FRIENDS, THAT HE THOUGHT MUCH MORE OF ENHANCING HIS OWN POLITICAL FORTUNES, THAN HE DID OF YOUR COMFORT AND WELFARE. THINK THIS ONE OVER, WILL YOU PLEASE?

Quite some time ago, and long, long before my chief opponent ever gave thought to it, I publicly proposed the creation of a citizens commission to take over the affairs of our power plant. For this proposal I earned the commendation of an editorial in the daily press of Monroe. A Bill will be passed by the present State Legislature providing for appointment of a citizens commission to take over the power plant in every particular, and with full authority to act in everything, except sale or lease of the power plant, which will remain SOLELY in THE PROVINCE OF THE PEOPLE THEMSELVES. The personnel of this citizens commission will be selected on the basis of MERIT and ABILITY WITHOUT REGARD TO PAST POLITICAL AFFILIATIONS. Selection of the commission will be by a committee of OUTSTANDING, FAIR and UNBIASED citizens known for their ability, HONESTY and INTEGRITY in ALL things.

Thereby your power plant will become ENTIRELY DIVORCED from your city government, and it is HOPED that this will be the SOLUTION of ALL OUR POWER TROUBLES and that provision will be made by the citizens power commission to maintain the power plant and distribution systems at a stage of efficiency, to keep abreast with the increased demands of a constantly growing and expanding city. Now, my friends, I appeal to your sense of FAIRNESS and SOUND REASONING in this matter. Let us sit down and reason together in harmony and I am sure EVERY PROBLEM confronting our RAPIDLY GROWING CITY will BE ADEQUATELY MET AND SOLVED.

Considering the constantly increasing expansion of our city and its bright prospects for future growth, it is of vital importance that you have, during the period of future expansion, a Mayor of executive ability, proven leadership and unquestioned honesty. I assure you that the experience I have gained as your Mayor, during the past 7 years, has FULLY equipped me to discharge the duties of this important office, with COMPETENCE and TO YOUR COMPLETE SATISFACTION.

I am sure you have been impressed, in this campaign, by the COMPLETE ABSENCE of the usual charges brought by those seeking office against incumbents, usually amounting to GRAFT, CORRUPTION, MALFEASANCE, MISFEASANCE OR NON-FEASANCE IN OFFICE.

MUCH TO THE CONTRARY IS THE PRESENT CAMPAIGN, WHEREIN MY CHIEF OPPONENT HAS PUBLICLY COMMENDED—, (AND TO BE SPECIFIC, IN HIS TELEVISION ADDRESS TO YOU OF MAY 9TH)—, ALL OF THE CITY EMPLOYEES FOR HAVING DONE A WONDERFUL JOB AS YOUR PUBLIC SERVANTS.

NOW MY FRIENDS, IN THAT CATEGORY OF A JOB WELL DONE IS INCLUDED THE POWER PLANT CREWS. THIS OPPONENT PUBLICLY ADMITS THEY HAVE DONE A WONDERFUL JOB, BUT WITH TONGUE IN CHEEK, FOR NOW HE CONDEMNS THEM FOR THE UNFORTUNATE POWER FAILURES OF LAST SUMMER. OH CONSISTENCY, THOU ART A JEWEL!!

And May I remind you that the organization of city employees, thus publicly praised by my opponent, has been PERFECTED and TRAINED under my GUIDANCE and LEADERSHIP AS YOUR MAYOR. Therefore, I ask: "WHY DISMISS LEADERSHIP OF PROVEN AND ACKNOWLEDGED MERIT AND ABILITY?"

Every business in the land RETAINS ITS ABLE AND PROVEN LEADERSHIP. They DO NOT DISMISS GOOD EXECUTIVES, SIMPLY BECAUSE OTHER PERSONS SEEK TO DISPLACE THEM . . .

My record of faithful, competent and honest service as your Mayor IS THE BASIS OF MY APPEAL TO YOU TO REELECT ME.

I promise faithfully to use my VERY BEST efforts to discharge every duty of this important office TO YOUR ENTIRE SATISFACTION AND APPROVAL.

AND I WISH TO TELL YOU AGAIN AND AGAIN, WITH ALL THE FORCE AT MY COMMAND, AND IN ALL HONESTY, that upon reelection I WILL, GOD WILLING, SERVE OUT MY ENTIRE TERM, DESPITE RUMORS BEING CIRCULATED BY MY OPPOSITION TO THE CONTRARY.

I kindly ask that you dispel this rumor and turn deaf ears TO ALL OTHER ELEVENTH HOUR rumors and reports that may be circulated by my opposition in a LAST-MINUTE, FRANTIC EFFORT TO INJURE MY CAUSE.

I promised you a clean, gentlemanly campaign. Now in the WANING hours of the campaign, I CAN TELL YOU, as Paul did, —"I HAVE FOUGHT A GOOD FIGHT, I HAVE KEPT THE FAITH."

Please know, my friends, I WILL DEEPLY APPRECIATE YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT, and upon reelection WE WILL MARCH TOGETHER for the building of a GREATER AND GREATER MONROE. Come to see me at the City Hall. The latchstring is always on the outside for you. If there is any problem in which I can help you, JUST COMMAND ME. YOUR PLEASURE IS MY COMMAND as your Mayor. IT WILL BE A JOY TO SERVE YOU.

I think it quite pertinent to the issue raised by my opponent regarding the unfortunate power failures of last summer, to quote below a television address by Mr. T. L. Van Fossen, your Superintendent and Engineer in charge of Electrical Utilities in Monroe.

"Now at the very outset, I wish everyone to know that I am not a politician, and seek no public office. I am an electrical engineer and electricity is my business. I think I know my business, just as you think you know YOUR business. Now I have been closely in touch with your local power and distribution situation during my year as Superintendent and Engineer in Charge of your electrical utilities and when I speak to you, I speak from, as Mayor Coon has told you, an "on-the-job" knowledge of the whole situation.

"At the request of Mayor Coon and the City Council, I came to work for you last summer when power interruptions were frequent. We immediately began revamping the overloaded distribution lines; overloaded because of your rapidly, expanding city, and constructing loop transmission feeders in order to transfer power as needed to the different areas of Monroe. We have revamped our personnel and equipment, increased our radio units between all our crews, the power plant, central station and my own car for instant communication in order to meet any emergencies immediately, and an around-the-clock force is either on duty working or on call as their assignments revolve in order to meet any problem immediately. We have made a major revamping of the distribution transformers throughout the entire City and we will continue to enlarge their capacity in order to meet the ever-increasing load of your fast growing city.

"I can honestly tell you that I confidently believe that we have met and corrected the most serious problems and I sincerely believe that there will be no further major interruptions of electrical service. Now I am NOT going to make the foolish statement that we are NOT going to experience some BRIEF power interruptions in different areas of the City. In order to do that, I would have to have divine power to intercept STORMY WEATHER and to stay the hand of vandalism and sabotage, and I would also be forced to discontinue all work on extension of new lines as well as repairs on the old lines, because in order to do this, you simply MUST now and then cut off the current in certain areas while the electricians handle high voltage wires, but excusing the ravages of storms, vandalism, and sabotage, I can tell you that things in the future are to be normal, and there should be no major interruptions in our distribution of electrical current. I might also add that our Department will constantly be working very hard to keep ahead of the City's rapid expansion.

"I have been informed of a certain candidate's criticism of the new and modern street lighting equipment which I have placed on Lexington Boulevard. May I say to you that this is a new thoroughfare and the modern street lighting equipment you see there is simply a forerunner of what you can shortly expect in many other parts of the City and I am indeed proud of this project. I have also been informed that this same gentleman has made the charge that our electrical crews have been unusually active in recent weeks in a rush to accomplish things because of the present campaign. Nothing was ever more deceiving. What this gentleman has seen has simply been your men at work, in their usual gait which I must admit is a rapid one, and one that has been in high gear since I took over your electric utilities, and necessarily so, in order to keep pace with your rapidly growing City and to illuminate Monroe's streets correctly and for the sake of PUBLIC SAFETY. A modern street lighting program is our aim throughout entire Monroe. Material is now on hand for modern street lighting for Lee Avenue and Gordon Avenue and is now being installed.

"Just as long as I remain Superintendent and Engineer in Charge of your Electrical System, I will devote my best energies in the effort to provide your City with electricity sufficient to meet your ever-increasing demands."

I trust you will find Mr. Van Fossen's statement to be enlightening.

VERY RESPECTFULLY YOURS,

2 Measures On Overton Project To Be Introduced

BATON ROUGE, May 19 (AP) — Rep. Lester Vetter of Coushatta Parish said today he will introduce two measures Monday night for construction of the Overton-Red River waterway.

The waterway would parallel the Red River from the Atchafalaya northwestward to the state line near Shreveport. It would be designed to provide a navigable waterway system to cities in eight northwest and central Louisiana parishes.

Under provisions of the bills, the Overton-Red River waterway and port district could be set up to supervise establishment and operation of the waterway.

The district would be headed by a nine-member commission, one from each of the eight parishes and one at-large, appointed by the governor from names submitted from parish police juries.

After the first teams, members would serve staggered terms of six years. The commission would have authority to expropriate land and issue taxes.

One bill is a proposed constitutional amendment. The other is a companion legislative act.

James Roosevelt Refuses Comment On Plans To Wed

LOS ANGELES, May 19—UP—Rep. James Roosevelt Saturday refused to confirm, deny or discuss reports he would marry his secretary as soon as his divorce from his second wife is final.

He also refused to disclose the whereabouts of the secretary, identified as Mrs. Anita Owen, of Detroit.

The California Democrat, who won his congressional seat amid charges of indifelity and improper conduct made by his former wife, Romelle, admitted he had read the reports.

"I never comment on unnamed sources," he told the United Press. Then he added quickly, "I never comment on my private life."

Reporters who met Roosevelt at his subcommittee's hearing on smog Saturday were unable to extract a denial from him of the reports.

The original report was made Friday night by a source close to the eldest son of the late President. It also was pointed out that he was divorced by Mrs. Romelle Roosevelt June 21, 1955, and therefore would not be free to marry until a year from that date.

Roosevelt was first married to Betty Cushing, of Boston, by whom he had two children. The marriage ended in divorce, and in 1941 Roosevelt wed Romelle Schneider, who had been his nurse when he was recovering from surgery. They have three children.

She won her divorce in an uncontested action but only after a series of sensational charges and counter-charges were made by both of them while Roosevelt was being nominated and then elected to California's 26th congressional district seat.

Mrs. Roosevelt accused him of infidelity and improper conduct with a dozen women. He denied the charges and apologized to the women named by his wife, calling her accusations basically blackmail.

Owner Of Bawdy House Petitions For Reopening

TEXAS CITY, May 19—UP—A madam whose house was padlocked by police is passing around a petition asking the city commission to let her open up again.

She lost her means of livelihood last month when Police Chief Rankin Dewalt closed Texas City's modest tenderloin of two houses.

Chief Rankin acted upon the orders of the new city commission, which is against vice. Commissioner Gail Bradley said he had seen a copy of the petition.

"It had three sheets of names on it," he said. "I think there were either 51 or 53 names, in all.

"I have not been asked to support the reopening of the place and I certainly don't have any intention of doing it. I don't care whether there are 51 names on it or 51,000."

Bradley heard that the petition was being circulated among the dispossessed madam's neighbors.

Mayor Jack Godard said he also had seen a copy of the petition.

"I got a laugh out of it," he said. "I don't think anything will ever come of it.

"I can't imagine anybody signing such a petition, much less trying to bring it up before the city commission."

Lawyer R. Richard Thornton of Galveston said he drew up the petition, but he declined to reveal the name of his client.

"She asked me to prepare it, so I did," he said. "But I've no idea what she plans to do with it."

He said the petition says:

"We, the undersigned, do hereby agree that———can stay in business until the expiration of her lease Nov. 1."

Sen. Long Pledges Floor Fight For Hike In Old Age Assistance Benefits

WASHINGTON, May 19 (Special) — Sen. Russell B. Long will re-introduce his amendment to increase federal participation in the welfare programs of the states on the Senate floor next week.

The Long amendment, which would increase welfare checks in Louisiana by $7.50, was defeated earlier this week by the Senate finance committee, but the Louisiana senator stated he feels he will succeed in a floor fight to make it a part of this year's social security act.

The federal government, under the amendment, would be required to put up at least $5.00 extra for every old person receiving public welfare assistance.

The senator said this would mean that the federal government would put up $25 for the first $5 put up by the state, then match the state on an even basis to a total of $65 a month.

Under the present law, the federal government puts up an initial $20 and matches up to $55 a month. When the amendment was introduced by Senator Long, it was co-sponsored by 46 other senators.

"I regret that the finance committee turned down my amendment," Senator Long said, "but I am not really surprised. The finance committee is the most conservative one in the entire Congress and it is the committee that offers the least chance of passage to a public welfare program."

He pointed out that the finance committee had representation from some states not getting very much from the welfare program. As an example of this, he pointed out that in contrast to the situation in Louisiana where 62 out of every 100 elderly people were drawing assistance of one kind or another, only six out of every 100 were drawing assistance in the state of Delaware. Yet, he added, Delaware has two members on the finance committee.

According to the Senator, the additional federal expense entailed by the passage of the amendment would be approximately $200 million. He pointed out that this amount was approximately one-tenth the amount of the increase in the foreign aid program sought by the administration.

In his opinion, he said, the extra cost could be deleted from the foreign aid program and would be better invested in the more than 2½ million aged, blind and disabled Americans who would benefit by it.

Answering the concern of some regarding the decreasing numbers on welfare programs, Senator Long stated that while it was true that over a period of time the social security program would take over more and more of the older people, increases in the number of people over 65 would offset for some time the smaller percentage drawing welfare checks.

According to recent estimates, he added, more than 3,000,000 old people would still be receiving public welfare assistance by 1980.

"I am convinced we need the additional assistance I am urging and I believe that the Senate as a whole will be favorably inclined to my amendment. I am very optimistic concerning its eventual passage," Long concluded.

Legislature

operate with us in our program to maintain segregation," the Summerfield Senator said.

While the new governor has warned lawmakers to use "reasonableness and caution," he told Rainach he subscribes to a firm segregation policy.

Interposition is the most powerful weapon at hand to wield against federal commands for integration, Rainach asserted.

States using interposition have protested against federal encorachment on their sovereignty. In effect, the state interposes its sovereignty between the Supreme Court and its people.

The South's determination to keep segregated schools reached a peak March 1 when U. S. senators and 7 representatives pledged to exercise every "lawful means" to revers the Supreme Court.

"Interposition will throw the searchlight of public opinion on the integration issue," Rainach said.

Rainach and his 10-man committee were responsible for the recent lawsuit in which a state court stopped activities of the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People in Louisiana. The segregationists dug up a 1924 law which had wiped out the Klan, an used it against the NAACP.

A behind-the-scenes role also was played by the Rainach group when another state court earlier slapped down NAACP efforts to block use of $100,000 in taxpayers funds to fight school integration moves.

The 1956 Legislature returns Monday night at 7:30 for its second week and will hear an address by Gov. Long. The governor so far has not mentioned the segregation issue in official talks.

To meet the changing situation brought about by federal court decrees, Rainach and his committee will introduce in the new Legislature:

1. The interposition resolution, which declares the May 17, 1954, Supreme Court decision on school segregation to be in violation of federal and Louisiana constitutions.

2. A legislative resolution continuing the work of the Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation, chief foe of the NAACP in this state.

3. A constitutional amendment withdrawing consent of the state to any lawsuits, except for contract questions, against city, parish or state public park and recreation agencies. Sponsors said this would have the effect of blocking integration lawsuits.

4. A legislative act tightening college and university entrance rules by calling for a certificate from lower school officials attesting to the applicant's eligibility and good moral character. This would stiffen colleges against undesirable applicants, whether white or Negro.

5. An act guaranteeing white waiting rooms at air, rail and bus terminals, by stipulating white passengers traveling within the state must have a separate room, even though another will be available for Negroes and any interstate passengers.

6. An act placing city, parish and state parks under the sovereignty police power of the state, a segregation step.

7. An act eliminating compulsory school attendance wherever integration occurs, thus allowing white pupils to ignore the attendance law while awaiting new steps to bring back segregated schoolrooms.

Sen. Rainach said Gov. Long has agreed that the segregation committee should continue to operate.

The interposition resolution it sponsors charges the Supreme Court with usurpation of rights reserved for the states and the people.

It calls on sister states to "join in taking appropriate steps, pursuant to article five of the U. S. constitution, by which an amendment designed to set at rest the usurpation herein complained of may be proposed to all the states."

The document says until "the usurpation here complained of" is settled by a federal constitutional change, "the Legislature of Louisiana does hereby solemnly declare the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court of May 17, 1954, the decision of the federal district court in New Orleans, and any similar decisions that might be rendered in connection with the public school system, public parks and recreational facilities . . . to be in violation of the constitution of the United States and of the state of Louisiana.

"We declare, further, our firm intention to take all appropriate measures honorably and constitutionally available to us, to void this illegal encoachment upon the rights of the several states . . ."

The Rainach committee in 1954 won legislative and public approval for a three-way segregation package designed to bypass the Supreme Court on the school issue.

But these laws were the target of the NAACP when the New Orleans federal court ruled them unconstitutional. Louisiana has appealed.

And while an appeal is pending, the state, under Rainach's guidance, is bringing up its new ammunition in a battle that the senator contends will last 20 years.

TKE Chapter To Install Officers Sunday Afternoon

Installation today of a Tau Kappa Epsilon chapter at Northeast State will highlight the two-day period of activity for Alpha Theta Chi, local fraternity.

The installation ceremony and presentation of a charter to the campus organization will take place during a banquet at The Rendezvous at 1 p.m.

Directing the program are James C. Logan of Kansas City, national president of Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Frank Moulton, national field secretary.

Alpha Theta Chi's affiliation with TKE marks the first social fraternity at Northeast to become a national Greek letter affiliate. The local fraternity, which was organized in 1950, is headed by C. B. Roberts of Epps.

Saturday's meetings with national officials were devoted to instruction in various phases of fraternity ritual, work, and relationship to other fraternities. Following the sessions on the campus, the group held a barbecue at Bernstein Park.

Today's conferences will underscore a review of an initiatory ceremony with ritual film and further instruction regarding installation and intiation. The membership will attend morning service at the College Place Baptist Church. The banquet and installation ceremony will complete the day's events.

Active membership in the new chapter will include: C. B. Roberts, Bennie Cowan, J. D. Cascio, Guy DuPriest, Cleburn Fails, Bennie Franklin, , Ray Gardner, Vinceet Genusa, W. J. Gates, Lew Koch, Bob LaCaze, Howard Stapp, Norman McRee, Charles Greer, Douglas Comeaux, Ronnie Fox, Ezra Adams, Gene Antley, Stephen Brown.

Ben Clay, Jesse Felter, Floyd Fisher, Jack Howze, Robert Kincade, Obed Kirkpatrick, Dale Meachum, Don Roberts, Rodger Robinson, James D. Russell, Harold Smith, Barr Taylor and J. W. Webster, Jr.

Total Power Blackout Costly To Monroe

CAUSE OF POWER FAILURE—T. L. Van Fossen, Monroe city electrical superintendent points to one of four reactors which "flashed over" and "went to ground" yesterday afternoon and caused a city-wide crippling power failure lasting in the main for about four hours. Some districts still did not have electricity at 9:30 p.m. Van Fossen stated that it was out of the ordinary that such a piece of equipment as a reactor would go "bad." These reactors were installed in 1950, he added. (World Photo by John Oldenburg)

NO POWER . . . NO MOVIE . . . DISGRUNTLED FANS — Sweltering and disgruntled movie fans at a DeSiard street theatre yesterday afternoon are shown waiting for the restoration of electrical power which went off at 2 p.m. and did not come on until about 6:50 p.m. These patrons preferred to wait outside due to the failure of the air-conditioning. Others window-shopped waiting for the city electrical workers to start operations once again. Loss at the theatre due to the power failure was reported to be around $750. Flames Continue To Rage At Huge Oil, Gas Refinery

Disastrous Monroe Power Failures

How much longer are the people of Monroe willing to endure the recurring power failures that plague their municipally owned power and light system?

These failures, this year alone, have cost industry and the businessmen and the people hundreds of thousands of dollars. They have repeatedly disrupted the normal life of the community, endangered lives in numerous ways.

In yesterday's total blackout, lasting from about 2 p.m. until 6:20 p.m., and much longer in some sections, a patient in an iron lung in a Monroe residence was kept alive by manual operation of the instrument. Critically ill hospital patients depended upon flashlights and candles in the hands of attendants. All traffic lights were out, with resulting hazards to the public. Meats in deep-freezers and commercial storage were threatened, bakeries sustained heavy losses as bread ready for the ovens was spoiled, ice-cream melted, milk was endangered and in some cases it soured. Industrial machinery was at a standstill. Filling station attendants could not supply gasoline to motorists, the fuel pumps being electrically run. Theaters were shut down, with resulting heavy losses. The operations of restaurants were crippled or at a standstill. Air conditioning units throughout the city were idled, and the people sweltered in the August heat.

Yesterday's disastrous power failure was ascribed to an unexplained explosion at the municipal generating plant, in which four voltage reactors supposed to "last forever" flashed over and burned a mass of wiring and equipment.

Other blackouts, occuring regularly, have been blamed on various other causes.

The real trouble is deeper and more fundamental. It involves laxity and incompetence on the part of city officials, together with a complete lack of business administration in the handling of power generation and distribution.

With millions invested, the city has never had, until recently, a graduate engineer in charge of light and power.

Not one standard practice of successfully-run utility companies has been adopted, down to this day, by the city of Monroe. There are no funds set aside for obselescence and depreciation, no reserves for expansion, no attempt whatever to run the light and power department as a separate enterprise standing on its own feet. It is difficult, and perhaps impossible, under the loose bookkeeping and cost-accounting system in use by the city, to determine even such fundamental facts as the total investment involved in this slackly run and politically manned enterprise.

The people for the most part are in agreement that the rates are high, the service is miserably poor. Only a group of independent experts could say what the physical plant and equipment are worth. Much of it, admittedly, is junk, long obselete.

The present administration, in power more than five years, has shown a tendency to blame its predecessors for inherited evils in this field.

The excuse is half-a-decade old.

The people have lost faith in unfulfilled promises.

They are faced by realities — including the threat of some Monroe industries to move out of the city, due to disastrous power failures; the refusal of new industries to locate here, for the same reason; and constant public complaint, affecting every element and every section of the municipality.

What are the people going to do in the way of remedial action?

There comes a time when patience ceases to be a virtue.

RESTORING ELECTRICAL POWER — Two unidentified city electrical workers are pictured making a desperate attempt yesterday afternoon to get the power flowing once again to the public following the "cutoff" at about 2 p.m. A major portion of the city's power was restored by 9:15 p.m. but a number of "outlying" residential districts were still void of electricity. Power failure came when four reactors, safety devices for a large electric system, "flashed over" and were "grounded." These had to be bypassed on two feeder lines before service could be "half-way" restored. (World Photo by John Oldenburg)

Police Department Radio System Paralyzed Here For Almost Four Hours

Monroe city police radio system was paralyzed by the power failure which crippled city for about four hours yesterday making it necessary for a policeman or detective to call in at periodic intervals for an assignment.

Calling in to headquarters was virtually impossible because of the number of persons cluttering up the police switchboard with a barrage of questions about the power failure.

A patrolman, J. E. Simpson, was utilized at the switchboard to assist Mrs. Eloise Haywood, desk operator, to take care of the incoming calls.

The department began receiving a barrage of calls about 2:30 p. m.

City power superintendent T. L. Van Fossen reported last night that electrical service to all sections of Monroe had been restored by 10:30 p.m.

Explosion, Fire At City Plant Halts Service

Heavy Losses In Stored Foods Are Reported

An explosion and fire [illegible] the municipal power plant Sunday afternoon cut off electrical current to all sections of the city, and before service could be restored hours later losses through food spoilage and curtailment of business operations ran into thousands of dollars.

The disruption came around 2 p. m. when an explosion rocked equipment on the roof of the plant.

Three Perish As Thunder Squall Wrecks Boat

ROCKLAND, Maine, Aug. 28 (UP)—A lone survivor of a four-man weekend sailing party today told how the boat's owner was struck by a boom and knocked overboard and how two others vanished after their boat foundered.

Lester Harrington, 30, one of three employes of H. Rodney Brooke, Bath automobile dealer, was rescued 15 miles south of Monhegan Island today by the Coast Guard.

The cutter Snohomish earlier found a body caught in the nameless, 30-foot sloop's rigging. The half-submerged craft was floating near the annual Monhegan Island race course which the cutter was patrolling.

The body was identified by Brooke's daughter as that of her father.

Harrington told Chief Boatswain H. Simpson Jr., that the boat was caught in a thunder squall Saturday night.

A quick sweep of the boom, he said, knocked Brooke over and the craft swamped. Harrington and

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE

Storm Of Protest Greets Parents' Idea To Serve Liquor At Teenage Prom

CHAPPAQUA, N.Y.—UP—Tempest in a beer barrel raged among Chappaqua's parents Saturday over plans for the fathers to serve alcoholic beverages to high school graduates at their prom.

A decision to arrange for "controlled" drinking supervised by fathers, brought many complaints as well as charges that there is entirely too much drinking among adults in this Westchester county suburb of New York.

This town of 5,000-including a colony of editors, writers, artists, brokers and business executives—was so split over the matter that the minister of the largest local church said he would preach on the subject Sunday. He hopes to come up with a compromise solution.

The storm has been brewing all week, ever since members of the Horace Greely high school graduating class sat down with a group of parents and discussed the matter of drinking. Some of the youngsters felt that they should be allowed to drink in the open, instead of hiding out between dances. They thought there would be less chance of their over-indulging if they could have cocktails or spiked punch at their class party.

Most of the fathers agreed. Among them was G. Norman Scott a New York broker and father of Arden Scott, senior class president. Scott and other fathers decided to provide drinks stronger than dancing school punch and supervise their consumption at the party following the graduation exercises June 25.

It was decided that only youngsters 18 or over would be allowed to indulge. The rest would get soft drinks.

The plans brought cries of alarm from some parents and from the Rev. Kenneth E. Nye, pastor of the First Congregational Church. The school board voted not to have anything to do with such a party and ordered teachers to stay away from it. Nye's board of deacons authorized him to appeal in a sermon for temperance among teenagers.

The Country Club, where the party was to have been held, said it could not condone drinking by youngsters.

The pro - liquor parents and students backtracked slightly. They decided to serve beer, instead of anything stronger, but they still have not found a place in which to serve it.

Demo Convention Manager Resigns; Won't Give Cause

CHICAGO, May 19—UP—William Neal Roach, who quit abruptly as convention manager for the Democrats, flew to Washington Saturday, leaving behind the tremendous job of accomodating some 7,000 delegates and newsmen to the party's August convention.

Roach, who almost single-handedly organized the past two Democratic national conventions, confirmed he submitted his resignation to Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler. However, Roach refused to explain his sudden departure.

"If I could tell anybody, I would," the veteran party worker said, "but I just can't."

Asked if he had been ordered to keep mum on his reason for resigning, Roach laughed and replied "no, hell no."

The 43-year-old resident of Bethesda, Md., said he would be in Washington Sunday, and "what I'll do after that, I just don't know."

A member of the convention committee since 1929, Roach became the party's assistant convention manager in 1944 and then took full charge for the 1948 and 1952 national conventions.

Butler, who was in Indianapolis Saturday, said a new convention manager will be named next week. Butler discounted talk of a rift in the party's high command, and called the resignation "just a routine problem."

"There was nothing important about it, and there was no connection with any particular convention personality," Butler said.

Butler said Roach "terminated" all his connections with the national committee, although he was expected to be available to give advice to his successor.

For a full-time, non-political administration of the Department of Finance and Utilities, vote for H. W. "Mac"

Armed Forces Day

Massive Military Show Honors American Forces

The United States Saturday put on a massive world-wide display of its military "power for peace" in the seventh and biggest observance of Armed Forces Day.

Marching men, swooshing jets, a galaxy of guided missiles and atomic artillery served as a stern warning to Russia that the free world is determined to keep up its guard in the "long pull' for peace.

President Eisenhower, who proclaimed the day in honor of all U. S. forces, said America's troops, sailors and airmen demonstrate to the world "our free way of life. ...(and) our aspiration to insure national security."

Tone of the celebration was set by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson who proclaimed that this country will maintain its 2,850,000-man fighting force into the "indefinite future."

Assuring that the force never will be used for "intimidation or aggression," Wilson said there never has been "no clear indication the world situation has improved to the point where we can importantly modify our policy of strength for the long pull."

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey, in a speech in Knoxville, Tenn., said the draft machinery is ready to roll if war should come. If war broke out Sunday, he added, the draft would furnish men "faster than anybody could take them."

Civilians poured into military establishments at home and abroad to see the demonstrations and inspect some of the deadliest weapons of the atomic age.

The world's first intercontinental guided missile—the sleek, red-painted Snark—was put on public display for the first time at the "open house" at the Bolling Air Force Base here.

The missile, powered by a giant J-57 jet engine with a 10,000-pound thrust, is 74 feet long and has swept-back wings that span 42 feet. It was designed to carry and atomic warhead "over inter-continental distances."

In detroit, the Army unveiled its 60-foot Redstone missile which is designed to strike targets at 200 to 300 miles at supersonic speed.

The Army's atomic cannon, its "Corporal" missile, and its 90-mm anti-aircraft gun were displayed at Vogelweh, Germany. The "Matador" pioletless bomber featured the show at Bad Kreuznach.

Record Absentee Soldier Voting Seen In November

WASHINGTON, May 19—UP—Defense Department officials Saturday predicted a record absentee soldier vote in the presidential election next fall.

It conceded that thousands of servicemen and other government absentees will be unable to vote, due to state legal hurdles and red tape still to be overcome. But, said Deputy Defense Secretary A. Du Fon, "we will have a better return than ever before."

Du Fon directs the federal voting assistance program for 30 federal agencies. The Defense Department estimates that 3 million Americans of voting age — servicemen, members of the merchant marine, civilian employes, religious and welfare groups, and families of all of them — will be overseas on election day.

Du Fon said he is not making a special effort to "get out the vote." His job is merely to see that the absentees know their rights and privileges.

Chamber Takes Poll

WASHINGTON, May 19—UP—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce Saturday began a nationwide poll to determine whether its member organizations favor U.S. participation in such international trade bodies as the proposed organization for Trade Cooperation (OTC).

Delinquency On Rise

WASHINGTON, May 19—UP—Dr. Martha M. Eliot, chief of the Children's Bureau, reported Saturday that juvenile delinquency increased 9 per cent last year over 1954.

Nearly half a million children in the 10 to 17 age group were brought into juvenile courts although some of the offenses were not serious enough to warrant action.

Dr. Eliot pointed out that during the year the child population in the 10-17 group increased about 3 per cent. She also remarked that the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported an 11.4 per cent increase in police arrests of youngsters under 18 in 1955.

British Cabinet Members Warned Of Cyprus Threat

LONDON, May 19—UP—British cabinet ministers have been warned the Cypriot underground may try to kill them, the Daily Express said Saturday.

Scotland Yard has armed guards shadowing four of the ministers, the Express said. Special police are watching the homes of others.

The report was not confirmed by Scotland Yard, which always refuses comment on security precautions concerning government leaders.

The Express said Scotland Yard started the special protective measures after receiving secret information that London agents of the Greek - Cypriot Eoka underground planned reprisals for the execution of two Cypriot gunmen early this month.

Warnings were sent to local police in communities where top government leaders planned to spend the Whitsun weekend, the paper said.

The inisters were cautioned not to admit strangers to their homes.

There have been demonstrations but no trouble from he 30,000 Greek Cypriots in London since extremists on Cyprus started bloody uprising to back their demands for independence and union with Greece.

The Express story said special precautions were being taken at the homes of Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox - Boyd, War Secretary Anthony Head and House Government Leader R. A. Butler.

Cerebral Palsy Telethon Operation Started Here

The celebrity parade for cerebral palsy got under way on television here at 10:30 o'clock last night, and will continue until 3 p.m. Sunday, in a drive for funds.

Sponsor of the telethon is the United Cerebral Palsy association of Northeast Louisiana in cooperation with the United Cerebral Palsy associations, the national organization.

A battery of 27 telephones will be manned during the 16½-hour show to receive calls from persons wishing to contribute money to the cause.

In a press conference yesterday morning at the Frances Hotel, the entertainers who will be featured expressed the hope that the Cerebral Palsy show would net much money for the charity, declared Monroe charming, and praised the Ouachita River as the most beautiful they had ever seen.

"Astro" of Space Cadets fame, will stage a plea for children of this area to pitch in and help during the telethon. Astro, who has starred on each of the three annual Celebrity Parades for Cerebral Palsy here, stated that $12,000 was dropped into the fish bowl by children of this area last year and that he hoped that amount will be exceeded this year.

Eugenia Baird, radiating the personality that has made her a well-known star, will be hostess on the show and also sing during the 16½ hour marathon.

Jack Smith, flashing the smile that resounds in his voice, will be master of ceremonies for the 1956 edition of the telethon.

Pretty Bonnie Lake declared the Ouachita River the prettiest she had ever seen and admired the way the city is laid out. She is a singer and composer, having to her credit the classic, "Young Man With a Horn."

Young Jack Haskell, one of the attractions on the Jack Parr Show, said that he had a personal interest in the drive since he has a relative who is a victim of Cerebral Palsy.

Keefe Brasselle, as handsome in person as on a movie screen, arrived in Monroe Saturday morning, a day late, because his mother is ill. "Cerebral Palsy is my pet charity and I hope that the telethon is a big success in obtaining contributions," he stated.

LeBlanc Decides To Drop Out Of Baton Rouge Race

BATON ROUGE, May 19—UP—Former Atty. Gen. Fred LeBlanc has withdrawn from the July 31 race for mayor of Baton Rouge to "fulfill a cherished desire" in guiding his son on his first steps in a law practice.

LeBlanc, who last week announced his intention to run in the primary battle which already has a field of five candidates, said Friday he chose instead to return to the practice of law in the capitol city. LeBlanc was a one-time mayor of Baton Rouge.

"By following this course, I will have an opportunity to fulfill a cherished desire to lend a guiding hand to my youngest son, Don Wallace LeBlanc, who will receive his law degree this month and who will practice law in Baton Rouge," the ex-tidelands battler said.

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion defeated LeBlanc in the Jan. 1 gubernatorial primary, running on the Long ticket.

Five candidates have qualified for the mayor's post to succeed Mrs. Jesse Webb Jr., appointed mayor after her husband's tragic death in a small plane crash near Lansing, Mich., last month.

Pigeon Disrupts Play Rehearsal

LONDON, May 19—UP—A pigeon broke up a rehearsal of Shakespeare's "As You Like It" Saturday — right on cue.

Just as actress Rosemary Wallace spoke the lines "Here comes Monsieur Le Beau," a young pigeon plopped to the stage. It had been dislodged from its nest by electricians stringing lights at the Regent Park outdoor theater.

Another actress continued: "With his mouth full of news. . .

"Which he will put on us as pigeons feed their young."

Stagehands finally took it to a zoo.

Howard To Offer Plan To Change 'Little Hatch Act'

NEW ORLEANS, May 19—UP—State Sen. Harry H. Howard said Saturday he would introduce a bill to lift public employes from their present status as "second class citizens by allowing civil service employes to run for public office without resigning their jobs.

The New Orleans legislator explained that civil service employes are prohibited at the present time from engaging in any kind of political activity.

His proposal would not attempt to change the law for any employes other than those running for public office.

Howard said he had always opposed the "Hatch Act" provisions of the state civil service law because "it makes second class citizens out of public employes."

"A man who serves in government should be entitled to run for office like any other citizen."

The bill contains nine amendments to the civil service law. It would include proposed changes in civil service sick leave provisions, promotional procedures and appeal procedures.

A number of other New Orleans bills will be introduced next week, including legislation for a $12 million tunnel under the Industrial Canal, and a commuter's college in New Orleans.

Mayor deLesseps Morrison met with Crescent City Democratic Association legislators today to discuss the bills and Regular Democratic Organization House members will meet on city bills at 5:30 p.m. Monday in Baton Rouge.

Seventh District Young Democrats To Hold Meeting

JENNINGS, La., May 19 (AP)—Southwest Louisiana public officials will do a little pulse feeling on presidential views when the Young Democrats of the Seventh District meet tomorrow.

Appeal Judge Albert Tate of Ville Platte, retiring Young Democrat president, said public officials from the ward level up are invited.

National Democratic committeeman Camille Gravel and secretary Jesse Webb Sr. of the Democratic State Central Committee, are among the speakers.

Others include Rep. T. A. Thompson and his four rivals for the seventh congressional district seat, state Sen. Henry Larcade, state Reps. Kenneth Deshotels of Opelousas and Rep. Horace Lynn Jones of DeQuincy and Raymond Guillory of Ville Platte.

Other talks will be given by contestants in the second public service commission race, former Sen. Ernest Clements and Sen. A. O. Rappelet. Thomas C. Glaze, Baton Rouge, may not attend because of a previous engagement.

JOHN H. CRUMP

Crump Is Elected Vice President Of United Producing

John H. Crump, of Monroe, has been elected vice president of United Producing Co. and will have charge of the firm's oil and gas operations in the Gulf Coast area, according to Oscar Nelson Jr., president.

He will assume the new post June 1 and will have his headquarters in Monroe, Nelson explained.

United Producing Co. is the oil and natural gas subsidiary of United Carbon Co. of Charleston, W. Va.

Crump was elected to the company vice presidency at a meeting of its board of directors in Charleston.

A 1927 engineering graduate of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, Crump has been associated with the oil and gas industry since 1929.

After employment with the Sinclair Oil and Gas Co. in Houston Texas, he served as petroleum engineer in the Department of Petroleum Economics of The Chase National Bank in New York from 1936 to 1940.

During World War II he served successively as a field artillery captain, as an Air Corps officer attached to Royal Air Force bomber and finally with the First Allied Airborne Army. He is the holder of various American, Dutch, French and English decorations for his combat service.

In 1946 Crump joined Southwest Gas Producing Co. as a development engineer. He was promoted to vice president and exploration chief in 1951, and became a director of Southwest and its sister company, Monla Gas Co., Inc., at the same time.

In 1954 he was made a director of Commonwealth Gas Corp., the parent firm, and became vice president of Monla Gas.

Married and the father of three daughters, he is associated with various engineering and geology groups and is the author of technical papers on geology and petroleum engineering.

Sen. Long Voices Appreciation For Senate Victory

WASHINGTON, May 19—UP—Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.), informed that he had no opponent in the July 31 Democratic primary, Saturday thanked Louisiana citizens for giving him a campaign-free return ticket to the Senate.

Filing deadline passed in Louisiana Friday and Long was the only candidate qualified in the senatorial race. Louisiana's other senator, Allen J. Ellender, was reelected in 1954.

All eight incumbents for U. S. representative from Louisiana have qualified and only two are Edward Hebert and Edwin E. Willis in the first and third districts, respectively.

Long, a son of the late U. S. Sen. Huey P. Long, issued a statement here of gratitude for the fact he will have no opponent in the July 31 race.

"Had I been opposed I would have found it necessary to devote much of my time and effort to a political campaign for re-election at a time when Congress is still in session. It will now be possible for me to devote all of my time to the work of the Senate."

"Naturally," Long said, "I am extremely gratified. I wish to express my deep appreciation to the people of Louisiana who have made this possible.

In the statement, he expressed thanks particularly to "the many friends of my father" who he said gave him his chance to start in public life.

"Particularly helpful to me in every race I have undertaken has been my uncle, Earl K. Long.

Sen. Long pledged he would strive to serve Louisiana and the nation.

"The fact that I am not opposed in the Democratic primary will enable me to continue my efforts to benefit our state and nation during the concluding weeks of the final session of the 84th Congress."

We Stand UNITED!

We would have been proud to have been the first to declare publicly our opinion with regard to the registration situation which has arisen in Ouachita Parish; as well as the first to condemn the activities of those "alien" in thought and deed to our traditional way of life. As we are not, we highly commend our friends from the Delhi area for their initiative in this regard.

We hesitate to delve into personalities, but we are compelled to refer to Mr. James A. Noe by name and remind him to recall the history of the post-Civil War era. "Block" and "controlled" voting then devastated the Southland and ultimately ruined those who imposed those vicious practices upon our fore-fathers. Actually, we do not expect Mr. Noe and some of his cohorts to understand and appreciate the finer traditions of our Southland, for "they are not one of us"—nor could they ever be.

We will always cherish the friendship and cooperation of our real Ouachita Parish friends, but at the same time, we let it be known that we will not strengthen those who seek to destroy us, nor will we "sharpen the knife of Brutus."

Mr. Noe, for your information, we do not represent the "radical element" to whom you refer. Our organization is composed of over 700 of our finest white citizens — farmers, merchants, businessmen, professional men, and public officials.

Our highest regards and commendation to the Ouachita Parish Citizens Council for their superior efforts to remove unqualified voters from the registration rolls.

Mollet, Russian Leaders See Ending For Cold War

MOSCOW —UP— Leaders of France and Russia concluded a "little summit" conference today with the prediction that the "cold war will be liquidated."

The two nations said they hoped the heads of other countries as well as their own would seek agreement on disarmament in man-to-man talks while they "continue their efforts" to the same end in the United Nations disarmament subcommission.

Their final communique, worked out in overtime sessions at the Kremlin, said that there was no agreement on such major issues as disarmament and a plan for European security. But it said the three days of formal talks which ended Friday and the last-minute conference held Saturday gave the two nations a better understanding of each other's aims.

"They are convinced," the communique said, "that thanks to their efforts and to the efforts of other governments with a genuine will for peace, international trust will be established, the cold war will be liquidated, the armament race stopped— and thus peoples will be freed of the threat of a new war."

The communique added that French Premier Guy Mollet and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau had a "useful exchange of opinions" with Soviet Premier Niolai A. Bulganin, Communist Party Chief Nikita S. Khruschev and Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov.

Bulganin and Mollet signed the red leather - bound agreement, which recognized that "improvement of Franco-Soviet relations in all spheres" will strengthen world security.

French Farmers Block Roads To Protest Troubles

PARIS, May 19 —UP— Angry farmers threw France's Whitsunday traffic into chaos Saturday by barricading roads to protest their sagging incomes.

They dragged tree trunks across the roads, piled bales of hay at busy intersections and blocked highways with tractors and farm implements.

Thousands of cars piled up in traffic jams throughout the country. Holiday motorists were infuriated and police worked desperately to clear the highways.

At least one serious accident was caused when a heavy truck crashed into a tree-trunk barricade. Several clashes between farmers and police were reported.

Roadblocks are a traditional form of protest by French farmers. They staged this one in protest against lack of government price supports, high taxation and the rising cost of living.

Interior Minister Gilbert Jules ordered police to use bulldozers if necessary to keep the holiday traffic moving.

Near Toulouse and at Saint-Albain in the Saone-et-Loire district police hurled tear gas grenades to break up peasant demonstrations, then tore down the barricades.

More than 2,000 cars were held up between Villefranche and Anse in the Lyon region. Farmers had made roadblocks from tree trunks felled by local authorities for bridgebuilding work.

Another 2,000 cars piled up at Saint Andre de Cubzac near Bordeaux. Truckloads of republican security companies were sent to smash the barricade of farm implements and machinery.

Truman Enjoys Sights Of Rome; Still Likes U. S.

ROME, May 19 —UP— Former President Truman enjoyed the sights of Rome Saturday but said he would settle for Independence, Mo., as a place to live "for an old man like me."

Mrs. Truman, was as much a tourist attraction as a tourist on his walks around the ancient Colliseum, the Roman Forum, the Capitoline Hill and the Pantheon.

He jokingly posed for photographers at the Colliseum and gave the "thumbs down" signal used by the old emperors to demand death for a fallen gladiator.

Other tourists clustered around to photograph, cheer and applaud Mr. Truman, who was accompanied by Mrs. Truman and Henry Luce, magazine publisher, who acted as guide.

"Yoo hoo, Mr. Truman...Harry, look this way," the camera-toting sightseers called. Mr. Truman grinned.

Opportunities In U.S. Outlined For College Graduates

WASHINGTON, May 19 —UP— Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell Saturday welcomed 390,000 college graduates to the "world's greatest labor force" and gave them tips on where to find the best jobs.

In an open letter to this year's crop of 325,000 who will receive bachelor's degrees next month, the 57,000 who are to get masters, and the 8,300 receiving PHD's, Mitchell said "employment opportunities range from good to excellent for most professions this spring."

He said the nation's record prosperity and employment and the fact that business is expected to spend an all-time high—$35 billion—to expand this year aggravates an already tight labor market among skilled and professional occupations. This "places your class in an excellent employment position," he said.

He urged those who can to continue their education because "it is well to realize that in this age of the specialist, there is a great premium upon those who have advanced knowledge."

In general, Mitchell said graduates could expect to find jobs in the following fields:

Business — "Demand steady constant, high for technologists, supply moderately short to insufficient."

Engineering—"Demand strong, supply insufficient."

Health — "Demand strong, supply insufficient."

Natural sciences — "Demand steady to steady, supply moderately short to insufficient."

Social work — "Demand steady and increasing, supply moderately short."

Teaching—"Demand very heavy, supply greatly inadequate at elementary level."

Long term trends, Mitchell said, indicate the future need for another 500,000 workers in trade, finance, service and government. Plant expansions indicate further job opportunities.

He warned against the lumber, textile and leather industries because of long-term declines in employment in these fields.

Nine Candidates Seeking Posts In Election Tuesday

Nine candidates campaigning in the Monroe city election will vie for three city council posts at the polls on Tuesday, when the first Democratic primary will be held

To be elected are mayor, commissioner of streets and parks, and commissioner of finance and utilities.

Two incumbents are in the race for re-election: Mayor John E. Coon and Commissioner of Streets and Parks Wayne H. Huckaby. They are opposed by the following candidates: for mayor, W. L. (Jack) Howard and Rufus Ponsell; for commissioner of streets and parks, J. D. (Jace) Parker.

Frank X. Cline, commissioner of finance and utilities, did not seek re-election, giving ill health as the reason.

Four candidates are in the field campaigning for the post now held by Cline. They are: John L. Luffey, H. W. McSherry, W. H. (Bing) Miller, and William H. (Bill) Jackson.

Polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Revolutionary Shift In U. S. Foreign Aid Policy Seen As Result Of Study

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP) — A revolutionary shift in united States foreign aid policy is foreshadowed by studies now being made in key agencies of the Eisenhower administration under prodding from the White House.

The switch, if carried through as now indicated, will mean a reduction in the military forces of some allied countries, particularly on the frontiers of the free world in Asia.

Officials say their thinking tentatively indicates such reductions would be justified on two grounds:

First, the real security of all free world countries in the atomic age rests mostly on the protection of the United States nuclear striking power.

Second, the dangers of even small wars have been diminished by Russia's new policy of presenting a more friendly face to the non-Communist world.

The impulse behind the new look at foreign aid policy lies in large part, however, in the field of cost. There is evidence that Congress and the country are becoming increasingly reluctant to vote the funds necessary to do the job the administration thinks necessary. The program now before Congress had a rough time this week at the hands of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and the administration is being compelled to retreat from some of its positions.

For example, President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have laid heavy emphasis on a need for new authority this year to commit the United States to long term foreign aid spending on specific projects. The House committee knocked out that provision and substituted a general statement of intent to carry on foreign aid which gives no real new power to the President. The administration has decided, this reporter as informed, not to make a further fight for the long-range provision in the House.

The problem of costs is simply defined. Eisenhower has stated that foreign aid spending should continue at about the same level—between four and five billion dollars—for a good many years. At the same time his principal advisors on cold war strategy are generally agreed that the United States must spend considerably more in the next few years than it has in the last six on economic assistance, especially to Asian countries.

The only place from which new economic funds can come, in the light of the President's fixed policies, is the military aid appropriations. Thus some of the best informed authorities look for cuts in some allied military forces. Where, when and how such reductions may be brought about are problems that await further debate in the State and Defense Departments and a decision by President Eisenhower and Congress.

The example most often cited is South Korea. That republic has an army of 21 divisions, or about 600,000 men, plus naval and air force units and a reserve force of 10 divisions. The economy of the country is wholly unable to support such a military establishment.

While military aid figures are generally secret, one official said recently that including the cost of United States military units in Korea it was costing this country about a billion dollars a year to secure that country.

Proper Maintenance Of Your Public Utilities

THESE ARE YOUR ANSWERS!

In meeting the thousands of voters of the City of Monroe these are the questions which you most frequently asked:

1. Have you ever held a public office? NO.
2. Have you ever joined or been a part of any political faction? NO.
3. With a successful business, why do you want to serve as Commissioner of Finance and Public Utilities of the City of Monroe?

This has been my home for more than thirty five years and I expect it to be my home as long as I live. I want to see a greater Monroe develop each year, I want to see old industry expand and I want to see new industry locate here. Unless we have good city management of our finance and public utilities we cannot prosper in business and we, you and I have a direct interest in seeing Monroe climb to the top. I entered this campaign with a deep personal and sincere feeling that I could do a job for Monroe and I want to do that job. It isn't easy to campaign for public office, but I sincerely believe that a citizen should take time out of his personal life to serve the community in which he lives and in which he earns his living. That has made my campaign a real pleasure.

4. What is wrong with the public utilities of the City of Monroe?

I am convinced that honest business principles and trained business management can correct the trouble we have had with our utilities. A citizens Advisory Committee can free the system from possible political abuse. It is the biggest business of the City of Monroe and it needs the same close attention that you give your business to make it succeed. I want to maintain our public ownership, and that means planned economy with maximum service to protect our greatest investment and increase its production of revenue for our city.

5. Do you intend to stay in politics?

If the people of Monroe elect me Commissioner of Finance and Public Utilities I shall serve them as long as results show that I am serving them well and as long as they want my services. My sole obligation will be to the people, not a political faction or clique.

Having lived these many years without a political job I know that I can make my way in the business world without having to become a factional politician. I will never attempt to perpetuate myself in public office at the expense of the taxpayers. My future will depend upon the wishes of the people, and I intend to work just as hard for them as I have worked for by own business. I believe hard work will get the job done, and if I can't get the job done then it is time to step aside and let you elect a man who can get the job done. This is our city—let's get the job done!

Drilling Activity In Mississippi Is Listed For Week

JACKSON, Miss., May 19 (AP)— Two new oil wells were completed in proved fields, seven new permits to drill were issued and four wells were abandoned as dry holes during the past week of oil and gas activity in Mississippi.

In Wilkinson County's Kelly Hill field, Standard Oil and Gas Co. completed its USA-Jack Ewing No. C-1 well and said it was flowing 120 barrels of 36 gravity oil per day from perforations in the Wilcox sand at 6,329-23 feet. The gauge was on a nine sixty-fourths-inch choke with a tubing pressure of 375 pounds.

In Sandersville field of Jones County, Magnolia Petroleum Co. completed its McKenzie unit No. 1 and said it was pumping 49 barrels of 12 gravity oil a day from perforations in the Eutaw sand at 5,522-30 feet.

Stocks Hit New Low In Six-Week Downward Trend

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—The stock market this week bumped down to a new low for its six-week reaction.

Stockholders were quick to sell on news they considered unfavorable, and buyers were slow to come into the market at the lower prices.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks this week lost $2.60 at $185.30. During the week it dipped to $184.40. That was $7.10 under the record high point reached last April 6. Since then the market has been going through a series of irregularly lower price swings.

Action of the market this week produced a number of interesting technical developments which have led some brokers to conclude it still has to prove its strength. In the absence of that proof, brokers believe the reaction still could continue.

On both Tuesday and Wednesday the market on average descended to the point where support had been expected, and on both occasions the support materialized and sent the market upward from the lows. That was very cheering to the bulls.

Thursday's market launched a rebound as a result and scored the best advance of the week. On Friday there was an early follow through, but late selling turned the trend down slightly at the finish.

One more technical observation —with one exception, volume was heavy on the declines and light on the rallies. That isn't considered very bullish.

Nevertheless, the market's fall from its record high has been quite normal. So far it has retraced only about one-third of the sharp rise from mid-February to early April. That's minimum. It could retrace two-thirds of that rise and still be within normal bounds.

Grains Dip After Wide Fluctuations

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP) — Most grains ended lower on the Board of Trade this week after some erratic fluctuations. Trading was at a moderately active pace with soybeans still the big volume leader.

Largest loss for the period occurred in May wheat, down 5⅞ cents as holders liquidated prior to the closing of trading Monday. New crop wheat futures ended 1 cent lower to ¼ cent higher.

The best showing for the week was given by old crop soybeans. They ended 2 to 3¼ cents higher. But the new crop months slid down 2¼ to 4¾ cents.

Corn closed the week 2 to 2¾ lower, oats ⅛ lower to ⅛½ higher, rye ¾ to 3¼ lower and lard 10 to 35 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Cotton Futures Close Week Firm

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP) — The cotton futures market was strong this week, with all deliveries except nearby July finishing in higher territory.

Gains for contracts deliverable after July ranged from 55 cents to $1.65 a bale, in trading on the New York Cotton Exchange, while nearby July showed a net loss of 40 cents a bale.

Several factors sustained the market. One was a bullish interpretation of export sales under the Commodity Credit Corporation's surplus export program against bids opened May 8. Another was a better-than-expected April consumption report.

Advances were held in check, however, by profit-taking and by continued favorable weather reports from the belt. Slow demand for spot cotton hurt the nearby July contract.

While reports of mill cutbacks had indicated the possibility of a marked decline in use of the staple during April, consumption on a per diem basis for that month was down only 1.6 per cent from March, according to the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau. The average March-to-April decline over the past five years was 6.3 per cent.

Oil Industry Takes Dim View Of U. S. Method Of Curtailing Oil Imports

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP) — Spokesmen for domestic oil producers took a dim view of the government's request this week for a voluntary curtailment of oil imports. They called, in effect, for stiffer action.

"An invitation to higher imports," said President Robert L. Wood, president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America (IPAA), of the request.

The prospect for early solution of the oil import problem "has been severely dimmed," said Russel B. Brown, general counsel of the IPAA.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming, chairman of a presidential advisory committee on energy resources, took the government action. Saying second-quarter imports are causing "real concern,' 'he asked 56 importing companies to reduce the volume of foreign oil they are bringing into this country.

Wood issued a statement saying Flemming's action amounts to setting up new standards under which oil imports "will continue to take an increasing share of the U. S. market at the expense of domestic production.

"In effect, this new action is an invitation to higher imports which would lead inevitably to increasing dependency on foreign oil. I do not believe this would be in the best interest of our expanding economy or our security."

Wood sent a telegram to Flemming saying he was deeply concerned and asking an opportunity to present the views of "domestic oil producers."

Brown said in a letter to IPAA members that the efforts of the Office of Defense Mobilization "now seem to be directed at excusing the importing companies from voluntary compliance with the law."

Brown asserted there was evidence of "an unbending determination on the part of importing companies to continue imports at an excessive rate regardless of the effect on our nation's security." And, he added, "There is reflected by Dr. Flemming's office a willingness to excuse and justify the acts of these companies."

Businessmen Clamor For Easy Credit As Selling Lags Throughout Nation

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—Businessmen, bothered by lagging sales, clamored this week for a return to easy credit.

Their complaints were aimed at the Federal Reserve Board which regulates the nation's money and credit supply. Five weeks ago the board took steps to jack up bank loan rates — ahe fifth such maneuver in a year. The board's announced objective was to protect the value of the dollar, keep prices in line and curb any tendencies in the boom toward runaway inflation. It sought to achieve these ends by making money more difficult to borrow.

This week the board's action, criticized by some from the very start, came under heavy fire.

President Harlow H. Curtice of General Motorh blamed the increase in bank rates for a slump in new car sales.

Joseph B. Haverstick, president of the National Assn. of Home Builders, told a congressional committee that home building continues to point "sharply downward." He blamed "tight" mortgage money.

Even Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, a champion of tight credit policies in the past, rapped the board's latest action. "If it had been my responsibility," Humphrey said, "I would not have made" the decision to boost the Federal Reserve discount rate another notch in April.

Curtice's blast at the Federal Reserve served to focus attention anew on the auto industry's troubles. Production this week was estimated by Ward's Automotive Reports at 106,178 cars and 21,380 trucks, lowest so far this year and down nearly 40 per cent from a year earlier. New car inventories on May 1 were back up to 902,000 and close to the all-time record.

Some months ago, the General Motors chief predicted that Americans in 1956 would buy 6½ million cars, making it the second best auto sales year on record. This week he lowered his estimates to 5,800,000. The spring slump, said Curtice, was due in part to the "restrictive" credit policies of the Federal Reserve which lowered the confidence of would-be buyers.

There were reports this week that the home appliance industry was encountering the same kind of consumer resistance besetting the auto makers. A manufacturer interviewed by the Wall Street Journal lamented: "Everybody in the business has a whopping big inventory of finished products but nobody seems to want to admit it. People just aren't buying."

Elsewhere, you could still find evidence of solid strength. Department store sales began to snap out of their April doldrums; at latest count, volume of business was 19 per cent higher than a year ago.

A survey by McGraw Hill Publishing Co. indicated that business this year will spend even more money on expansion than the record 35 billion dollars the government had predicted. The McGraw-Hill forecast: 39 billions.

A Federal Reserve Board survey showed that despite the drop in auto production, the nation's total industrial output actually moved ahead slightly last month. The board's index of industrial production for April was 142 per cent of the 1947-49 average. That compares with 141 per cent in March and an all-time high of 144 per cent last December.

Newsprint consumption in April set a new high for the month, up nearly seven per cent from a year ago. An April record was established, too, for new business incorporations. According to Dun & Bradstreet, 12,475 new businesses were incorporated last month. That brought the total for the first four months to an all-time peak of 51,163.

Stock prices wavered nervously this week. The Associated Press 60-stock average was hammered down Monday for a loss of $2.20 when the Russians announced a cutback in their armed forces.

New Iberia Club Quits Evangeline Loop

League Directors Gather Today For Emergency Meet

NEW IBERIA, La., May 19 (AP)—New Iberia officials today disbanded their team, a charter member of the Evangeline League.

New Iberia had been scheduled to play a doubleheader here tonight against Monroe. The move to disband left the league with seven teams.

Ray Mullins, president of the class C league, said the league directors would meet tomorrow at Lafayette to decide the method of operation for the remainder of the season.

Manager Ed Head, Saul Adler, and R. D. Farr Jr. will represent the Twin Cities Baseball Corporation, operators of the Monroe Sports in the Evangeline League, at today's emergency session of the circuit as the league directors decide what to do about the collapse of New Iberia.

The Sports had a double header scheduled at New Iberia last night, and Manager Head was en route for the game when the announcement of New Iberia's withdrawal was made. Monroe baseball officials had state police intercept Manager Head and his players at Alexandria to halt their trip to New Iberia. The Sports' game with New Iberia there today, thus, is also cancelled, and New Iberia had been due to play here Monday and Tuesday.

Unless measures are taken today to make some other arrangement, the Sports will be inactive until Wednesday—if they're still in the league. The circuit today may vote a return to a six-club circuit rather than travel as a 7-team league with one club idle each day. A six-club circuit vote could mean that Monroe might be the club to be voted out of the circuit.

A. J. Bowab, president of New Iberia, said the decision to quit operating resulted from financial problems. He said the fans apparently had "lost interest," although New Iberia had a "good ball club and a bunch of hustling young players."

New Iberia, winner of the league's championship last season, was in fifth place.

Bowab said the team officials thought at first they would be able to continue through Tuesday's game. But later they decided they had to disband immediately when Al Barillari, released today as general manager and field manager, moved to Port Arthur of the class B Big State League and took some of the New Iberia players who belonged to Port Arthur with him.

Bowab said the home attendance was averaging less than 400, and "it takes at least 1,000 to break even."

"We gave it our best efforts, but the fans apparently lost interest. I presume it's television.

"Even with last season's team we lost $8,000," Bowab said.

"Baseball is just sick," he added.

The Evangeline League operated as a six-team circuit last season. Two new members, Thibodaux and Monroe, were added this year. Monroe came from the now disbanded Cotton States League.

Unconfirmed reports said Thibodaux would drop out. Sources said Thibodaux had been considering disbanding since the start of the season.

But, at Thibodaux, Edwin Chaisson, president and business manager of the Thibodaux team, said these reports were unfounded.

Chiasson said his team was "in good shape."

A's Use Lopez's Two-Run Homer To Drop Red Sox

Demons 1st In Gulf Track

Florida Surprise Winner Of S. E. C. Track Throne

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 19 (AP)—Florida's deep, well-balanced team scored a surprisingly lopsided victory in the 24th annual Southeastern Conference track and field meet today. Favored Louisiana State slipped to third behind Auburn's defending champions.

LSU's fleet Harry Carpenter was the high point man, scoring 13 points with victories in the 220 and low hurdles and a third in the high hurdles. He also ran a leg in both the 440 relay, which LSU won, and the mile relay, which Florida won.

But Florida double-teamed Carpenter in the 220 and the low hurdles and piled up 12 points toward the team title against the 10 Carpenter scored for getting two first places.

The Tiger speedster matched the SEC record of 23.1 in the low hurdles. Georgia's Vassa Cate set the mark in 1940.

No records were broken today. Florida's Earl Poucher tried to crack the pole vault mark of 14 feet, 2⅞ inches set by his brother Leroy in 1951. But on his first attempt at 14-3, Earl injured an ankle and although he took his other two tries a little later, he was unable to clear the bar. He won his fourth straight SEC crown, however, with a 13-6 vault.

440 relay—1, LSU (May, Westerman, Mack and Carpenter). 2, Auburn. 3, Vanderbilt. 4, Miss. State. 5, Alabama. 43.

Basilio, Robinson May Fight This Fall

Robinson last night retained his middleweight crown by knocking out Carl (Bobo) Olson in the fourth round of their scheduled 15-round match in Los Angeles.

"I want to get my weiterweight title back, then I'd like to fight Robinson," Basilio said.

Big Eight League Schedules Ruston Meeting Monday

RUSTON, La., May 19 (Special)—The managers of the Big Eight League will meet Monday night here to formulate plans for the opening of their eleventh season June 2 when Bastrop will play host to Springhill, Ruston will journey to Minden, and Homer will open up at Bernice.

Several new rules have been adopted by the Big Eight this year for the purpose of promoting the playing of local players and encouraging the teams to play high school boys. This year the teams will be limited to a 12-man roster, only one major college player and six out of town players. High school players are not included in the 12 player roster.

Umpiring has been very good in the Big Eight. Three of last year's umpires will be back, Troy Sharpe, Ray Spicer and John Metro. Three more will be selected from Duncan, Francis, Cole, Wimberly, Smith, Mott and Hollis.

Some of the teams will play exhibition games next week in preparation for the opening games June 2. Manager Billy Henderson of the Ruston Ramblers has his team roster almost completed with Eddie Joyce, Dickie Hinton, a shortstop from S.M.U., and Jess Moore in the infield. Melvin Colvin, Tech's All-Gulf States left fielder, Manager Billy Henderson and Sam Cox will play in the outfield. George Moore of S.M.U., Jess Mercer, Jerry Lovette and Mangham High School's star J. W. Mercer will pitch for the Ramblers. Centenary's Ira Simpson will do the catching. Manager Henderson has several promising high school players on the Rambler roster. Bernice will have access to the Farmervill players as well as most of their stars of last year. Minden plans on using Jackie Moreland, Minden High's star basketball player, on first base.

Bastrop and Springhill, the two industrial teams will have three outstanding football players on their rosters in John Crowe, Red Brodnax and Ronnie Johnston. Bastrop will have several Loyola players, and two outstanding high school players in the Loftin twins. Manager McDonald of Homer has a nucleaus in seasoned ball players like James Pace, Roberts and Al Doggett. In spite of the limited player limit the Big Eight will be a little faster than in previous years.

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 19 (AP)—Northwestern State won its fourth straight Gulf States Conference track championship tonight, coming from behind in the final three events to nip Louisiana Tech by 16 points.

Northwestern piled up 95 points, Tech 79, host McNeese State 57 5-6 Southwestern Louisiana Institute 50, Northeast State 9½, Southeastern Louisiana College 6 1-3 and Louisiana College 2 1-3.

Northwestern, which had relied heavily on taking lower places to stay in the running, pulled ahead in the 880-yard run when Charles Hennigan finished first and teammate Harold Smith second.

The champions grabbed a tie for first in the high jump as Ted Duggan cleared 6-6¼ and placed third on White's 6-2 jump.

A record mile relay time of 3:18.2 by Northwestern's Jack Rogers, Sylvester James, Smith and Hennigan iced the fourth straight titles.

Camden Purse Gives Top Money Title To Nashua

CAMDEN, N. J., May 19—UP—Nashua became the greatest money winner in turf history Saturday when he won the $30,000 added Camden Handicap at Garden State Park.

His triumph earned him $22,750 and brought the four-year-old bay thoroughbred's total money-winnings to $1,100,365. That is $14,604 more than the great Citation, horse racing's only other millionaire, won in four years of competition.

With his favorite jockey, Eddie Arcaro, in the saddle, Nashua took the lead at the start of the mile and one-eighth race and stayed in front all the way. Fisherman finished second with Mielleux third.

A crowd of 38,178 roared as Nashua went under the wire two lengths ahead of Fisherman to take over the first spot in total earnings. There was little doubt from the start that the 2-5 favorite would win, but Mielleux stayed right with Nashua until the head of the stretch.

Then Fisherman, who was trailing in the early going, made his bid, but there was no catching Nashua.

Nashua was timed in 1:49 1-5 and paid $2.80 to win and $2.40 to place. There was no show betting with only five horses in the field. Fisherman paid $2.80 to place.

Galdar finished fourth and Mrs. First last.

Herb Score Fans 15 Nats As Tribe Trips Solons, 5-1

CLEVELAND, May 19 (AP)—Herb Score struck out 15 Washington Nationals today in pitching the Cleveland Indians to a 5-1 victory. He had a one-hitter until Roy Sievers led off the ninth inning with a smash over the left field fence.

The Indians got only two hits off four Washington hurlers, but cashed in on 11 bases on balls and two hit batsmen.

Tulane-Texas Game Date Finally Booked

AUSTIN, May 19—UP—The Texas - Tulane football game at New Orleans, La., has finally been scheduled for the afternoon of Sept. 29, it was announced Saturday.

Athletic director Dana X. Bible announced the definite date. The contest originally was booked for the afternoon, then tentatively changed to the night of Sept. 28, and finally carded for Sept. 29 when Tulane officials expressed doubt a new lighting system would be installed in time.

The Milwaukee Braves will play 11 exhibition games in Bradenton, Fla., next spring. It's their home base again.

Braves Nip Giants, 3-2, On Burdette's 4-Hitter

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—Righthander Lew Burdette muffled the Giants' power with a nifty four-hitter and Del Crandall smashed two solo home runs today to pace Milwaukee's league-leading Braves to a 3-2 victory over the slipping New York Giants.

The Rangy, 29-year old Burdette had a two-hit shutout going into the last inning when he weakened. Alvin Dark's leadoff single and Willie Mays' triple with one out produced the first run. Hank Thompson scored Mays on a ground out to first but Burdette then closed out the suddenly tense contest by getting Spencer on a fly to Hank Aaron in right.

Turley Cops 1st Victory Of Year As Morgan Helps

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP)—The New York Yankees rolled to their fifth triumph over the Chicago White Sox with a 6-4 decision today.

Bullet Bob Turley, who had a 7-1 record at this time last year, gained his initial triumph of the season against two losses but needed help from reliefer Tom Morgan who put down Chicago's final threat in the seventh inning.

Turley was sailing along with a 6-2 lead and had 10 strikeouts to his credit when the Sox nicked him for four straight hits and two runs in the seventh, bringing on Morgan.

With two runs in, two on and only one out, Morgan retired the next two batters. He was nicked for a single in the eighth and a two out double in the ninth.

The Yankees greeted veteran southpaw Howie Pollet, making his initial start as an American Hank Bauer and Bill Martin, a ground out and a wild pitch gave the league leaders a run in the first.

Pollet got by in the second but the Yanks knocked him out of the box in the third when they broke loose with four runs.

Little League Needs Minor Loop Sponsor

Jack Hesketh, Recreation Director of Monroe and Secretary of Little League, said yesterday that there is still a shortage of one sponsor for the Minor League of the youth loop. The Minor League is set up to make it possible for those youngsters who didn't qualify for the major league to participate in the activities.

There was a shortage last week of several managers and sponsors for the clubs in the minor organization but most of the vacancies were filled in the last few days. Hesketh stated, however, that this remaining sponsor was urgently needed.

The Capitol Handicap, run annually as Laurel's opening day feature, was first held in 1919 when Billy Kelly was the victor.

Coast Loop Slaps Heavy Penalty, Fine On Uclans

VICTORIA, B. C., May 19—UP—The Pacific Coast Conference Saturday slapped a three - year probation on UCLA and "fined" the Bruins the equivalent of $93,000 for violating conference rules in giving financial aid to athletes.

The ruling barred the defending Coast Conference football champions from the next three Rose Bowl games and placed the school on probation until July 1, 1959, and thereafter until such time as the PCC may terminate the probationary status after satisfactory evidence and assurances are supplied by the school that the athletic situation has been cleaned up.

Saturday's action put UCLA even deeper in the doghouse than the University of Washington, which was found guilty earlier this month of almost an identical offense. Washington was placed on two years probation and fined the equivalent of $52,000.

UCLA was fined $15,000 outright because it chancellor, Raymond B. Allen, denied Conference Commissioner Victor Schmidt the opportunity to conduct an investigation of financial aid given to athletes at the Los Angeles school. In addition, UCLA will not be permitted to share in receipts from the Rose Bowl game.

Other penalties levied against UCLA included:

1. UCLA shall not be permitted to participate in any other post-season athletic event or divisional or conference championship event.

2. The school will not be eligible for listing or consideration as divisional or conference champion in any sport, regardless of what its actual record in competition against other schools may be.

3. UCLA will be ineligible to participate in any NCAA sponsored event after Aug. 1, 1956. However the UCLA track team would be eligible for this season's NCAA track meets.

4. During the probationary period, UCLA is barred from participation in any televised sporting event, except the 1956 football game with Southern California, which already is contracted for.

5. The school was directed to stop all contact between prospective athletes and the "Bruin Bench" and "the Young Men's Club of Westwood Village" — the two booster organizations responsible for furnishing illegal financial aid to UCLA althletes.

Cincinnatti Shells Brooklyn Hurlers In 14-Hit Assault

BROOKLYN, May 19 (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs hammered Dodger ace Don Newcombe and his successors for 14 hits, including homers by Joe Frazier, Johnny Temple and Smoky Burgess, to flatten Brooklyn, 10-5 today. The victory sent the Redlegs into third palce ahead of the Dodgers.

Despite their show of power, the Redlegs again had to call on relief artist Hershell Freeman to seal the verdict. The husky right-hander, who stopped the Brooks in the 10th inning last night, doused a blaze in the sixth and kept the Brooks in check the rest of the way.

Sime Ties World 100-Yard Record In Carolina Trials

RALEIGH, N. C., May 19—UP—Dave Sime of Duke tied the world's record for the 100-yard dash with a time of 9.3 seconds Saturday in the trials of the Carolinas AAU track meet, running against a three-mile wind on the North Carolina State College track.

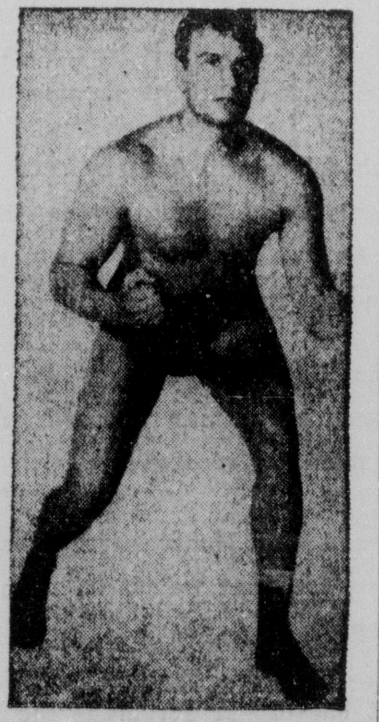
The Duke sophomore from Fairlawn, N. J., being hailed as top U. S. Olympic track prospect, equalled the 9.3 seconds world record first set in 1948 by America's Mel Patton. Sime also holds the world's indoor record for the 100 yard dash at 9.5 seconds and had run the 100 outdoors in 9.4 six times previously this season.

Eight days ago, Sime set a new world's record of 20.1 seconds in the 220 in the trials of the Atlantic Coast Conference outdoor games.

Curtis, Harmon Relayers Face Steddum, Brummett

"Wild Bill" Steddum, the rampant Texan, comes back to Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, for a tag team main event that includes George Curtis, Johnny Harmon, and Phil Brummett.

Steddum, long absent from Kallio's cards, will be teamed with Brummett, the Louisiana toughie from Alexandria, against the combination of Curtis and Harmon, the latter pair carrying the favoritism of Kallio's customers.



JOHNNY HARMON

The relay scramble will have a time limit of 90 minutes with two falls to win.

A lean Texan with a wide assortment of Villainy, Steddum is well known here and a few years ago was a top-notch rival of the Curtis boys, including big Jack, for ring supremacy in this area.

Two one-fall preliminaries will serve to open the Tuesday night show, and the main event talent will take introductory bows in the brief tune-ups.

Of the active Brooklyn Dodgers, Duke Snider and Gil Hodges have hit the most home runs in one season. Snider hit 42 in 1953 and again in 1955. Hodges hit 42 in 1954.

Wininger 2-Stroke Leader

KANSAS CITY, May 19 (AP) — Although his margin was shaved to two strokes, Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City still is the man the field is chasing in the $22,000 Kansas City open golf tournament.

Wininger was under par for the third straight day with a 70 to make his total 203. That was two strokes better than Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, winner of the St. Louis open.

In third place, one stroke behind Finsterwald, were Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.; Bob Rosburg, San Francisco, and Wally Ulrich, Rochester, Minn., at 206.

Also within catching distance were Ted Kroll, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Stan Leonard, Lechute, Canada, at 207. Jackie Burke, the Masters winner; Arnold Plamer, Latrobe, Pa.; Al Balding, Erindale, Canada, and Doug Ford, PGA champion from Mahopac, N. Y. All had 208.

Top Pros Visit Dallas For Try At Link Purses

DALLAS, May 19 — UP—Practically everybody who is anybody in professional golf will invade Dallas for the next two weeks, lured 100,000 greenbacks listed as prize money for the Dallas Centennial and Texas International Open golf tournaments.

A field rivalling that of a National Open in quality and quantity will whet its appetite for gold starting Thursday in the $30,000 Centennial Open and then stick around for the $70,000 Texas International starting May 31.

Liberal distribution of the prize money — ranging from $6,000 top money to $100 for 40th place in the Centennial and from $14,000 top to $100 for the 61st through 75th places in the International—teams that nearly everybody can pick up a check of some kind.

The entire extravaganza, the brainchild of a group of young Dallas business executives known as Golf International, Inc., is surpassed in the golf world only by George May's All-American and World tournaments at Niles, Ill., where $126,500 is up for grabs.

And, according to young Jim Ling, chairman of Golf International's board, if the inaugural will make May's tourneys take a back seat.

The tournament will be played over Preston Hollow Country Club's tight, 6,045-yard, par 35-35—70 course, with only two par 5 holes and four par 3 holes, which isn't up to National Open championship qualifications as far as yardage is concerned.

But, for the prizes at stake, the pros aren't apt to do much grumbling about the quality of the course — that is, unless, they are floundering far out of the money.

There was hardly a big name missing from the entry list of some 300 Saturday and qualifying rounds will be necessary Monday and Tuesday for more than 200 of them who'll be shooting for the 60 places open after the exempt list is posted.

Good news from State Farm Mutual
"the careful driver insurance company"

New! Low-cost auto insurance plan

Lowest renewal rates available to the general public in Louisiana...
25% lower than the rates charged by most other companies.

Thanks to a recent ruling by Louisiana officials, State Farm Mutual auto insurance is now an even better buy.

NEW LOW RATES:
In recognition of its streamlined, money-saving operating methods, State Farm Mutual is now permitted to sell auto insurance to its present members at 25% less than the rates fixed for most other companies by the State. And this 25% saving is pocketed by members in advance. It is not paid afterwards in the form of a dividend.
For present members, these new rates become effective with their first renewal after May 13, 1956.

NEW MEMBERSHIP FEE:
This is a slightly higher premium paid once only by new members for their first 6 months of insurance. This membership fee helps make low rates possible. It covers sales cost, such as sales commission and other sales costs of putting a new member's name on the books. It's charged once and only once—the first time you take out a coverage.
Present State Farm members are not required to pay membership fees for coverages they now carry.

Fabius Nips Needles In Preakness

Derby King Runs Three-Quarters Of Length Behind

BALTIMORE, May 19 (AP) — Fabius, speedy son of the great Citation, upset the applecart for Kentucky Derby winner Needles and captured the 80th running of the Preakness today in a terrific finish that had the customers all but jumping out of the ancient Pimlico stands.

Maryland's most famous horse race again was the throne room for the famous Calumet Farm. It proved the graveyard for the triple crown hopes of the Florida-bred Needles, who two weeks ago put on his characteristic stretch rush to defeat Fabius in the Derby by three-quarters of a length.

This was the fifth Preakness for the Calumet Farm and the first for that noted Kentucky breeding establishment since Poppa Citation led the way home eight years ago.

Fabius, smartly ridden by Willie (Hartrack) Hartack, 1955 champion jockey, took the lead with about a half-mile to go, and stayed on the front end to the finish of the mile and three-sixteenths classic.

Dave Erb, who had ridden Needles to victory in three other $100,000 added races this year and had beaten Fabius each time, couldn't get the D&H Stables pride and joy into the winner's circle this time.

The margin for the winner was a length and three-quarters, while Needles finished a length ahead of W. E. Britt's No Regrets, third horse in the 9-horse field.

The time on a fast track was 1:58 2-5, betering the time of Citation, who required 2:02 2-5 on a heavy track. Last year Nashua set the track and Preakness record of 1:54 3-5.

For Needles, it was a Preakness disappointment just like that of his Daddy, Ponder, who won the Kentucky Derby from Capot, but finished fifth at Pimlico as Capot won the black-eyed susans for Greentree Stable. Ironically, it was Calumet Farm which owned Ponder.

Fabius, second choice in the bettin, paid $7.00, $2.40 and $2.40, while Needles, who was 3-5 on the tote board, paid the legal minimum of $2.20 to place and the same to show. No Regrets, who won the California Derby and was seventh in the Kentucky version May 5, went off on the board at 60 to 1, and paid $5.60 to show.

Cards On 18-Hit Binge To Blast Phillies, 11-5

PHILADELPHIA, May 19 (AP) — Stan Musial, Wally Moon and Rip Repulski spearheaded an 18-hit St. Louis attack today as the Cardinals trounced the Philadelphia Phillies 11-5 and stayed hot on the heels of the Milwaukee Braves in the National League race.

The Cardinals got off to a fast start with five runs in the first inning and a parade of Philadelphia pitchers was under way. The rally featured Wally Moon's fourth homer of the year with one on and Rip Repulski's fifth with the bases empty.

Murry Dickson started for the Cards and gave way to Lindy McDaniel in the fourth. McDaniel got his third win. He hasn't lost.

Saul Rogovin—the eventual loser—got things underway for the Phils but was replaced by former Card Ben Flowers in the first. Jim Owens took over in the second, Ron Negray in the fifth, Bob Miller in the seventh, and Jack Meyer in the ninth.

Drag Races Set At Selman Field This Afternoon

Drag races and possibly other automobile features will be offered by the "Road Angels" this afternoon at Selman Field.

Stock cars, hot rods, and any other machines owners care to display will be running in the evening's events, beginning at 1 o'clock and continuing until about 5 o'clock.

Such events are now being conducted only every-other-Sunday.

5-MAN TEAM

KAMAPAL, Uganda, May 19 (AP)—Uganda is sending a five-man team to Melbourne for its first participation in the Olympic games.

In addition to being a former major league outfield star, Texas baseball coach Bibb Falk was an outstanding tackle in football.

17 Northwestern Demons Handed Baseball Letters

NATCHITOCHES, La., May 19 (Special)—Seventeen members of Northwestern State's baseball team—owners of second spot in G.S.C. standings—were listed this week by Athletic Director Harry H. Turpin as receiving letters in the diamond sport. The team manager and coach of the Demon "B" squad also received monograms.

Coach Alvin (Cracker) Brown's diamondmen won eight conference games this year, while losing four. McNeese State of Lake Charles finished the season on top, with a record of 9-3. Northwestern's overall record for this spring was 17-5-1.

Lettermen were announced as follows:

Blake Sims, Olla; Don Wilmore, Alexandria; James McNew, Ferriday; Larry Whitt, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Billy Booth, Farmerville; H. A. Butler, Beaumont, Texas; Bob Lewis, Belle Chase; Kemp Gordon, Van Buren, Ark.; Jerry Lavespere, Pineville; Larry Reeves, Monroe; Billy Roy Cook, Flora; Rayburn Cook, Pioneer; M. D. Ray, Haynesville; Harry Fontenot, Beaumont, Texas; Jerry Cloutier, Natchitoches; Spanky McCoy, Shreveport; Jerry Lott, Natchitoches.

Maravich To Report At Clemson June 1

CLEMSON, S.C., May 19 (AP) — Press Maravich was named head basketball coach at Clemson College today. Maravich has been coaching at Aliquippa, Pa., high school since 1954.

He succeeds Banks McFadden, who has resigned after 20 years as cage coach at the Atlantic Coast Conference school to devote his time to assisting in football.

RE: PURCHASING FORUMS

We thought you'd like to know that we've inaugurated a new program at FROSTKRAFT which we feel will give you an opportunity to acquaint us with your goods and services.

Every other Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m., we plan to hold a "purchasing forum" at our West Monroe offices. Suppliers in the Monroe area will be invited to meet with us at these forums, which will be attended also by members of our operations-management staff. If you are interested in attending one of these forums because you believe your product or service will benefit this company, please contact our purchasing agent, Ken Holt, Phone 3-8886. He will be happy to schedule you in the program.

If you come to offer constructive suggestions, you will be welcome.

If your proposal has merit, we want to see it, hear it, understand it . . . as we want to learn. Not always can we buy—but we can always listen. An Open Door and an Open Mind assure you an attentive hearing.

If we are unable to schedule you in an early forum, please be patient . . . another good salesman may be telling us something worthwhile. Your turn will come soon. And we'll try not to waste your time—just as we know you'll be fair and not waste ours.

We, too, have salesmen—and we want them well received. We know the disappointments, successes, heartaches and satisfactions of the conscientious man who sells. So you will be received with the same thoughtful consideration we hope our men may receive.

We believe in buying from Monroe and West Monroe firms whenever practicable. By doing so, and by encouraging our employees to do so, we feel that we can do our part toward maintaining the current upward trend of the Twin Cities' economy.

We look forward to seeing you at one of our forums in the near future.

Simsboro's Bell Takes Northeast Scholarship

SIMSBORO, La., May 19 (Special) — A promising Simsboro High athletic star will enroll next September at Northeast Louisiana State College in Monroe, according to a joint statement made here today by Coach Ted Gullatt of Simsboro and Arnold Kilpatrick, Northeast State's athletic director and head basketball chief.

Bobby Joe Bell, stellar three-sport letterman, has accepted an athletic scholarship offered to him by the Monroe college and plans to study geology when the fall semester is opened.

The six-foot-two, 170-pound athlete recently completed his colorful career in a Tiger uniform and a fitting climax came this week when he was selected to receive the school's "most valuable player" award.

During his three-year tenure under Gullatt he earned three basketball monograms, one in baseball and one in track. In both his junior and senior years he was a co-captain of the hardwood quintet.

Bell was a major factor in helping his cage partners construct an impressive three-year production of 139 victories in 168 games. This era included two championship teams in the North Louisiana Class B Rally, and the district 2-B titleholder this past season. The '56 club was later eliminated in a regional playoff match.

The 18-year-old center was chosen on many all-tournament lineups and he was also awarded a second team berth on the 1956 Class B All-State squad.

During the past 47-game schedule, Bell threaded the nets for 903 points to sport a healthy 19.2 average. His rebounding average was 14 per outing. Bell's field goal percentage was a remarkable .450, and he connected on 77 per cent of all free throw attempts.

In three basketball seasons Bell accounted for a total of 2,586 points and a career average of 15.4. His career totals include:

Season	Gms.	Pts.	Avg.	Reb. Avg.
1953-54	61	702	11.5	9
1954-55	60	981	16.4	11
1955-56	47	903	19.2	14

Competing against Coushatta High in the Gibsland Tournament last season, Bell enjoyed his best offensive showing—a 38-pount spree

While opposing Minden and the fabulous Jackie Moreland during the annual Minden Tournament, he displayed his all-around cage talents by pumping in 35 points.

On the baseball layout he performed as an outfielder and posted a .300 batting figure. As a versatile trackman, he competed in both the 440-yard and 880-yard relays, also the broad jump and hop-step-jump events.

Bell maintained a B-plus academic average throughout high school and ranks fifth in the '56 graduating class.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bell of Simsboro, and has two brothers, Rex and Danny, and one sister, Nelwyn.

Guettler Heads Texas Loop RBI, Slugging Scores

Shreveport's Ken Guettler and Fort Worth's Jim Gentile aren't among the top five hitters—averagewise—in the Texas League, but their slugging percentages and run production output aren't even close to being menaced.

The bespectacled Guettler has a fabulous .833 slugging average with 90 total bases in 108 trips to the plate and Gentile has a .770 mark with 80 total bases in the same number of trips.

Guettler, who is averaging better than one homer every other game, led the league in home runs with 16 through Wednesday night's games with Gentile his only close rival with 12; led in RBI's with 38 to 35 for Gentile and in runs with 35.

The top hitter, accordin to league averages, was Marv Williams of Tulsa, who slipped 80 points to .420 but still led Ev Joyner of Shreveport by 27 points. Joyner at .393 was well ahead of Houston's Pidge Browne at .361 and San Antonio's LaVern Grace at .360.

Joyner was tops in doubles with 10 and shared the lead in hits at 48 with Matt Sczesny of Oklahoma City.

Hisel Patrick of Dallas at 5-0 and Carl Schieb of San Antonio at 4-0 topped the pitching averages, while Dale Matthewson of Tulsa also had won five games, but had lost one.

Pony League Shaved Down To Six Clubs

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 19 (AP) — The class D Pony League, long one of the strongest lower minor leagues in organized baseball, was cut formally today from eight to six teams.

League directors promptly went to work on a new schedule.

Reorganize Port Arthur Club As O'Connor Quits

PORT ARTHUR, Tex, May 19 — UP—A chamber of commerce baseball committee took over operation of the Port Arthur Big State League club Saturday in a sweeping reorganization that also affected the Chieftains' Evangeline League farm club at New Iberia, La.

The committee was forced to take over the local club when owner Jack O'Connor suffered a heart attack three weeks ago and his doctors at Daytona Beach, Fla. ordered him to give up baseball.

The committee fired Manager Lloyd Gearheart and brought in Al Barillari as general manager and field manager from New Iberia, where he had held the same position.

Barillari, in turn, brought six New Iberia players with him and notified the Evangeline League he was turning the New Iberia franchise back to the league.

When O'Connor was stricken and left for his Florida Home he had an indebtedness of $6,000 and not enough money in the bank to meet the club's payroll. The committee stepped in and met the payroll Saturday with League President Hal Sayles here in an advisory capacity.

Eventually, the committee hopes to place operation of the club in the hands of a local stock company, but for the time being has taken over the reins informally and designated Carl Carter and E. L. Lofton, local business men, to sign the club's checks. Carter formerly was general manager of the club.

O'Connor bought the franchise from R. J. Stroud last year and still owes Stroud $3,500, but Stroud informed the committee that he would be glad to work out a new payment plan for the balance.

The Port Arthur club has a working agreement with the Cleveland Indians.

The players Bariliari transferred here from New Iberia were catcher Vic Comolli, the league's leading hitter with a .396 average; first baseman Glenn Rediger, hitting .327; third baseman Jimmy Hoelscher, hitting .206; outfielder Joe Dasher, hitting .262, and pitchers Clarence Clark (4-2) and Bill Torres (2-0).

Willie Mays leads the active New York Giants in the single season records. He hit 51 homers last year, drove home 127 runs and stole 24 bases. In 1954 he batted .345 to lead the Giants and the National League.

Pittsburgh Steelers Sign Three New Pros

PITTSBURGH, May 19 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League signed three new players today — Don Fritz, defensive back, Jerry Jacobs, a guard and Joe Pascarella, a tackle.

Fritz originally signed with the Steelers in 1954 but was called into Army service before playing. He was graduated from the University of Cincinnati and lives at Lorain, Ohio.

Pascarella, a resident of University Park, Pa., attended Penn State University, and Jacobs, a resident of South Bend, Ind., attended Florida State University.

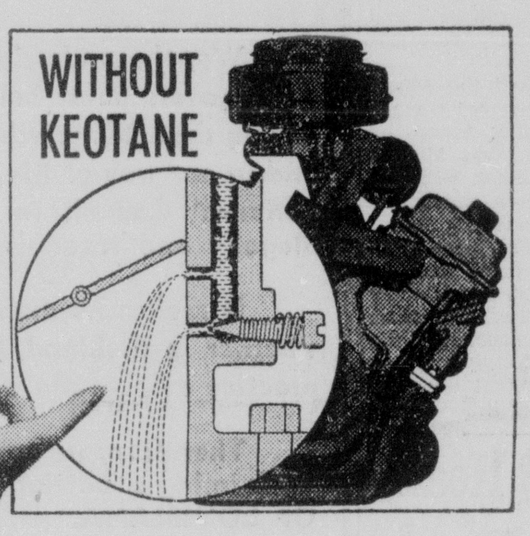
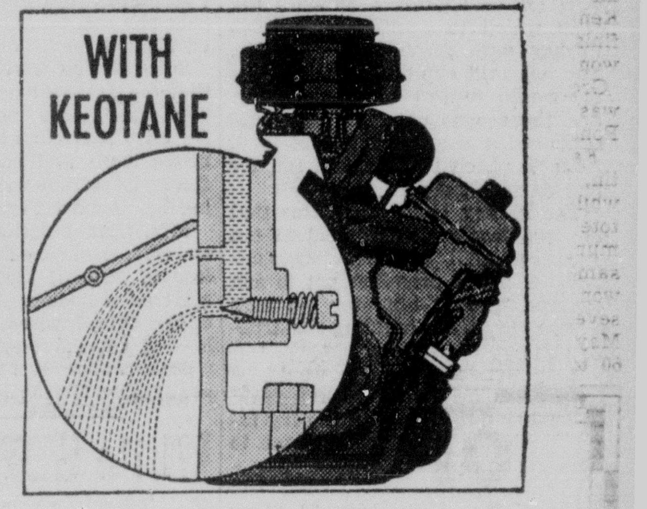
Read How New Keotane* Formula In Skelly Supreme Gasoline Gives You

6.1¢ Extra Value Per Gallon At No Extra Cost Per Gallon

SKELLY
SKELLY SUPREME ★★★★

HERE'S THE FIRST SIGN YOU'LL NOTICE THAT NEW KEOTANE* FORMULA IN SKELLY SUPREME GASOLINE IS DISSOLVING GLUE-LIKE GUM TO BOOST YOUR POWER AND MILEAGE:





6.1¢ makes other premium gasoline expensive to use;
6.1¢ makes any regular gasoline expensive to use;
6.1¢ makes any "cut-rate" gasoline expensive to use:

Now Skelly Supreme Gasoline does for your engine what no other gasoline can do. As other gasolines burn, they build up power-stealing carbon and lead deposits in your engine. And the more you drive, the more these deposits increase and the more troublesome they become.

But Skelly Supreme Gasoline now reduces carbon and lead deposits left by other gasolines. And the more you drive, the more your engine benefits from Skelly Supreme.

The Secret Is Keotane

Keotane is a type of gum-removing formula petroleum engineers have sought for years. The action of Keotane is so different from any previously known gasoline formulation that Skelly has filed patent application for its use.

Gum Is Like A Glue

Gum is the "glue" that holds carbon and lead in combustion chambers. Others have attempted to neutralize the effects of carbon and lead deposits, but Skelly actually reduces them with Keotane, by dissolving the glue-like gum that holds these deposits. And without gum to stick to, carbon and lead go out the exhaust.

Tests Prove Keotane Benefits:

In actual dynamometer tests, engines run on Skelly Supreme Gasoline with Keotane were compared against engines run on the same fuel without Keotane. Based on Southwest Research Institute data, engines that used Skelly Supreme with Keotane averaged:

12.7% gain in mileage.
14.6% more h. p. output.

These and other benefits of new Keotane formula add up to over 6c extra value per gallon.

So next time you need gasoline, drive into your nearby Skelly station. Ask for illustrated folder on Keotane. Tell your friendly Skellyman to "fill 'er up" with Skelly Supreme with Keotane — the premium gasoline that makes all other gasolines expensive to use!

Estimated Extra Value Per Gallon To You, Of Skelly Supreme Gasoline With Keotane:

(Based on average current premium gasoline prices in the Midwest)

12.7% average gain in mileage	3.8c
3 octane points extra performance effect . . .	1.0c
14.6% more horsepower output (h.p. saved or added)	.8c
Less gum and cleaner carburetors, faster starts with fewer sputters, longer life for batteries	.5c
Estimated extra value per gallon to you . .	6.1c

The extra values shown above are conservative estimates by our engineers. These extra values are not figured against inferior premium gasolines or regular grade gasolines, but against Skelly Supreme Gasoline, the best top-octane premium gasoline previously made.

Only Skelly Supreme Gasoline Has New Keotane*

Now Skelly Supreme POWER PAIR IS EVEN MORE POWERFUL!

In all tests, only Skelly Supreme Motor Oil was used. Team up Skelly Supreme Motor Oil and Skelly Supreme Gasoline with Keotane formula. This famous Power Pair is guaranteed to give you more power—and more miles—per dollar than any other combination of premium gasoline and motor oil.

Physician Reports Cases Of Serious Injury, Death From Water Fluoridation

SANTA BARBARA, May 19 (AP)—A Santa Barbara physician says. "Cases of serious illness and even death resulting from the consumption of water fluoridated at the recommended concentration are now being reported."

"Allergic individuals, as might be expected, seem particularly susceptible," Dr. Granville, F. Knight added in a statement read yesterday before the 20th annual convention of the American Academy of Nutrition.

"Certain interests are strongly advocating the addition of sodium fluoride, in a dilution of one part per million, to domestic water supplies," he said. "This campaign is based on the questionable premise that the result will be less tooth decay in children without harm to consumers.

"In my opinion . . . such fluoridation is not only illogical but is an invasion of personal rights and is fraught with grave danger to the health of the whole population. Let me enumerate some objections:

"It is mass medication without precedent.

"Sodium fluoride is a very toxic chemical acting as an enzyme poison, direct irritant and calcium inactivator . . . It reacts with growing tooth enamel and with bones to produce irreversible damage. It may injure the nervous system, kidneys and other tissues of susceptible individuals.

"The therapeutic dose . . . is equivalent to the toxic dose . . .

"Uniform dosage of any drug dissolved in the water supply is obviously impossible. Some individuals may drink 10 times as much as others. Thirst has many variables.

". . . How much more logical it would be for those wishing to use fluorides to add a known daily dose of sodium fluoride to milk or water by means of a tablet or drops—on the prescription of a physician or dentist — and how much cheaper . . . Statistics cited to prove a marked reduction in dental cavities in those children consuming artifically fluoridated water are both contradictory and unconvicing."

How to raise money in painless means for the erection of new needed library buildings for Monroe and West Monroe seems to have been mapped out by the board of control of the Ouachita parish public library.

On July 31, an election has been determined when property owning voters can have opportunity to vote for or against a one-mill tax with which to operate the parish library with its branch libraries. The one mill capital improvements tax would be an entirely new levy, and the secone one-mill tax would replace the present half mill levy. Both proposed taxes would run for ten years if adopted.

The library board estimates that the two levies should yield in ten years a total of about 2,000,000 and the board promises not to ask renewal at that time for the levy for the purpose of building construction.

It appears that no one would be hurt much by this slight tax raise and the improvement in library facilities would be a great asset to all Ouachita parish.

West Monroe on May 28 plans to graduate a class of 210 students from the West Monroe High school. It had never believed this would be possible in three short years since the building was erected. It is due chiefly to the fact that West Monroe is up and coming. Backed by a giant mill, the Olin Mathieson of Frost Industries, has brought and will continue to bring to West Monroe, a large number of new citizens.

A new location has been made for a test for oil or gas in the neighborhood of the new Cadeville oil field, Emory Adams and E. R. Whitaker are the men financing the test in Section 36-17 N-1 East in Ouachita parish.

This test is located approximately one and a half miles south of the Golson well No. 1, which was the first producer in this area.

The new test is the Wood No. 1, being located on property of the estate of S. M. Wood.

The test is to be drilled to the Cotton Valley sand.

Two Injured In Accident On Highway

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gentry, of 1401 So. 8th St., Monroe, were admitted to St. Francis Hospital at approximately 5:30 Saturday evening with injuries received in an accident which occurred 1 4-10 miles south of Monroe on the Winnsboro Road according to State Police. They were both suffering from painful but not serious wounds according to doctors. Mrs. Gentry was placed in an oxygen tent, and both she and Mr. Gentry were given blood transfusions.

State Police verified the report that the accident occurred when a car which was being towed by Beverly Roberts of West Monroe broke loose and collided with the Gentry's station wagon which was headed toward Ferriday.

Mrs. Gentry suffered three broken ribs, a broken arm, and the loss of several teeth. Mr. Gentry suffered a broken jaw, lacerations on the chin, bruises, shock, and the loss of several teeth.

State Police last night were investigating the accident.

White GOP Head In Mississippi Predicts Victory

Spencer's group won a foot-race with the recognized Black and Tan Grand Old Party when state law was changed in 1948 and became the official Mississippi Republican Party.

But the national convention has yet to recognize any Mississippi group other than the Black and Tans, led by Negro attorney Perry Howard of Washington, D. C. The Black and Tans have been seated at the national conventions for the last 32 years.

The U. S. Supreme Court upheld the State Supreme Court decision that the white group had replaced the Black and Tans as the official Mississippi Republican Party.

"Armed with every legal right," Spencer said, "we believe the credentials committee will recognize us."

Wirt Yerger Jr., Republican state chairman, said recent talks with other party members in Washington convinced him "everyone we talked to up there wants to get rid of Howard."

Spencer said the Mississippi delegation to the national convention would include no Negroes.

S. W. Miller, state chairman of the hopeful Black and Tans, said his delegation would include about 15 whites.

'Blackouts' Due To Replacement Of Transformers

Monroe city "power failures" affected four areas Saturday afternoon, it was reported by a member of the electrical department, Jimmy Whetstone.

Areas affected were around the 5700 block of DeSiard, briefly at 1:35 p.m. and again at 3:05 p.m.; 215 Hudson Lane at 6:45 p.m.; and 1700 blocks of Milton and Spencer streets.

Whetstone said that fuses blew on the transformers due to increased electrical loads in the vicinities. He said that fuses replaced in all but the DeSiard street transformer apparently remedied the trouble. The DeSiard street transformer was replaced with a larger one when it failed the second time, Whetstone said.

No property damages were reported as a result of the "blackouts."

pled. The thief produced a pistol and shot Haydu through the heart.

Again the thief fled, ducing into Higbee's department store on Public Square, in the most crowded and central district of the city.

Begin, brother of Auxiliary Bishop Floyd L. Begin of the Cleveland Catholic diocese, gave chase. The killer ran down a stairway, through a tunnel into the adjacent union terminal. Entering the terminal, he wheeled and fired a second shot.

The shot was mortal to Begin, who was pronounced dead at a hospital.

The gunman fled the terminal and entered the May Co., another downtown department store. He fled that building immediately.

Meanwhile, all available officers and cruisers were pouring into the square, crowded with terrified Saturday shoppers.

One half mile from the store, the police radio net said the man was "cornered." Seconds later the net said the gunman was "en route to the morgue."

Report Russians Delivering Huge Planes To Egypt

WASHINGTON, May 19—UP—President Eisenhower has warned that the Treasury's anticipated $1.8 billion budget surplus is too small to justify a tax cut now, informed administration sources said Saturday.

The President, according to these informants, feels the present fiscal year surplus would have to be substantially larger—at least $1 billion more — to make a personal income tax cut a serious possibility.

These sources said Mr. Eisenhower plans to pass the word to his congressional leaders that he will not support a cut. He will have a chance to do so at his regular Tuesday conference with congressional leaders.

The Treasury estimated Thursday that greater than estimated federal receipts will more than offset increased spending and put the government $1.8 billion in the black at the fiscal year's end, June 30. That would be $1. billion more than estimated last January.

Negro Man Found In Ditch Injured

Edward B. Robinson, Negro, 47, of 347 Atkinson Street, was found lying in the ditch in front of 181 Atkinson about 9:40 o'clock last night.

Robinson had gone to Henderson's Market at the intersection of Winnsboro Road and Atkinson Street and had been gone so long that his family went looking for him.

He was taken to the E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital in the Mulhearn ambulance. At the hospital, it was found that he had a cut on his left cheek and ear, police said.

Commending the Right — Opposing the Wrong

We, the undersigned citizens of Rayville and vicinity, believing in good government; believing that the right of suffrage is a sacred right; believing that this privilege should be held inviolate; believing in segregation and in our way of life, hardly commend the actions of the Ouachita Parish Citizens' Council in the efforts to purge the registration rolls of those illegally and fraudulently registered.

It makes no difference where fraudulent registration may be found, whether in Richland, Orleans, Ouachita or any other parish, such illegal practice affects the whole State of Louisiana.

Therefore, we consider that the Ouachita Parish Citizens' Council is performing a patriotic and loyal public service to ALL OF THE PEOPLE OF LOUISIANA.

To those wonderful people of Monroe and Ouachita Parish who are giving aid and assistance in this effort and to the Ouachita Parish Citizens' Council we wish to assure you that you have the support, not only of the undersigned citizens of Rayville, but in our opinion all of the loyal men and women of Louisiana.

To those who oppose in this matter, whether done in good faith, whether done for political purposes or through ignorance, you are AIDING AND ASSISTING an organization whose efforts to divide our people and destroy our way of life, is most gratifying to Moscow.

To those who place politics above principle, consider more carefully the effect of your actions on future generations, and if after more sober thought, you still feel you should continue in your present course, then may we suggest, that in order that every man's stand on this issue be known, you publicly join the party you are serving when you advocate policies that tend to destroy the purity of the ballot.

Grand Jurymen Indict Waitress For Sixth Murder

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 19 (AP)—A 49-year-old waitress who admitted killing her mother, three small daughters and two husbands with ant poison was indicted yesterday on the last of six murder charges.

Plump, auburn - haired Mrs. Rhonda Belle Martin already was under indictment on three first-degree murder counts when the Montgomery County grand jury added three more this afternoon.

She also is charged with trying to murder her fifth and present husband, who is the son of one of the other husbands Mrs. Martin has admitted poisoning. The surviving victim, Ronald C. Martin, 28, is paralyzed from effects of arsenic.

The 170-pound waitress faces trial the week of June 4 with death in the electric chair as the maximum penalty. Only one other white woman has been put to death by electrocution in Alabama.

Mrs. Martin was indicted today for the slayings of Claude Martin, her fourth husband and father of Ronald Martin; George Garrett, her second husband, and Carolyn Garrett, 6-year-old daughter by Garrett. Martin died in 1951, Garrett in 1939 and Carolyn in 1940.

The defendant, who wears horn-rimmed glasses, was indicted in Mobile last month for the deaths of her mother, Mrs. Mary Frances Gibbon who died in 1944, and two other daughters, 3-year-old Emogene Garrett and 11-year-old Ellyn Elizabeth Garrett. Emogene died in 1937, the other child six years later.

Actually, four murder indictments were returned here but one was a duplication of the charge in Mobile in the death of Ellyn Elizabeth. Circuit Solicitor William F. Thetford said the child was poisoned here and died in Mobile.

FREDRICK ST.

YOU'LL FIND it hard to believe, but here's a "charmer-of-a" 2 bedroom home on the Northside of Monroe on a 75' corner lot that only $200 down on G. I. financing buys! It has: asbestos siding; spacious kitchen with natural wood cabinets and washer plumbing; new water tank and other features that we'll gladly show today.

CIRCLE DRIVE

It's splendid value and . . . only $150 down on a G. I. loan turns the key! Among its 896 sq. feet are: (2) spacious bedrooms; nice size living room and separate dining room, oak floors, carport and 61'x198' lot. It's priced at $7500.

HINKLE DRIVE

THREE BEDROOMS for only $10,150! Yep, and that ain't all, for this immaculate home also possesses: attic fan and wall furnaces, copper plumbing, excellent cabinet space, a relaxing 10'x14' screened porch, double carport, fenced backyard and . . . it's just a "stone's throw" to the W. Monroe High School.

SOUTH 6TH

LOOKING for a reasonably priced home that can be purchased on an assumption loan! Well . . . here's the place! It has: a 20'x12' living room; 2 bedrooms; walk-in closet in hall; it's only 3 years old and $1053 cash is all it takes!
garage. We'll gladly show today!

HICKS ST.
WEST MONROE

HERE'S 1.2 tree-covered acres with one of the nicest 1½ year old homes you've ever laid eyes on! It consists of: (2) 13'x14' bedrooms (both with sliding door closets); a spacious 14'x23' living room; a stunning 10'x17' pine-paneled kitchen; and 8'x12' screened porch, carport, central heating, fenced yard, and loads of other features! Like to look today!

GRAMMONT

IT ALL begins with a 200' corner lot and ends with the following home: 1100 sq. feet; 2 large bedrooms; roomy living room and separate dining room; nicely arranged kitchen. It has asbestos siding, screened back porch, attic fan, and garage. It's just been completely redecorated. $1250 down on FHA buys it!

1513 NORTH 6TH
(W. MONROE)

ONLY $850. down on FHA buys all the following exciting features of this charmer; 2 nice size bedrooms, carport and storage; copper plumbing; attic fan and wall furnaces; has a 75' lot (with several nice trees) and, it's just a couple blocks to W. Monroe High and Millsaps Grammar School.

EMERSON

LOOKING for a brick home in Fairview. Well . . . we've got a swell one with the following features: Two spacious bedrooms . . . and 11'x17' living room with wood burning fireplace . . . separate dining room . . . sparkling oak floors . . . an unusually large 11'x17' kitchen with plenty of cabinet space, washer plumbing and breakfast area; has screened breezeway and attached garage. It's all on a 75'x150' corner lot.

BELMONT DRIVE

STILL gotta' little "country" in you? Well . . . if you enjoy the wide, open spaces, but you still wanta live close to town; here's a "bill filler"! It's a year old brick with: (3) bedrooms and a paneled den; (2) baths; a stunsing kitchen with built-in oven and counter top range; the 13'x17' living room is carpeted; centrally heated; double attached garage, and it's all on a tree-covered acre and a quarter in W. Monroe.

FLORIDA

SURE. IT'S Mothers Day. True, you may not have houses on YOUR mind, but I'll bet Mom does! And, here's one that's sure to please her; it's a 3 year-old youngster with 2 comfortable bedrooms, gleaming oak floors, carport, has floor furnace, a spotless 10'x14' kitchen AND only $150 down on G. I. loan buys it, or $550 FHA. It's priced at $7550.

BAYOU DESIARD

If you've ever longed for a bayou location, you should take a few minutes this afternoon and let us show this unusually fine home with it's 180' on Bayou DeSiard. Not only does it possess a breathtaking view of the bayou, but the home itself is lavish! It consists of 1800 sq. feet of brick construction with: three wonderful size bedrooms . . . two complete tile baths . . . wall-to-wall carpeting throughout house . . . a wonderfully proportioned living room and a separate dining room . . . an unrivaled kitchen with an enormous amount of cabinet space, dishwasher and disposal, and "loads" of breakfast area PLUS a separate utility room which opens on to a screened porch overlooking bayou. Call for appointment today!

SOUTH 3RD

BOY! WHATA' home! Two bedrooms (one's 12'x26' and carpeted!) a stunning paneled 21'x16' den; has central heating; asbestos siding; 1366 sq. feet; one "swell" yard; and carport. It's priced at $11,000 and we'll gladly show today.

SOUTH 1ST

$600 DOWN on FHA makes the move into this "neat as a pin" 2 bedroom home with: 2 bedrooms; nice oak floors, 6'7' store room and a host of other features that we'll gladly show today.

GLENWOOD

COLLEGE AREA

WAKE UP! It's time to think and act! Needs 3 roomy bedrooms . . . want to be close to grammar school, shopping center, busline, the college, your work . . . and more—separate dining room, plenty storage and closet space, modern kitchen, floor furnace heat and the extra comfort of insulated walls and ceilings, asbestos siding and new roof? No, it's not new, but it is well kept. (And where —no where—can you find all these attractive features in a new home for only $9,100 with a minimum down payment of either G. I. or FHA.

RIVERBEND, W. M.

BARGAIN? Yes, sir! Here is a home neat as a pin with deep sodded lawn, good shrubbery, and garage, 2 good sized (12'x13') bedrooms, separate dining room, sparkling oak floors. Just 3 blocks to school. Minimum down payment n VA or FHA loans.

VALENCIA

YOUR VERY first glance will show you that here's an immaculate home that has everything. For instance: an inviting 110' lot that's completely covered with St. Augustine; a well-proportioned 13'x19' living room and a separate dining area, both carpeted wall-to-wall; has central heating; copper plumbing; two comfortable size bedrooms (both with huge sliding door closets); a fascinating kitchen with wonderful cabinet space and vent-a-hood; carport with outside storage room (with washer plumbing); and a host of other outstanding features that we'll gladly show today!

SPENCER

YOU CAN bet your "bottom dollar" that there's nothing else like this splendid home on the Northside when it comes to spaciousness and good value! Nope, for among the 2300 sq. feet of living area are the following: 3 huge bedrooms (smallest is 15'x13') PLUS a stunning 15'x24' paneled den, PLUS a well-arranged 23'x14' living room, PLUS a separate 13'x14' dining room, PLUS a 22'x13' kitchen with more cabinet space than you'll ever seen in any home, PLUS a separate breakfast area, PLUS hardwood floors, PLUS two baths, PLUS a 100'x150' lot, PLUS the fact that it's vacant and just barely five years old! It's outstanding value and we'll gladly show today!

ISLAND DRIVE

CONSCIOUSLY, or unconsciously you have probably admired this picturesque pink brick in driving around the Northside of Monroe with it's beautiful well-landscaped yard. Well . . . if you have and if you're in the market for an unusual home . . . read the following features and then call us for an appointment to look at it: it possesses 1500 sq. feet of living area; wall-to-wall carpeting in all rooms but the kitchen; central heating; a glistening ceramic tile bath; 3 roomy bedrooms or two bedrooms and a den (all have huge sliding door closets); PLUS a separate breakfast room, all fully insulated and the lot has a nicely arranged kitchen with excellent cabinet storage space and a pantry. It's one of the nicer homes in it's locale and we'll gladly show you today!

REV. I. B. NOLAND

Rev. I. B. Noland Is Baccalaureate Speaker For N E

The Right Reverend Iverson Bachelor Noland, suffragan bishop of Louisiana, will deliver the baccalaureate address at Northeast State commencement exercises in Brown Auditorium on Sunday, May 27 at 5 p.m.

Reverend John M. Allin, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Monroe, will give the invocation, and Rev. Robert E. Rattelle, vicar of St. Albans and St. Thomas Episcopal churches of this city, will give the recessional.

Services will be followed by a reception at which President and Mrs. Lewis C. Slater will be hosts to the graduating class and their parents on the lawn of the president's home.

Bishop Noland was elected to his present office during the time that he was rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd at Lake Charles. He was placed in charge of the Department of Christian Education, college work, youth activities, laymen's work and the Diocesan Camp and Conference Center.

A native of Baton Rouge, Bishop Noland graduated with a bachelor's degree from Louisiana State University, then attended the School of Theology at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., here received the bachelor from divinity degree, He was ordained deacon in 1939 and priest in 1940.

He served as curate of St. James Church, Baton Rouge, from 1940-41, then as rector of Trinity Church, Natchitoches, and Priest-in-Charge of St. Paul's Church, Winnfield. During World War II he was a chaplain in the U.S. Army. In 1946 he became rector of the Church of the Holy Comforter, Charlotte, N.C., and from there he went to Lake Charles where he served the parish until he was elected suffragan bishop.

Bishop Noland is married to the former Miss Nell Kilgore Burden of Baton Rouge. They have three sons, Iveson Batchelor Jr., John Burden, and Daniel Woodring.

Contractor Raps Coleman's Order Against His Firm

MERIDIAN, Miss., May 19 (AP)—A Meirdian contractor who rejected a contract on the complaint the state defaulted, today charged Gov. J. P. Coleman with "arrogant abuse of power" in ordering state agencies to boycott him.

In addition, Coleman announced plans to ask the attorney general to sue O. B. Anderson, owner of Lauderdale Cold Storage Co., for damages the state "has sustained by reason of his (Anderson's) failure and refusal to carry out a contract fairly made."

Anderson's bid to pay $135 for the privilege of tearing down the condemned building used as a Highway Safety Patrol headquarters in Jackson was eagerly accepted by the State Building Commission.

Other bids asked the state to pay as much as $50,000 for the job.

Anderson wrote Gov. Coleman after he had rejected the contract, saying he had found much of the salvagable material which the contract awarded him "had been removed or damaged and I declined to proceed with the contract which I had not yet entered into.'

Anderson called for an investigation.

Coleman replied that the material had been removed for safe keeping and that Anderson could have it if and when he razed the building.

Auto makers expect America to have 75 million cars and trucks by 1970.

Health Unit To Offer Free X-Ray For Adults Here

According to Dr. W. Carroll Summer, director of the Ouachita Parish Health Unit, latest reports from Washington indicate increased concern over the nation's health program. At a time when mechanical efficiency is definitely on the up-swing, conservation of the nation's most important resource, the individual's health, is not being overlooked.

"Encouraging advances are being made by research into the causes of many of our dread diseases, and federal and state facilities have long been working toward better methods of locating and isolating communicable diseases", stated Dr. Summer.

One of the methods used is the mobile X-ray unit, scheduled to be in Ouachita Parish during the period June 4 through June 29. Furnished by the state, through the Public Health Department, and in cooperation with local Tuberculosis, Heart and Cancer Societies, the mobile unit is sent through the state each year to make available, free of charge, to all the people, a complete Chest X-ray and reading.

"During last year, approximtely 250,000 people throughout the State of Louisiana took advantage of this free health service, and had X-rays made at the mobile unit. As a result, approximately 6,500 tubercular cases were located, and almost 10,000 additional received early warning of other pathology, including cancer and heart conditions," Dr. Summer declares.

Washington, the U. S. Capital, has over 300 conventions a year. 1975.

Shows Family Slates Reunion Next Sunday

Descendents of the Shows family will hold a reunion Sunday, June 10, at the old Hebron Baptist church near Newhebron, Miss. whch is located about 40 miles south of Jackson.

The program, which includes a picnic lunch and an outstanding speaker, starts at 11 a.m.

The reunion will be held for descendents of Adam Shows and his wife, Mary, who settled at Old Hebron about 1830 and lived there until their death.

SWAMI SANTHA TO MEET

The regular Darbar of Swami Santha No. 102 - Nomads of Avrudaka will be held Monday night, at 7:30 o'clock at Castle Hall, 127½ St. John street. Rani Velma Purcell asks all officers and Nomads to attend and wear Fez.

Becomes Bride

Mrs. W. M. Bandy of West Monroe has announced the marriage of her daughter Miss Joan Bandy, to Jack Basham of Springhill.

The couple pledged their vows in Springhill.

Mrs. Russell Kynoch Is Honored At Afternoon Tea

Mrs. Evans Etheridge, Mrs. Joseph Powell and Mrs. Lee Vanderpool, Jr., honored Mrs. Russell Kynoch at a beautiful afternoon tea on Friday in the home of Mrs. Lewis Slater on Chauvin Avenue.

Mrs. Kynoch leaves in late summer for Jacksonville, Fla., where she and the children will join Mr. Kynoch.

Welcoming guests near the entrance were Mrs. John Serrouse, Jr., Mrs. L. Slade Brown, Mrs. Ben Cobb and Mrs. T. P. Godwin who alternated between 3 and 6 o'clock.

The hostesses and honor guest received in the foyer where magnolia leaves and blossoms were banked in profusion.

Floating hostesses in the living room were Mrs. Benton Wakefield, Jr., Mrs. J. A. Perry, Mrs. Lee Edwards and Mrs. Drew Davidson.

Yellow tulips and roses were used in a filigreed silver and crystal bowl on the mantle. An elegant brass and crystal epergne filled with yellow roses was also a focal point in the room.

On the coffee table were yellow roses in a silver box. Serving in the living room and music room were Mrs. John Clay and Mrs. Charles Wilds, Jr.

Alternating at the coffee and tea services in the dining room were Mrs. Lewis Slater, Mrs. C. E. Slade, Mrs. Murray Hudson and Mrs. A. M. Guerriero.

The tea table in the dining room was covered with an imported white organdy cloth appliqued with linen and centered with a silver epergne overflowing with old fashion bouquets of yellow roses. Citron tapers in silver candelabra illuminated the table.

On the buffet was a silver wine cooler containing a mass arrangement of yellow gladioli and roses.

Assisting in the dining room throughout the afternoon were Mrs. Henry Biedenharn, Jr., Mrs. Robert Clay, Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. John Mullins, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Ben Oliphint and Mrs. John Ethridge.

Serving punch in the sun room and on the patio were Mrs. H.K. Touchstone, Jr., Mrs. Fred Fudickar, Mrs. Jamar Adcock and Mrs. R. W. Dickenhorst. Assisting with courtesies in the sun room were Mrs. William Wright, Jr., Mrs. Bishop Johnston, Jr., Mrs. Kent Anderson and Mrs. C. B. Garretson.

An outstanding mass arrangement of day lilies in yellow and bronze hues in a large copper container was the point of interest in the sun room. The table, covered with a pale green linen cloth, was centered with a deeper green crystal punch bowl surrounded by yellow day lilies.

Punch was served on the patio overlooking the spacious gardens from a silver punch bowl on a white wrought-iron glass-top table.

Add chopped raisins and walnuts to part of that 7-minute frosting (homemade or packaged) and use as a filling for layer cake. The rest of the frosting goes over the top and sides of the cake.

Mrs. Calhoun Entertains At Spring Luncheon

Claiming much interest Tuesday was the spring luncheon given by Mrs. Credille Calhoun at her home in Edgewater Gardens.

Artistic oriental arrangements were noted throughout the Calhoun home. Of special interest on the mantle was a picturesque arrangement of lemon and Easter lilies. Centering the coffee table was a pine branch and Easter lily composition.

Those invited were Mrs. Claire Chennault, Mrs. H. R. Hays, Mrs. Herschel Gentry, Mrs. William Iabnet, Mrs. Charles Hays, Mrs. Alfred Brin, Mrs. Joe Brown, Jr., Mrs. Tripp Faulk, Jr., Mrs. J.V. Jones, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Jr., Mrs. O. N. McNeil, Mrs Lorain Armstrong, Mrs. J. C. Anders, Mrs. George Temple, Mrs. A. S. Gunter, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs John Carroll, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Mrs. Morris Phillips and Mrs. T. H. Woods.

Miss Lynn Curran Marries Dr. John Thomas Carlin, Jr.

In a twilight ceremony, claiming widespread social interest, Miss Frances Lynn Curran became the bride of Dr. John Thomas Carlin, Jr., on April 28.

The bride is the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs, Edwin Jerome Curran and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Carlin.

The Government St. Presbyterian Church was the scene of the impressive ceremony which took place at 7 p.m. with Dr. John Chester Frist officiating. The church was beautiful in its arrangements of majestic daisies and white gladioli in classic vases to offset the gold and white sanctuary. Emerald trees were placed at vantage points on the altar, and also framed the floral arrangements. Burning white tapers in branched candelabra cast a soft glow over the setting.

As the guests assembled, Dr. Helen Allinger presented the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Patton as she sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of bridal ivory in pure silk peau de soie. The princess bodice was accented by a sweetheart neckline and tightly fitted sleeves. The decor of the gown was of rose point lace which outlined the neck, the same motif ornamenting the full skirt which was softly pleated in the front and swept to a cathedral train in the back. The bride's full length veil, of Brussels lace, was sprinkled with orange blossoms, and held in place by a coronet of lace and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of small calla lilies, tied with white ribbons.

Preceding the bride to the altar were Miss Anne Mandeville, maid of honor; Misses Harriet Turner, Olivia King, Frances Leatherbury, and Harriet Prout of Birmingham, bridesmaids, and Mrs. Fred Agricola of Gadsden as brides-matron. The attendants wore lovely gowns of pink chantilly lace over taffeta trimmed with matching bias satin bands extending to the hem of their ballerina skirts. The gowns were fashioned with off-the-shoulder necklines and gracefully flaring skirts. Green California daisies complimented their pink gowns and in their hair they wore matching daisies.

The groom was attended by his father as best man with Billie Gravlee, Dr. Fred Agricola of Gadsden, Rudolph Favre, Bobby Guthans and Stroud Curran, brother of the bride, as his other attendants.

A lovely white silk taffeta gown accented by lime green chiffon was worn by the mother of the bride. Her corsage was a white orchid. Mrs. Carlin, attractively attired in a blue lace and chiffon gown, wore a chartreuse orchid.

A reception followed at the Athlestan club. Arrangements of gladioli and majestic daisies offset by emerald trees, flanked the receiving line, with the entire club being decorated with arrangements of the same flowers. The balcony was garlanded with huckleberry foliage.

The beautifully appointed bride's table was covered with an exquisite cloth and centered with the four-tiered wedding cake, embossed with white rosebuds and lilies of the valley and topped with a fresh orchid and stephanotis. White candytuft and stephanotis encircled the base. Silver Candelabra garlanded with shattered carnations and stephanotis, were placed at either side, and small clusters of stephanotis were sprinkled about the table.

Mrs. Scranton Dunlap cut the cake and Miss Faye Carrington registered the guests. Assisting in serving were Miss Catherine Haas, Mrs. Jack Edwards, Mrs. Amiel Brinkley, Jr., Miss Patricia Townsend, Miss Ann Haas, Mrs. Taylor Morrissette, Miss Barbara Ann Taylor, Mrs. George Leatherbury, Jr., and Mrs. James Pritchard.

For traveling the bride changed to a smart beige linen suit with which she wore a natural straw hat and brown accessories. Her corsage was of brown cymbidium orchids. Dr. and Mrs. Carlin will make their home in Fort Bragg, N. C., where he is stationed.

MR. AND MRS. RAYMOND CLARK

Clark-Nelson Vows Pledged

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony, Miss Gwen Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nelson of West Monroe, became the bride of Raymond Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clark of West Monroe. The Reverend W. O. Cary officiated at the double ring ceremony, which was solemnized in the Cheniere Baptist Church on May 3, at 7:30 in the evening.

The altar was decorated with baskets of white stocks and blue majestic daisies with greenery and a background of southern smilax. The baskets were flanked by white candles in wrought iron candelabras White satin bows with floor length streamers marked the family pews

Preceding the ceremony, W. B. Mask, rendered a program of nuptial music. During the musical prelude, Misses Brenda and Jo Ann Gist lighted the candles. Miss Jean Reed of Orange, Texas, was accompanied by Mr. Mask as she sang "Because" and "Always".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor length gown of blue nylon net over taffeta with a fitted bodice and a bouffant tiered skirt This was accented with long fitted nylon net gloves Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls given her by the bridegroom. The bride's veil was waist length, of tulle and was held in place by a tiera of stephanotis and blue forget-me-nots. She carried a bouquet of stephanotic, white pompon chrysanthemums, and forget-me-nots mounted on a white Bible.

Preceding the bride to the altar was Miss Connie Fuller, her only attendant. She was gowned in a floor length dress of pink net over taffeta, and carried an old fashioned nosegay of feathered blue carnations, white pompon chrysanthemums, and pink and blue forget-me-nots She wore a headdress of the same flowers.

Serving the groom as best man was Clarence Price. Ushers were Billy Nelson, brother of the bride, and John H. Clark, cousin of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Nelson chose for her daughter's wedding a street length mauve linen dress accented with covered buttons and seed pearls, and beige accessories. She wore a corsage of feathered pink carnations and forget-me-nots. Mrs. Clark, mother of the bridegroom, wore a two piece suit of pink with black accessories. Her corsage was also of feathered pink carnations and forget-me-nots.

Mrs. Clark is a student of West Monre High School, and a member of the Beta Delta Chi sorority. Mr. Clark is a graduate of West Monroe High School.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was covered with a cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of blue candy-tuft, white pompon chrysanthumums, and white candles. The three tiered wedding cake had an embossed design of pink rose buds, and was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Serving and assisting with the courtesies were Misses Anita Dell Allen, Joy Emerel, and Mary Ann Ferguson. Presiding over the bride's book were Misses Patsy Brown and Gwen Dunn.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Clark left for their wedding trip to Texas. For traveling the bride wore a dusty rose file suit with a white hat and accessories to match. Her corsage was from the bridal bouquet.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gist and family, of Transylvania; Mrs. T. C. Gist, Ruston; Mrs. W. W. Cooper, Dubach; Mr. and Mrs. Clay Roach, Mrs. A. T. Smith, Lillie; Mr. and Mrs. Forest R. Farrar, and son, Mrs. F. T. English, Sterlington.

News From The Public Library

At this season of the year every effort at the library is being devoted to preparations for the vacation Reading Club. Early in the spring we planned the club and ordered all of the supplies. For the past two weeks new children's books have been coming in to the library. There are books of every type to appeal to the interests of each age group. For the very young children we buy hundreds of pre-primers and simple readers. We feel that one of the prime responsibilities of a public library is to provide material which will keep these young readers interested and busy during the summer months. The child who has just learned to read is so happy to find that the library has boks which he can read. We hope that all parents of little children will avail themselves of the opportunities offered by the library this summer.

For older children there are some of the most beautiful books that we have ever had. I often look at them and wish that I had been able to read books like this when I was a child. "The Sword in the Tree" by Clyde Robert Bulla is a lovely story set in the time of King Arthur. Any boy who likes to read about knights and battles will througrly enjoy this book. "East of Astoria" by Merritt Parmelee Allen is a thrilling story of the early days of our company and of the establishment of the Astor company in the far northwest. It is a story of brave and fearless men, who did much to advance the interests of a young nation. "The Fables of India" by Joseph Gaer is a perfectly lovely book of stories selected from the great Indian legends. "Riddles of Many Lands" by Carl Withers and Sula Bennett is just the sort of book that children love. It will provide many happy hours of pleasure for them.

Children of today are very fortunate in the fact that there are numerous biographies written especially for them. Many of these have already made a name for themselves in the adult field. A fascinating new biography is "Balboa, Finder of the Pacific" by Ronald Syme. It tells the thrilling story of this intrepid explorer. It is beautifully illustrated and the print is very fine for young eyes. A series of books which appeals to readers in the fifth and sixth grades is called "The Childhood of Famous Americans." In this series we have four new titles, "Jim Bridger, Mountain Boy", "Tecumseh, Shawnee Boy," "Stephen Decatur" and "Boy Sailor, Matthew Calbraith Perry". These four books tell a great deal about the early life of men who played a great part in the history of our country.

Another popular series of books for children is called "The Landmark Books." These books are interestingly written and tell the story of men and women who have helped to make our country great. These books follow the other series as far as grade level is concerned. Let's take a look at some of the new titles in this series. "Old Ironsides" is the story of the great ship The Constitution. "The Story of San Francisco" by Charlotte Jackson tells the history of this interesting city from 1775 to the present day. "The Mississippi Bubble" by Thomas Costain is the story of the fantastic swindle that turned France upside down, but that had much to do with the settlement of our own state of Louisiana. "Up the Trail from Texas" by J. Frank Dobie is a fascinating account of the great cattle drives. "Commodore Perry and the Opening of Japan" by Ferdinand Kuhn paints a colorful picture of an exciting era in our history.

Two other books in the landmark series are "Kit Carson and the Wild Frontier" by Ralph Moody and "Clara Barton, Founder of the American Red Cross" by Helen Dore Boylston.

Published by the same firm, but with a wider range is another series called "The World Landmark Books." Three new titles in this series are very interesting. They are "The French Foreign Legion" by Wyatt Blassingame. "Th Exploits of Xenophon" by Geoffrey Household and "Marie Antionette" by Bernardine Kielty.

There are also news books written for pure pleasure. "Maxie" by Virgina Kahl is a delightful story of a little dog, written for the picture book age. A very popular group of books deal with the adventures of three boys, Abercrombie, Benjamin and Christopher. Their latest story is called "Three Boys and a Train." This book appeals to children from the ages of 6 to 9. "The Black Tiger" by Patrick O'Conner is a story connected with the racing of sport cars. "Mrs. Wappinger's Secret" by Florenee Hightower tells an interesting story of the adventures of a ten-year-old boy and an eccentric old lady in their search for buried treasure.

These are only a few of the delightful new books that are waiting for the children of Ouachita parish at all of the branches of the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

Abram Morehouse DAR Present New Members At Lovely Afternoon Tea

The new members of Abram Morehouse chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, were presented formally at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club on Wednesday afternoon.

Guests were welcomed at the entrance by Mrs. Duke Shackelford and Mrs. Will Gray. Mrs. J. A. Henderson ushered them into the lounge where the receiving line was formed. Mrs. Conrad McDuffie, regent of Abram Morehouse chapter stood at the head of the line. With her were Mrs. W. E. Hicks, state regent of Louisiana, Mrs. George T. Madison, state organizing secretary, Miss Frances Flanders, state librarian, Mrs. J. B. Shackelford, and the honorees: Mrs. John Shackelford, Mrs. J. B. Rawlinson, Mrs. Neil Mott, Mrs. James Madison, Mrs. Wm. G. Newcomer, Mrs. Vernon White, Mrs. John Norsworthy, Mrs. W. L. Pugh, and Mrs. Turpin Davidson.

Mrs. A. B. Conger and Miss Lucille Huffman invited the guests to the tea table. The artistically wrought centerpiece was a replica of the formal garden at Oakley Plantation, state memoral to John James Audubon. The Louisiana Society D. A. R. are taking a very active part in the restoration of Oakley. Other decorations through out the reception rooms depicted familiar scenes from this old plantation home.

Pouring during the afternoon were Mrs. W. T. Barham, Mrs. W. H. Leavell, Mrs. T. H. B. Rankin, and Mrs. J. A. Davenport. Serving as tea girls were members of Prairie Jefferson C.A.R. and the Lt. Joseph Bowmar Socety: Kay Conger, Virginia Sue Shepard, Marcia Files, Sterling Elizabeth Files, Nancy Files, Linda Files, Karen Williams, Jennie Kate Green, Elizabeth Ann Leavell, Terrell Barham, Dianne Cecille Bryant, Tommy Rhea Green, Jane Williams, Mary Joe Davenport, Lucy Lou Turpin, Mary Ruth Turpin, Evelyn and Dottie Anman.

Music was furnished at the piano by Mrs. J. B. Spier, Mrs. W. H. Leavel and Mrs. A. Y. Sims.

Native Louisiana flowers were used to advantage in decoration. The official emblem, the D.A.R. Wheel, occupied a table to itself. The registration table was presided over by Mrs. B. E. Barham and Mrs. A. H. Davenport.

Garden Ceremony Unites Couple In St. Joseph

Of interest in St. Joseph and Newellton was the garden wedding of Miss Gloria Kay Pope and Mr. Duwane Smith which was solemnized at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening, May 12.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Pope of St. Joseph. Mr. Smith's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith of Newellton.

The Rev. Ray E. Prager performed the double ring ceremony in the Pope's garden against a background of Easter lilies and white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her fatherl the bride was wearing a white swiss embroidered organdy gown fashioned over white taffeta. It featured a low square neckline trimmed in seed pearls and short sleeves. The long torso waistline was accentuated by a bouffant skirt which fell in four tiers. She wore a Juliet cap of seed pearls and lilies of the valley with a fingertip veil of illusion. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley centered with a white purple throated orchid.

Mrs. Cardene Adcock, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was of pink cotton with a low neckline outlined with white lace. She wore a headdress of pink flowers and carried an old fashion nosegay of pink and white daisies.

Mr. Gerard Patrie served the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Pope chose for her daughter's wedding a beige lace with black accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Mrs. Smith, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a navy and white crepe model with matching accessories and a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

A garden reception followed the nuptials.

Centering the bride's table was an arrangement of white Easter lilies, Queen Anne's lace and white larkspur. The tiered wedding cake and punch service were placed at opposite ends of the table.

Upon return, the couple will reside in Alexandria.

The bride is a graduate of Joseph Moore Davidson High School and plans to attend Alexandria Business College.

Mr. Smith graduated from Newellton High School.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Allen of Alexandria, Mrs. Joe Warren and Jerry Clarke, both of Newellton, Gerard Patrie of Rumford, Maine; Frank Finical of Alexandria; Robert Hendricks of Savanah, Ga., Sam Duchesne and Lilliam Teller of Newellton.

Danna-Onebene Vows Pledged In New Orleans

A wedding in New Orleans, of interest here, was that of Miss Frances Onebene, and Angelo Thomas Danna, of this city. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Onebene, of New Orleans, and parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Anna Danna and the late A. Danna, of this city.

Wearing a bouffant gown of white chantilly lace, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The fitted bodice of lace, was fashioned with a scooped neckline outlined in seed pearls and sequins and the long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. The full skirt was of lace ruffles banded together with accordian pleated tulle. Her finger tip veil of illusion was held to her head by a coronet of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis.

Miss Dorothy Hill was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Grace Onebene, sister of the bride, Miss Grace Urrata, a cousin and Miss Helen Basha.

The attendants were gowned alike in frocks of blue nylon chiffon and wore tiaras of matching net flowers in their hair. They carried bouquets of spring flowers, tied with pink satin ribbons.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Felix Danna, of Lake Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Russo, and Mr. Philip Onebene of St. Martinville; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Danna, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Miletello, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Danna, Mr. and Mrs. John Danna, Mrs. Philip Anzelmo, all of Monroe.

Costume Contest On June 15th

Everyone is busy getting ready for the Casual Costume Contest. Lots of interest in this home sewing project. If you haven't gotten the information you want about this contest call 3-2251 for a copy. The contest is to be held June 15th at 9:30 a.m. at the Agricultural Building, West Monroe. The winner will represent Ouachita Parish in State Contest which will be held during Farm and Home Week at L.S.U.

Barbecue Time

The outdoor cooking time is here. This is a grand time to have family reunions and to entertain friends. The glow of the barbecue fire bring cheery thoughts that might be akin to camp fires which dotted the valleys and prairies of America in early days, so, its a mighty cheery thought these days to know somethings cookin' on the barbecue.

One of the specialties for a May barbecue is a tender, meaty broiler. These broilers are coming on the market now and there is going to be a good supply of these plump high-quality young birds. The price is also reasonable. (Another happy thought about outdoor cooking is the "man of the house" and the children will enjoy sharing the work necessary for an outdoor get together.) I'm sure you have your own sauce for this barbecue, but if you'd like another, call 3-2251. With a drink, a relish tray or a chopped salad, and some buttered French bread (use garlic and butter for some of it) and a dessert, you have a grand meal for the occasion. During May and June the food preservation leader of each Home Demonstration Club will give a demonstration in making a frozen lemon pie — low in calories but delicious. Why not visit the club nearest you and see this demonstration. This recipe and many other recipes of dishes which may be prepared and frozen will be available at the club metings.

Care of Colchicums

Now that the foliage of colchicums are dying, several have called to know if they should be dug. Since the Extension Service has not sent out information concerning the care of these bulbs, information was secured from several catalogues of Holland bulb dealers and each of these dealers stated if bulbs were left undisturbed they came up year after year and bloom.

Blooming Plants Needed For Summer Color

It is easy to have a colorful spring garden but more effort and planning is necessary to have color in the hot summer. Blooming shrubs as oleanders, vitex crepe myrtles, gardenias, hibiscus and altheas will help obtain color, but perennials and annuals will also be required.

Some of the hardy annuals and perennials are: Drummond phlox, lantana, vinca, marigolds, scarlet salvia, torenia, globe amaranth, cleome, Four-O' clocks, balsam, sunflowers, zinnias and celosia. The foliage of caladiums and coleus are very colorful in the summer garden. These can be planted now. Too, there are many cannas you may use for summer color.

National Mail Box Improvement Week

May 21 through 26 has been declared rural mail box improvement week. Each rural family is urged to take a look at their mail box. Does it need improving? Is it one you are proud to have bear your name? It is a convenient height (3½ to 4 feet) for your carrier of your mail and how about the approach? Is it easily accessible? Is it leak proof? Does it have a flag? If it needs improvement, these improvements will make it possible for the carrier to render more efficient service and with less wear.

Scoop out tomatoes and bake until tender; fill with hot French-style green beans or whole-kernel corn. Or mix beans and corn and fill the tomatoes with both.

Young Couple Pledge Vows In Dodson Church

DODSON — The Dodson Methodist Church was the setting for the nuptial vows of Miss Hazel Jean Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Jeter and Horace Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jackson, of Shreveport.

The chancel was attractively decorated with magnolia leaves. Tall baskets of white gladioli, flanked by seven branched candelabra with burning tapers graced the altar. Other flower arrangements were placed at vantage points in the church.

Mrs. Ruth Payne presented nuptial music and accompanied a sister of the bride, Miss Carolyn Ferguson, who sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Patricia Reed of New Orleans and Jody Traina of Jonesboro, little cousins of the bride were candle lighters.

J. L. Jackson served his son as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. In the receiving line were the bridal couple, the groom's parents, the bride's mother and the matron of honor.

Mrs. Donald Graham, a sister of the groom presided at the guest book. Mrs. Dewey Harvey of Jonesboro and Mrs. Billy Reed of New Orleans, aunts of the bride, alternated at the punch bowl and Mrs. J. L. Jackson, Jr. of Shreveport served the wedding confection.

Out-of-town guests were: Neil Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Traina and children, Mrs. D. Traina, Mrs. C. U. Traina, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Harvey, and Robert Lynn, all of Jonesboro; Mrs. B. C. Reed and children and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kelly and Kay of Freeport; Texas; Misses Jo Willa Womack, Carolyn Kelly, Norma Jean Boyette, Margaret Ann Terral, and Karl K. Womack all of Tech; Mrs. Robert Hartsell, Sikes; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jackson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Graham, Linda Gayle Jackson, David Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jackson, and Gerald C. Green, all of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Jackson, Kay and Audrey Jackson and Rowland Jackson, of Eunice.

Mrs. Jackson is a graduate of the Dodson High school class of 1955.

Girl Scout News

Troop 48 has such a varied program that we have written up their activities several times in this column. Their Mother's Day observance was interesting enough, however, that we thought you'd like to hear about it. In patrols of 4 girls each these third-grade Brownie Scouts cooked and served supper with their mothers as guests one evening last week.

Mrs. B. O. Yeldell, troop committee chairman turned her kitchen, dining room and porch over to them and they prepared a delicious meal; campfire stew, or Brownie stew, as the Brownies call it, a green salad, and strawberry shortcake, one patrol preparing each item. Previously one patrol had gone shopping for the food and supplies. Needless to say, both mothers and daughters enjoyed the meal and the fun of eating together.

High point in the year for Troop 41 was their fly-up ceremony at Pine Wood Friday night of last week. Combined with their first overnight, the girls had a most exciting weekend. Their investiture took place around a campfire on a dark, starry night, making an occasion the girls will not soon forget.

Making breadtwists over coals, sleeping on the long porch, putting up and taking down the flag with ceremony, hikes to the river, working in patrols to do their kapers, all added up to a wonderful experience for the girls. Mrs. Cyril Yancey, Mrs. P. R. Pierce, and Mrs. B. A. Tippins are the adults who made the event possible for the girls in the troop, who are: Yvonne Cason, Suzy Cammack, Jerry Lee Clark, Ginger Cupp, Judy Engstrom, Brenda Gresham, Vickie McCullen, Sally Pierce, Melody Tippins, Connie Yancey, and Phyllis Freeman.

On the same weekend a group of older girls had their cookie award overnight at Pine Wood, staying in the little cabin and cooking and living away from Troop 41, which was using the big building. The girls in this group, Judy Williams, Cora Theriot, Carolyn Herr, Ronnie Hervey, and Ronnie Wilds, tried out kinds of cooking they had not done before.

Senator Long To Ask For Welfare Hike Of $7.50

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Long (D-La) will ask the Senate to accept a welfare bill amendment that would boost welfare checks in Louisiana by about $7.50.

The Senate Finance Committee rejected the amendment, which would increase federal participation in state welfare programs.

Oil Rigger Dies Of Head Injuries

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Herman Adams, 32-year-old oil rigger, died yesterday of head injuries received at the Offshore Co.'s warehouse here.

Dr. Chester A. Williams, East Baton Rouge Parish coroner, said the victim received fatal injuries when struck by a reel falling from an oil drilling rig.

State Police Get Federal CD Funds

BATON ROUGE (AP) — State Police Supt. John Nick Brown said today his division has received $6,538 in federal civil defense matching funds for 58 mobile radio transmitter-receivers.

Louisiana has obtained about $186,000 during fiscal 1956-57 under the federal matching program for civil defense efforts.

Morrison Objects To Proposed Taxes On Fair Grounds

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Mayor deLesseps Morrison said "I hope and pray" the Louisiana Legislature does not double the tax on the New Orleans Fair Grounds.

The mayor yesterday said he was surprised to learn of the proposed legislation because of "all the assurances which were given about no spiteful legislation."

Morrison said the higher tax would cut purses in half and result in only second rate horses competing at the Fair Grounds.

Super-No-Roach Kills Resistant Roaches

A new, improved formula makes SUPER-NO-ROACH the most effective roach and ant killer available. Brushed just where you want it, the colorless, odorless coating kills these pests, and stays effective for months. Not a messy spray, there's no need to move dishes, pots, and pans, while applying. SUPER-NO-ROACH is so effective, and so easy to use! 8 oz. 89¢; pt. 1.69; qt. 2.98.

BODY by FISHER

The meaningful emblem of Body by Fisher

When you see "sterling" on silver you know what it means—solid silver, all the way through.

And when you see the medallion "Body by Fisher" on an automobile it means much the same thing—quality all the way through, in things unseen as well as on the visible, gleaming surface.

The significance of this emblem cannot be tested on the showroom floor. Its meaning was not built up in a day but only after long years in which owners learned that "Body by Fisher" was a veritable symbol of solid, enduring satisfaction.

Only one who has owned a Chevrolet for several years can fully know the deep sense of satisfaction this emblem pledges. It is the warranty of an inner soundness that your eye or your touch cannot test. And only Chevrolet in the low-price field is entitled to wear the small, proud plaque that proclaims "Body by Fisher."

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Woman Wonders Why She Has Left Five Pleasant Situations Within Ten Years

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband was killed in the war, in 1943. We had loved each other before the war, and hadn't rushed into marriage. I have adjusted myself to the loss and don't think that part of my life has any bearing on the present problem.

I am 33 and, in the past 10 years, I have worked for five different firms. I am a secretary, but if time permits and girls in other jobs are rushed, I help them too; and in this way there isn't much in office work I haven't done.

My employers praise me as a good all-around worker, very adaptable and cooperative. Whenever I have left a job, all my associates have seemed sorry. Each time I have resigned, I've been offered other work with the same firm—in another office, with another boss— but I never have felt that would solve anything. So I quit altogether.

Feels Bored And Tearful

At each place I've had a few real friends, some of whom I still see. I go to church, teach Sunday School, have as many dates as any woman my age; and my social life is about what it should be. So is my health—tested by regular examinations.

I have been on my present job 14 months; and again am beginning to feel bored and downhearted, and inwardly tearful. My boss is nice, my associates friendly, everything should be fine—but I am not happy here. I've tried small offices, large companies, even government work; but after a year or two I am not satisfied.

I don't want to keep changing jobs every year or so; but I get so I hate to go to work in the mornings. However, my attendance record is perfect and, despite my feelings, I haven't been late to work more than twice in ten years. I've tried to cover everything that might furnish a clue to the trouble; and will appreciate any help you can give me. E.C.

Doesn't Permit Self To Be Real

DEAR E.C.: It seems to me there is something insistently significant and compulsively Pollyannaish about your praise of the various situations and different casts of characters you have known, in your rapid passage from job to job.

You determinedly and consciously think the best of everyone, almost in a spirit of "I'll like them if it kills me." And you knock yourself out, trying to be the ideal employe and co-worker, in the general estimate; never daring to relax as a simple ordinary human being, as faulty as the next fellow—never permitting yourself to be humanly critical or candidly selfish on occasion.

There are two ways of alluding to your problem. One is to say that you are running away from yourself. Another is to say you are looking for something. Either way, it means that the problem is within you, primarily; not in the situation from which you flee—though we may take for granted that any situation involving other people isn't lacking its quota of trials!

Get On Beam Of Integrity

It is my surmise that you are unconsciously hamstrung by an ingrained network of "do's and don'ts," that prevent you from knowing and respecting and constructively expressing your real vital self, in a congenial program of activity. You are emotionally throttled by a complex of conflicts, resentments, repressions, frustrations, etc., that permit you no peace or enjoyment of living.

You are trying to be somebody you think you should be, instead of getting acquainted with the person you are, and being true to self, in your daily experience—insofar as is possible, prudent or feasible. My advice is to start work on discovering and developing your own integrity as a human being, after which contentment with situations will flourish, I think.

In this project you may need some psychological guidance; and in the city from which you write, much excellent help of that sort is available. M.H.

Chances are you'll be driving in and through forested country. When you are, remember: ALWAYS BE CAREFUL WITH FIRE. One match or cigarette carelessly dropped . . . one campfire left untended . . . can start a fire that could burn a forest. Flames will turn a beautiful green forest into ugly, blackened ruin in minutes. Have fun on your vacation, but do your part—Keep America Green . . . Leave America Green.

Surpluses Could Exceed $45 Million, PAR Reports

BATON ROUGE, La., May 19 (Special) — Surpluses available to this session of the Legislature could run in excess of $45 million, the Public Affairs Research Council (PAR) said today.

In the first of its weekly Legislative Bulletins, PAR said the $45 million would be in addition to an estimated $16.5 million surplus in the Department of Public Welfare.

These surpluses would be available to meet increased appropriations of the current session.

While pointing to these surpluses, PAR said that state expenditures have been rising so that it has been possible to balance the budget only by use of "non-recurring leasing revenues."

According to PAR, the surplus in the state general fund for the current fiscal year is estimated "in excess of $30 million." The property tax relief fund is estimated to have a total balance of $15 million. This balance can go into the state general fund for use by the Legislature, however $5 million of the $15 million is considered a reserve in the property tax relief fund.

Discussing revenue and expenditure trends, the council said that revenues for 1956 are estimated at 57 per cent above the figure for 1949. Expenditures for the current fiscal year, however, are expected to be 73 per cent above 1949.

Expenditures for the current fiscal year, including $35 million in appropriations for capital outlay, may exceed estimated revenue by $50 million. The difference is being met from the surplus of the 1955 fiscal year.

Reporting trends in expenditures, PAR said state spending for education has increased 90 per cent since 1949; welfare spending is up 31 per cent; and highway spending up 142 per cent.

Major tax revenue increase since 1949 were reported as follows: sales up 58 per cent; severance, up 62 per cent; gasoline, 32 per cent.

Franklin Voters Will Act On 5-Mill School Levy

WINNSBORO, May 19 (Special) — Franklin parish property owners will pass judgement on a school board request for an additional five mill tax to aid in construction and repairing buildings and to maintain and operate the schools of the parish for five years in special balloting here Tuesday May 22, W. B. Glover, Superintendent of Franklin Parish Schools announced.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The additional millage will be about 64 thousand dollars a year for school expenses.

Also up for approval is a proposition directed to Ward 6 residents only to issue 125 thousand dollars in bonds for the construction of buildings and for equipment at the Baskin High School.

The Franklin Parish School Board gave the following reasons for requesting the additional school tax support:

1. This five mill tax is needed to operate all the schools of Franklin Parish for a full nine month session.
2. Due to the increasing cost of materials, supplies, and equipment we need additional funds to operate our schools in an efficient manner.
3. This tax will help pay for the maintenance of our schools such as utilities, fuel, light, water, etc. janitors supplies, building materials, and insurance on our buildings.
4. To replace equipment in many high schools.
5. To repair buildings and additions to buildings when needed.
6. It will enable the Franklin Parish School Board to maintain good schools in each community for a period of nine months.
7. This five mill tax can be voted without harming the economy of our parish.
8. Good schools with sufficient facilities bring industry and good citizens to our parish.
9. When the educational level of the people is lifted, the spending power increases.

Glover said, "Rembmer, if you are living on your property and it is not assessed for more than two thousand dollars, you come under Homestead exemption and the state of Louisiana pays your tax. However, you can vote the value of your property in this election."

1. CHILDREN CAN RUIN THEIR LIVES BY BEING TOO LOYAL TO THEIR PARENTS.
TRUE__________FALSE__________5-19

Answer To Question No. 1

1. True. Many young people, especially women, give up marriage because of an exaggerated sense of loyalty to their parents, especially overpossessive mothers. In such cases, the daughter's self-sacrifice is greater than sound morals dictate. I knew a boy who might have been a great engineer, but his mother chained — not tied — him to her apronstrings, because she didn't want him to travel, as his work would have required. He became a disappointed blighted personality. It's all profoundly immoral.

Be Honest with yourself!

Are you really grown-up? An easy formula helps you become a happy, poised person. For "How To Be An Emotional Grownup," send 15 cents (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope (name city and state) to Dr. A.. E. Wiggam, c-o this newspaper.

Do many young people think they are old?

Yes——— No ———

2. Yes, hosts of them — and if it weren't so tragic, it would be comical. After delivering a commencement address, one of the seniors said with a sigh, "I'm clear through college and haven't done a thing worthwhile yet." At 25, I felt much, much older, than I do now. At 35, I felt life about over. At 45, I was sure of it. Then I became inspired, wrote three best - sellers and felt I was just beginning my education. I am no exception. We don't trust business leaders and statesmen until they are 45 or 50.

Which sense recalls more memories — sight or smell

Your opinion ————M

3. Smell. For two weeks I passed a garden of old - fashioned "mountain pinks." They did not recall anything until one day I got a whiff of their fragrance, and a thousand memories flooded me instantly. The old farm, my mother, brothers and sisters, and many other memories. Recently I attended an auction of Oriental rugs and smelled musk. This carried me back many years to my twin sister's music teacher, who always used it. The sense of smell evokes more memories than any other sense.

THE WOOD IN YOUR LIFE

Picnicking in the park or camping in the woods, most Americans take trees for granted. While we've moved from covered wagons to automobiles, forests remain an American heritage. With the kind of wise management forest industries now practice on their lands — tree farming — this country can continue to use its woodlands and enjoy them, too. For wood, for water, for wildlife, for recreation, for jobs, keep our state green. Prevent forest fires.

Louisiana Tech Baccalaureate

RUSTON, May 19 (Special) — Baccalaureate exercises will be conducted at Louisiana Tech at 8 p.m. Sunday, May 27, with the sermon to be delivered by Dean-elect Leonard E. Nelson of Christ Church Cathedral in New Orleans.

Rev. Nelson, who now is chaplain to Episcopal students at Louisiana State University, will be transferred to the deanship at New Orleans this summer.

Chaplain Nelson is a native of Wisconsin. He received his A. B. degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1931, attended General Theological Seminary and Nashotah House, did graduate work at the Seabury - Western Seminary and at St. Stephen's House, Oxford, England.

He has served as chaplain to students at the University of Wisconsin and the University of Tennessee and as secretary for college work in the Sixth Province. He was a chaplain in the United States Army during World War II. Prior to coming to Louisiana, Rev. Nelson was warden of the DuBose Conference Center at Monteagle, Tenn.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By FLETA D. LATHAM

On Friday, May 25 at 8:15 p.m. the curtain goes up on "The Rainmaker," Little Theatre's final production of the season. There will be the usual five night run of the show. Velma Kettenring will be at the playhouse to take reservations from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. daily beginning Thursday, May 24 through Wednesday, May 30.

We wish that everyone would make reservations early. But it just doesn't happen. For some unknown reason, there is always a rush the last two or three nights of the show.

Five nights gives everyone an opportunity to see the show provided you get reservations in early. So won't you decide on the date you want to see the show and make your reservations well in advance.

Random notes: Ivan Uttal received a postcard from former Little Theaterite Pete Linton who is en route to an army post in the South Pacific. The picture postcard was a Waikiki Beach scene and a penciled - in arrow indicated the spot where Pete lolled on the beach during his stopover there. Lucky guy . . .

Katherine and Ray Magruder are two of our hardest working Little Theaterites. They have worked on every show this season and "The Rainmaker" is to be no exception. In addition to a landscape backdrop which Katherine is painting, she and Ray will decorate the theatre lobby. We heard the plans the other night and they have come up with a really clever idea. Wait until you see it . . .

Credit for the excellent photographs you see of the Little Theatre cast members goes to Virginia Tornatore, manager of a local photographer's studio. She has photographed each of the forty-two people who have appeared in plays this season. Our thanks to you, Virginia. Don't know what we'd do without you . . .

Little Theatre Sketch

Beatle (Bill) Eason . . . is a native Monroyan. He attended Ouachita Parish High school and Louisiana State Normal College. Played football in 1941 and 1942. He was a lieutenant in the U. S. Marine corps from 1943 until 1946. Following his discharge from the service, he became affiliated with a construction company.

Bill subsequently returned to the Marine Corps and was assigned to the Guard company at the U. S. Naval Mine depot in Yorktown, Va. He was ordered to inactive duty in 1952 and is now associated with a construction company.

Bill's hobby is radios. He loves to tinker with them but advises you not to let him get his hands on your set. He tears them apart and puts them together over and over and, once he gets your radio in his possession, you may not see it again for months.

Bill's portrayal of the sheriff in "The Rainmaker" is his first appearance on our Little Theatre stage but we hope we'll be seeing more of him.

A GAME AMONG THE STARS—6

Trip Into Outer Space.

Probably the best known star is Polaris, or the North Star, at the end of the Little Bear's tail. For many ages sailors have used it to help guide their ships.

Now that you know something of the constellations and the stars in them, here is a game to send you cruising around on a tour among the stars and back to earth again.

Two persons can play. Each should have a small button or bead, preferably of differing colors for use as a marker. Toss a penny for moves. Heads means two moves, tails means one. Move your marker from earth through 1 to 39 in order, stopping at the orange stars. Your toss must carry you exactly onto any star you plan to visit, otherwise you must wait out in space for your next turn. The first space traveler back to earth is the winner.

Two In Race For Columbia Mayor

COLUMBIA, May 19 (Special)—Candidates for the June 12 election in the town of Columbia have qualified, including two candidates for mayor.

The present mayor, Mrs. Lynn Mecom Alford, withdrew her name when she decided to seek the post of congressman from the fifth district, now held by Otto Passman of Monroe.

Orvis H. Watson, a local contractor and former councilman and Mrs. J. D. Key, a present member of the council, will run for mayor.

Candidates for marshal are Floyd (Slim) Hodges, incumbent; Dave R. Allen, and Buck Fuller.

There are seven candidates for the five posts as council members, David Gartman and James G. Sherman, incumbents, Clyde Horn, Jake Powell, W. A. Smith, Norman McHardy and Albert L. Winters, all local business men. The five receiving the highest votes will be elected and receive $5.00 for each regular monthly meeting they attend.

Referring to her marriage, Margaret Truman said, "After you make the most important decision, you are faced with a hundred more you'll have to live with the rest of your life." This item goes into our file of gross understatements.

Covenant Church Women Observing 35th Anniversary

The Women of the Covenant Presbyterian church held their monthly program meeting on May 15, at which time they celebrated the thirty - fifth birthday of the Women of the Presbyterian church, U. S.

Fifty members and guests witnessed a most interesting skit explaining the two - fold 1956 birthday objectives.

This skit was cleverly enacted by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Porter, Jr. and their children, Pat and Rhett, as they showed the dire need for the Ybor mission expansion in West Tampa, Florida, where some 20,000 Cubans, Italians and Spaniards do not attend any church. The area laboratory schools, which will place training opportunities within reach of a much larger number of leaders of children than has ever before been possible, is the second objective.

Presby Vacation Bible School To Open June 4

The First Presbyterian Vacation Church School will begin June 4th and continue for five days through June 8th. Classes will be held from 9:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. each day. This school spells opportunity for boys and girls and should be especially helpful in acquainting them with teachings of the Bible since the theme of the 1956 Vacation Church School is "The Bible."

The age groups and textbooks which will be taught are as follows:

Kindergarten — 4 & 5 year olds — "Together in Our Church"; Primary — 6, 7, & 8 year olds — "Making Discoveries About the Bible"; Junior — 9, 10, & 11 year olds— "The Bible For All the World"; Pioneer — 12 and 13 year olds — "Our Living Book".

Please urge your children to avail themselves of the opportunity which is theirs through their attendance at Vacation Church School. Come and bring a friend!

British Authority On Prayer Will Be Speaker Tuesday

The Grace Episcopal church rector, the Rev. John M. Allin, said a special feature for Pentecost season on Whitsun Tuseday, May 22, at 10 a.m. when the well - known British authority on prayer, Dr. Gladys Falshaw, will speak at his church immediately preceding the regular monthly Healing Service of the Prayer Group.

Currently on a speaking tour in the south, Dr. Falshaw recently concluded a series of lectures to prayer groups of various Shreveport churches. Her itinerary for the past several years has included Monroe, and this year her topic is to be one particularly appropriate for Whitsuntide, the Pentecost season: Healing by the Power of the Holy Spirit.

Interested friends in other churches of this area, and especially members of prayer groups, are invited to attend.

Covenant Church Plans Open House Sunday Afternoon

This afternoon at 3:00 the Sunday School officers and teachers in the Children's Departments of the Covenant Sunday School will hold "Open House" for parents of children in those departments, Nursery through Junior, so they can see the work which is being done.

A series of film-strips on this work will be shown so that parents will be better informed as to the program carried on in the Sunday School, and therefore give more assistance to the teachers through emphasis and assistance at home.

Brownville Baptist Church Is Growing

The Brownville Baptist church, J. A. D. Russell, pastor, is soon to occupy its new building at Bailey and Rowan streets. Construction will be far enough along on the building to enable it to be placed in use in about two weeks, the pastor states.

This is a growing church, now having 175 members and with the number ever increasing.

Bible Words for Today

LUKE 6:31, 36. — "And as you wish that men would do to you, do so to them .... Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful." (RSV)

These two summarizations by Jesus of our ethical obligations are terse and clear. The former is termed the Golden Rule because it is such a majestic guide for our relations with our fellow men when it is kept in its context. It is so necessary to apply it in all our inter-personal relations.

The latter is the motive and driving power for this way of living. We are to do as God does. "He is kind to the ungrateful and the selfish." He is merciful as the Old Testament declares in so many places. To be like Him we, too, are to treat others with the same kindness and consideration. Then when we love our neighbor as ourselves, we are better informed about the course we are to pursue and how we are to proceed in all our dealings with them.

All of our ethical obligations are contingent upon our conviction and spirit when fashioned after God's Fatherly character, and practiced as loyal sons of His, as Jesus did. Upon this foundation the integrity and honor of human life rests.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: Do you believe we can come to believe in God from what we see in nature alone? C. F. H.

ANSWER: The Bible tells us: "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth His handiwork." By the things we see all around us we must come to a speculative knowledge of God. The wonders of nature did not and do not just happen. There are laws governing all of God's creation and these laws are evident on every hand. If you say, yes, but we believe nature has its own laws and that they act independently of any God. But, who made these laws? If you find a watch lying on the street you know some one made that watch, it did not just happen to be a watch. When you see the world around you, you are forced to believe that a great creative genius is back of this world. But, God has not left us to mere speculation. He has given us the Bible in which we learn that: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." In that same Bible we find that God created man and that He created him for companionship with Himself. But, sin came into the world and man was separated from God. God did something about that too — He gave us a redeemer to cleanse us from sin and its consequences and restore the broken fellowship with Himself. Also, God has sent His Holy Spirit into the world. I believe His Spirit is speaking to your heart right now. Give your heart and life to Christ — He will do the rest.

Southern Bishop Declares Church Unity Is Aided

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., — Methodist unity relative to gradual and permissive integration of the church's Negro membership has been strengthened by the legislative action of the denomination's General Conference, Bishop Clare Purcell, Birmingham, Ala. reported following the action taken at the Conference recently.

"The constitutional amendment adopted by the General Conference and to be handed down to the annual regional Conferences, represents the desire of the entire church to respect the opinions of all sections of the country," Bishop Purcell said.

"The amendment makes it mandatory that the consent of all concerned must be secured before changes in the Jurisdictional and Annual boundaries can be effected." he added.

The amendment, which still must be ratified by two thirds of the voting delegates in 103 annual conferences in the United States, permits individual Negro churches, or entire conferences of Negro churches to transfer into regular "white" units.

Such action would be on a voluntary basis and could be undertaken by two- thirds vote of the regional groups involved.

"The amendment was all but unanimously adopted by the delegates from the South as well as those from all over the world," Bishop Purcell explained. "It is my opinion that this action strengthens the unity achieved in 1939 union that knitted together the three major Methodist bodies at that time."

So. Side Church Presenting Songs At Evening Hour

The Southside Methodist church will have a program of music Sunday at 7:30 p.m. when the Chancel and Men's Chapel choirs directed by R. L. Jones, with Mrs. C. L. Harris, accompaniest, will present the program "The Masters' Face" written by C. R. Clay.

"The Pilot of Gallilee" sung by the combined chorus; "I Look for Jesus" by Dexter, which will be sung by the choir and Mrs. Charles Elliott; "Let Me Follow Thee" will be sung by the choir and Mrs. Virginia Goodman; "My Savior's Face" by Ackley, will be sung by Mrs. Perkins; "Face to Face" will be sung by the combined choirs.

All friends of this church are cordially invited.

Highland Pk. Church Will Plan Addition

There will be a called business meeting of the Highland Park Baptist Church on Wednesday night May 23, 1956. At this meeting preliminary plans for another unit in the building program will be presented for church action. Copies of the proposed plans have been mailed to all members of the church.

The proposed building would provide space for a modern nursery department, a modern beginner department, a modern primary department and a temporary sanctuary to seat about 300 worshipers. The Sanctuary would include a Baptistry. Also included in the building would be space for a pastor's study and a church office.

Summer Work In Missions Will Be Widespread

Methodist summer service projects for college students this year cover a wide geographical and interest range, according to the Rev. R. Claude Singleton, secretary of the Student Department of the denomination's Board of Missions. Work camps will be held in Alaska, Cuba, Mexico, Texas, and Vienna, Austria. An interconference evangelistic project is scheduled for California and a community service project for Washington, D. C. Caravan teams will tour the United States.

A joint project of the Pacific Northwest Annual Conference and the Methodist Student Movement, the Alaska work camp involves building, road and bridge construction, and ground clearing. A study, worship and fellowship program will be incorporated. Twelve to fourteen students who have completed their sophomore year in college will be needed.

The Vienna work camp, sponsored by the Methodist Student Movement in cooperation with other church agencies, will be part of a combination travel seminar and work camp in Europe. Besides visiting tourist attractions, this group will seek to promote world Christian community, and participation in the seminar will require about-the-average educational preparation. It is expected that England, Holland, Germany, France, Switzerland, and Austria will be visited and that both Methodist and ecumenical centers will be included. In the work period in Vienna, ground will be cleared and made ready for building homes for refugees. All who participate must be at least eighteen years of age.

Twelve North American and eight Cuban students will compose the group working at La Gloria Rural Center in Cuba. In addition to building construction, these campers will conduct religious education activities.

Monterrey and the Mexico City area will be the locations of the Mexico projects which will require twelve to eighteen students from North America and others from Mexico. Participants will gain insight into Mexican culture and share their own Christian faith.

In addition to the regular Methodist Youth Caravans, a specialized team will be sent to Cuba and two others, one interdenominational, will work in the field of religious drama in the United States. Applicants for the Cuba caravan should be upperclassmen or graduates with a speaking knowledge of Spanish. Upperclassmen and graduate students who have a major or minor in drama or special training in this field are urged to apply for these caravans.

Applications for the Alaska and Washington, D. C., projects should be sent to the Rev. R. Claude Singleton, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York 11, N.Y. Those for the Cuba and Mexico camps should go to Dr. Harvey C. Brown, Box 871, Nashville 2, Tenn. Further information on the regular and specialized caravans also may be obtained from Dr. Brown. Information concerning the San Antonio and California projects is obtainable from the Rev. LeRoy King, Box 871, Nashville 2, Tenn. Either Mr. Singleton or Dr. Brown will give information on the European camp and seminar.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
First Church of Christ Scientist
North 2nd at Auburn Street

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson - Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. Sunday, May 20, 1956.

The golden text is: "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God" (Ps. 84:2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him" (1 John 4:16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Identity is the reflection of Spirit, the reflection in multifarious forms of the living Principle, Love" (477).

What To Do About Garden Worries

Did you read Mr. Lanier Hunt's article last Sunday? He gave us some mighty fine information on root pruning, which is the answer to growing more plants in a small yard. I've seen common old privet hedge root-pruned and sweet peas growing directly in front of the plants. In fact, the pruned hedge limbs were used as the support for the sweet peas. But, remember, a severe root-pruning was done the preceding Spring and Fall.

Garden Worries

There's always something happening to our plants too cause worry. If you have pines the tip moth is working on the new growth, causing it to die. Your trees are a woeful sight. Well, don't worry. Mr. A. S. McKean, Extension Forester, says to transfer your worries to something else. This tip moth will only prune your pines, making them denser and prettier. The trees growing in Marie Place Boulevard are an example. Last year the moth did lots of pruning, but there was no damage. J. J. Joyce says if you feel you must spray, use 10 percent D.D.T., but this is not necessary.

Now, — the crabapples. Have you walked out some morning and found dead limbs and some dead tips? The dead tips are caused from fire blight, for which there is no known cure. However, here again, there's little if any danger of this doing any permanent damage. Just snip off the dead ends and burn.

Also working on the crabapple is the girdling bettle. He chews around a branch and the entire limb dies. Cut the limb off, beyond the dead part. The beetle lays his eggs in the dead limbs, so be sure to burn this. If you feel you must spray, use an all purpose fruit tree spray. If you'll prune well, no spraying is necessary.

Lots of calls are still coming in about white, powdery mildew on crepe myrtles. I'll repeat this treatment. Just dust with sulphur, being sure the foliage is dry.

Some rascally bug is chewing on the daisies. Any stomach poison will put an end to him, D.D.T. or cryolite or any other you have on hand. Read your label on the container.

Now, let's write about something nice — like the oleanders blooming now. By the way, the botanical name for this plant is Nerium Oleander. I've just learned that these georgous plants belong to the Acacia family. Oleander foliage points upward while the acacia foliage points downward. Anyway, you'll want to make a note to get plants next winter since this is one shrub that blooms when there's little color in the garden. The blooms are lovely in arrangements, too. Be free with cutting the blooms with nice long stems. This cutting is about the only pruning your plant will need.

We talked about soil conditioning at the Town and Country Garden Club last week. Everything seems to boil down to all soils needing organic matter. That is, barnyard manures; rotted vegetable matter such as leaves, straw, sawdust, cotton seed hulls, cotton bolls; or peat moss which is too expensive for the average gardner. Organic matter opens up hard clay or gumbo soils, and on the other hand gives body to sandy soils.

Some sand is advantageous to heavy soils. We took a bowl of hard, red clay soil and mixed sand and humus with it. Right there before our eyes we converted the useless clay soil to an excellent mixture for growing plants. This compost does not take the place of your commercial fertilizer, which supplies needed minerals

Food News

Soon you'll be able to buy tomato powder for making tomato juice. Convenient for storing.

A main dish favorite — broilers and fryers will be in heavier demand during May and June than in many years. Retail prices have already slipped to the bargain level. Just think what you can do with this delicately - flavored, meaty, tender broiler-fryer! And think of all the high proteins plus minerals and vitamins you are buying for so little money!

The dark meat of chicken is richer in iron, thiamine and riboflavin, while the white meat is richer in niacin and phosphorus. The livers are especially rich in vitamin A and iron. On a pound basis, chicken has fewer calories than any cut of beef, pork, veal or lamb. The leg pieces have more calories than the breast.

When purchasing broiler-fryers, allow one pound per person if you choose the smaller size, three-fourths pound per serving is sufficient for heavier fryers.

When selecting a broiler-fryer, check the skin, see if it is soft, pliable, smooth, free from pin feathers, and that there are no cuts or tears, broken bones or discolorations. The Grade A marking symbol means the entire processing plant and the personnel have met the sanitary requirements set up by the Louisiana Department of Agriculture. The plants are inspected. Government inspection and grading are entirely voluntary on the part of the poultry plant.

Announcements

Your Open House shows for next week are as follows:

Monday Irene Fallin from Jackson Parish will show us more convenient closet storage for the bedroom. Tuesday Dorothy Dillon will give you a demonstration, subject TBA; Wednesday Mary Margaret will bring you the three winning flower arrangements and we'll have a young guest from Grayson, La. — Miss Patrica Meredith; Thursday we'll do some carpet cleaning and Friday is marketing and meta-marketing day. See you next Sunday.

SAFER OUTDOOR WEEK-ENDS THIS SUMMER . . . .

One way to do your bit to cut down on the appalling rate of summer week-end traffic accidents, is to plan several backyard supper parties.

Most housewives think this is far more trouble than indoor entertaining, but actually it needn't be. The family can be quickly tempted into "at-home" weekends if you mention one of these mouth-watering menus: Plantation - barbecued chicken with tossed green salad and roast corn-on-the-cob; or barbecued pork chops with scalloped corn and tomatoes; or the more orthodox barbecued steaks, spareribs or franks.

Actually, outdoor meals can be much simpler than the big company dinner. Also the housewife gets a better break on housecleaning chores — because such jobs as lawn-mowing and watering, flower bed cleanup, etc., can be delegated to various members of the family. Odds are, Dad will volunteer for the barbecuing job — so you spend a minimum of time slaving over the hot stove — and more time with your guests.

But be sure to advise your guests when you invite them, that they won't be bothered by a single ant or fly at your picnic! This is the reason most people shy away from outdoor parties . . . . fighting off insects spoils all the fun and puts everyone in a "tuochy" humor.

You can volunteer to do this job as your part of the yard preparation — and get off with an easy five-minute chore. Using the Ortho Fly Killer Dry Bait, you can control house flies in the entire outdoor living area with no more work than it takes to walk, and to shake the container as you would a salt shaker. There's no fussing with mixing, measuring or spraying, and this fly killer dry bait leaves no tell-tale odor. "Salting down" the patio and yard can be done well ahead of guest arrival time — and those innocent-looking granules of malathion-impregnated bait will keep house flies from bothering your party for hours on end.

Try this outdoor party idea once — and your family friends will compliment you as a truly thoughtful hostess.

Guest writer Gladys Kulcke

Mr. John A. Wright of Louisiana Tech, Ruston, La., did a one man show at the Garden Center this week. He featured garden flowers and materials in lovely and distinctive arrangements with accent on Rhythm. On the TV show Wednesday Mr. Wright explained to us the meaning of rhythm. Rhythm means relation of elements to create a feeling of motion. Rhythm is usually created by the use of repetition and transition.

The arrangement of roses and onion blooms was very striking and distinctive. The onion blossoms curved up into a vertical line and ends with a not-yet-open bud. Pink roses were used to fill in at the base of the arrangement and ascending part way up the vertical line, using lighter shades of roses at the top. Canna leaves were used in the background. Mr. Wright chose a grey-green round pottery container for this arrangement.

Mr. Wright illustrated rhythm in form, texture, shape and color in an arrangement of Easter lilies. This was a large triangle mass arrangement of Easter lilies with with their own foliage in a white flat, oblong, pottery container. The purity of the blossom of the Easter lily was advantageously expressed in this design suitable for church or large living room.

In a copper compact container, Mr. Wright created a distinctive arrangement of Easter lilies, Bells of Ireland and canna leaves with bronze stripes and edges. At the base of the asymmetrical design triangularly massed, the lily blooms ascend to a bud tip in a verticle prolonged by a stalk of Bells of Ireland. The canna leaves used in the background and at the base of container gave an interesting contrast in form of material as well as color. The diagonal placement of the Bells of Ireland carry the rhythm throughout this truly interesting arrangement. This arrangement could well be used for a buffet table or entrance hall.

Notice to flower lovers — Members of the Dixieland Daylily and Iris Society have the following gardens open to the public beginning May 21st through the 6th. Come and see the daylilies.

Western Tour To Be Sponsored By Louisiana Tech

RUSTON, May 19 (Special) — Only a few vacancies remain for seats on a 39-passenger bus that will take students on a western trip Aug. 5-25 under sponsorship of Louisiana Tech.

In order to reserve accommodations for the tour, students are asked to deposit $50 with J. W. Evans, Tech auditor. A total fee of $220 will provide for hotel rooms and tours, transportation and the registration fee for college credit courses. The $220 does not include food, laundry or other incidentals.

This will be the sixth annual educational itinerary to be conducted by Louisiana Tech and the third western tour. Dr. G. W. McGinty, head of the social science department, and Dr. R. O. Trout, professor of geography, will accompany the students. Six hours of credit in history and six hours in geography will be available to those making the trip.

The territory to be covered this year, with a few exceptions, will be areas not previously visited by the touring Tech students. It will be the longest of the college's itineraries to the west. Part of the territory included on the tour is as follows:

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

How To Save Old Roses?

Did you know that there is many a fine old rose languishing in old cemeteries and around old house places all through the south? Nobody is fighting black spot nor mildew nor thrips nor rose canker for these old fashioned flowers. They are battling it out for themselves, and for the most part they are winning. It is up to garden lovers to rescue these staunch old things and bring them back into our yards and gardens.

Not all of the old fashioned roses are very showy when you compare them with the modern hybrid teas. Many of the old ones, however, are really good varieties that will produce beautiful flowers when they get half a chance. Some kinds are grown mostly for their sentimental value and because of their close association with our own history. The Damask Rose, the Musk roses, York and Lancaster — these have witnessed some of the most passionate events in the history of man. Of importance to us southerners are the fine old tea roses planted during the past century. You may be the one to discover one of these which has been lost to cultivation.

Around the places where old houses have burned down, you will find them. Perhaps there will be only a forlorn chimney or part of one left standing to tell you that there was once a house, but not far away there will be old roses. The commonest ones are types of the Damask Rose and the Bur or Chinquapin Rose, as it is sometimes called in the south where there used to be lots of chinquapin trees. Moss roses are not quite so common. They will usually be found in large patches if they have been left alone for very long.

Many of the varieties of these different classes of old roses have been lost for more than a century. It behooves us to find them. They are right under our noses. We need them for breeding better roses for the south, and we need them for mass plantings in our yards and gardens. Here and there, some breeding is going on to improve these old things. In 1954, as reported in this column, your columnist saw some startling beauties at the rose shows of The Royal Horticulture Society in London.

The best way to rescue old roses is to find the bushes and clean the weeds out and feed them. Make cuttings or take divisions up and transplant them to your garden where they can be allowed to show what they can do. Most of them will make a big show in the rose season in spring, and many will keep right on flowering. Some will sleep through the summer and bloom again in the fall. As a rule, they do not want much pruning, and they will survive rose diseases without much care.

La. Legislature May Have $45 Million Surpluses

BATON ROUGE (AP) — An independent research group predicted today the Louisiana Legislature would have surpluses which "could run in excess of 45 million dollars" to finance the state next year.

The Public Affairs Research Council said the 45 million would be in addition to some 16.5 million in the welfare surplus, dedicated to welfare.

But PAR, in the first of its weekly legislative bulletins, noted "Expenditures for the current fiscal year, including 35 million dollars in appropriations for capital outlay, may exceed estimated revenue by 50 million dollars. The difference is being met from the surplus of the 1955 fiscal year."

Louisiana has steadily set new marks in bonuses for oil and gas leases, both inland and in the oil-rich offshore areas.

PAR explained that only these "non-recurring leases revenues" made it possible to balance the budget during the current fiscal year.

In computing the surplus, PAR said the surplus estimated for the state general fund by June 30, end of the current fiscal year, was "in excess of 30 million dollars.

"The property tax relief fund is estimated to have a total balance of 15 million dollars," PAR said. "This balance can go into the state general fund for use by the Legislature. However, five million of the 15 million dollar total is considered a reserve in the property tax relief fund."

PAR noted the upward trend of state revenues, with present state income 57 per cent above 1949.

But PAR added that spending was also up, 73 per cent above the 1949 level in the current fiscal year.

Sunday Highlights

One of the nicest things ever to happen to a television set, "The Rosemary Clooney Show" will hit the telelanes tonight at 6. Assisting Rosemary with the vocal chores are the Hi-Lo's, who have just been voted by disc jockeys around the country as "the most promising new vocal group. Also highlighting the premiere telecast will be the visit of Rosemary's husband, Jose Ferrer who will display his lesser known talents, his composing, singing and piano playing. The Jack Benny Program will be full of hilarious events including a 4 a.m. appearance on a disc jockey program and a trip to buy a suit — complicates Jack's life. Jack Paar, well-known humorist and star of the "Jack Paar show" will lead off the guest list on the Ed Sullivan Show. Other guest stars include Teresa Brewer, comedy team of Smith and Dale, and England's singing sensation David Whitfield. John Nesbitt's true story of a man's desperate race to develop a synthetic insulin for his diabetic wife in Japanese -occupied Shanghai, will be dramatized in "Time Bomb," on Telephone Time. Gisele MacKenzie accepts her first starring dramatic characterization on General Electric Theatre's "The Hat With The Roses." In the script the brown-eyed singer from Canada will play a schoolteacher who accepts an atrocious hat from a student. The ensuing relationship builds the tension in the plot.

'Blood Brothers'

HOLLYWOOD, May 19 — The expression "blood brothers" has always been interpreted to mean all that is high and decent in the moral scale of the human race. Nothing is so shocking to hear as the story of violence and hatred between kin. Show business is not without its share of these family feuds, some of them resulting in hatreds so deep that they continue throughout life.

What causes such unnatural and abhorrent situations? Sometimes jealousy, sometimes fear, sometimes fear, sometimes spite — more often than not, an unwholesome blending of all three.

The Dorsey brothers stunned the public when their hatred of each other was first made known. It lasted for years, and according to most people was only recently healed because their mother never ceased her efforts to bring the two boys together. Not so happily resolved was the animosity which still exists between Olivia de Havilland and her sister, Joan Fontaine. They make up periodically, but never for very long. Their feud started years ago. It was an open secret that professional jealousy was the destructive motive.

The list is all too long. We must now add to it another pair. They are Perez Prado, known as The Mambo King, and his brother Panteletone. Their story follows the same familiar pattern. Perez made the grade, his brother didn't. Two years younger, he had worked in the Prado band for some time—then struck out for himself. He disappeared. Next thing Perez Prado knew — his brother was touring Europe, masquerading under the title Perez Prado, King of the Mambo.

At first the real "king" ignored the news. His brother was behaving badly. but surely it would not last very long. Surely he would remember that they were brothers first, professional rivals second—that after all — blood was thicker than water.

Perez Prado told me this story in halting broken English. He shook his head sadly.

"He is trying to ruin me," he said. "But I cannot believe it is all his fault. He is listening to some unscrupulous advisors. When I go to Europe soon, I shall try to find him — to talk to him, and perhaps remind him again that brothers do not stab each other in the back."

The climax of this battle of the brothers Prado occurred the other evening when a patron at the Hollywood Palladium where Prado and his orchestra were playing, excitedly rushed to the manager and demanded his money back.

"That man is an imposter," he said. "I saw the real Prado in Paris, only two weeks ago. This is not the same one!"

Confronted with this threat to his own European tour which starts soon, Perez Prado cabled lawyers in France, to enjoin his brother from using the title "Mambo King" — but Panteletone cannot be found. He is always one jump ahead of the lawyers, and manages to keep his whereabouts a secret.

"I don't know what got into him," muses his older brother. "When we were children in Cuba he wasn't very interested in music. He liked to play baseball. He limped. He still does. It was caused by an infection he had when he was a little boy But that didn't stop him from being an athlete He was always the one to run the fastest, jump the highest.

"As we grew older and I took more and more to music, my brother became interested too. I formed my own band and went on tour. He came with me. We traveled all over the United States and my brother was always my friend. Or so I thought. In 1953, a doctor told us that his limp could be cured by surgery. I gave my brother $1,500 and told him to go home to Cuba and have the operation. I never saw him again. Instead of having his lameness cured, he organized his own band. The next thing I heard — was this European tour he is making. I wish I could see him, talk to him. I know I could make him understand."

Perhaps he could. But I doubt it. Greater forces are at work in Perez Prado's brother, than even he realizes. Shakespeare dealt with the subject of brothers destroying for their kingdom. And always the plotter suffers a personality defect which creates an abnormal urge to fight against inferiority. With the Prado boys, the lame one thinks he can win the race by fair means or foul, even though he pits himself against superior odds. Even though, in the winning, he may destroy his own brother. Perez Prado has no fear of this, however. There is one little aspect of the picture his imposter - brother has overlooked. It is the matter of talent. According to musicians who have heard him play — he hasn't any.

The bidding:

East, 1 heart South, 2 hearts; West, Pass; North, 3 clubs.

East, Pass; South, 3 spades; West Pass; North 4 spades.

East, Pass; South, Pass; West, Double; North, Pass.

East, Pass; South, Pass.

Opening lead: Ten of hearts.

It is an interesting paradox that a lie is sometimes the most effective way to tell the truth.

There are countless hands that don't fall within a distinct category and for which there is no precise descriptive bid. In such cases the call should be selected which would most nearly desribe the outstanding characteristics of the hand.

Sometimes ingenuity will be required and a little white lie may be the best way to paint a picture for your partner.

In today's hand East opened with one heart and South was presented with an immediate problem. His holding surely looks like a game in hand, South must, therefore, make a bid which will insure reaching a game contract and yet allow for the possibility that the hand might have to play in a minor suit if partner happens to be very short in spades and long in either clubs or diamonds. The only way to make a 100 per cent game forcing bid is to "cue" the opponents' suit. Such a bid announces the ability to win the first trick, but South decided to tell this little white lie, as the best means of describing a hand that was a game in itself. North had no choice but to keep the bidding open which at the time he found anything but pleasant.

A slip in the defense permitted South to make the hand against the very bad trump break. The ten of hearts was opened and the suit continued, South ruffing. The ace of spades revealed the bad news in trumps and South led the king of clubs. West won and had he retained the heart for a future exit card, the contract would have been set, but he continued to force declarer, who was now reduced to three trumps. All the high diamonds and clubs were now cashed and West was given the lead with a small trump. His last two cards were the queen and ten of spades from which he was obliged to lead into declarer's tenace. The possession of that little heart at this time would have been a great comfort.

NELSON ALGREN

BOOKS

A WALK ON THE WILD SIDE. By Nelson Algren. Farrar, Straus & Cudahy.

First there's Fitz Linkhorn not too drunk, exhorting the people to stay away from liquor, and from women, and to follow the Lord. Then there is his contrary - minded son Byron, egging on his preacher-father. Finally there is Dove youngest Linkhorn but by the end of this raucous talee, old, wise and knowing in some useless ways, and horribly battered.

Dove even less than Byron heeded Linkhorn senior's warning cries of everlasting hell fire. It is Teresina, twice his age, who makes the fatal error of showing too much concern for the kid. The last thing he needed was encouragement, so she gave it to him; after she teaches him a lesson, he teaches her one, and scrams.

He speeds out of Arroyo by freight in the direction of New Orleans. He meets Kitty Twist who knows more than he does, though he and fate and Hard Knocks will remedy that; when he has a hankering for someone or something available only for money, he earns money by odd jobs — and odd they are.

Algren might better be called a story painter than teller, and, indeed, he reminds you of an artist like Ivan Le Lorraine Albright with his completely accurate but incredible details, the bits of decay, of corruption, of things spoilt. He reminds you too of Celine, and once in a while of Wolfe. His book is not the. distilled essence, but the grounds left in the bottom of the jug after the distillation. This is not the record of a Odyssey, a hergira, certainly not a sage but rather a kind of slow - motion bum's rush.

New Hearing Aid Brings Normal Life To Hard Of Hearing

Thousands of hard of hearing people can now start enjoying a normal way of life thanks to Spectacon. Spectacon is the remarkable new eyeglass hearing aid developed by the Acousticon hearing aid research laboratory in Jamaica, New York.

Spectacon ingeniously combines scientific correction of both hearing and vision in one smart looking, lightweight eyeglass frame. This enables the hard of hearing person, who also needs glasses, to go about his daily business with hardly any inconvenience. He can enjoy TV, the movies, and use the telephone as easily as those with unimpaired hearing . . . and without self-conciousness, for Spectacon looks for all the world like an ordinary pair of attractively styled eye-glasses. Only a colorless sound tube connects to the ear and there's nothing at all below the ear.

Spectacon is the first eyeglass hearing aid that meets both the highest optical and hearing standards. All those who have tried Spectacon have expressed real enthusiasm for it. They report that Spectacon has given them the finest and most comfortable hearing they have ever experienced that it far surpasses any other hearing aid they've tried. As many of them put it, "Spectacon is a dream come true!"

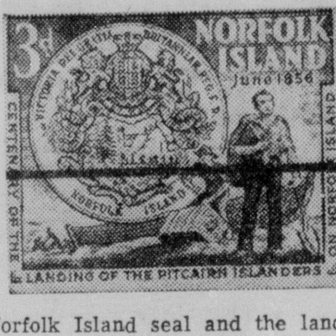
STAMPS

A Century ago the Pitcairn islanders, descendants of the famed mutineers from the Bounty, moved to Norfolk Island in the south Pacific.

To commemorate this event as well as to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the creation of the island as a separate and distinct settlement by order of Queen Victoria, a special set of stamps will be issued in June.

The design shows the original Norfolk Island seal and the landing of the Pitcairn Islanders.



Japan has issued two new stamps with separate themes. A 10 yen violet and green honors the First World Judo Championship held in Tokyo this year. Twenty countries belonging to the International Judo League participated.

A 5 yen adhesive was issued for World's Childrens Day. Depicted on the blue and white stamp is a young boy with his arm on the shoulder of a girl. He points to the sky.

From the Vatican comes word of six new stamps commemorating the 450th anniversary of the Swiss Guards. The 10 lire blue and 60 lire green show two of the guards marching with drums. The 6 lire orange and 50 lire violet depict a single guard. The 4 lire magenta and 35 lire brown picture Capt. G. Roust, first captain of the guards.

Fipex, the Fifth International Philatelic Exhibition, proved beyond the fondest hopes of its planners to be the greatest philatelic show in U. S. history.

During the nine-day affair the total attendance was 268,000 —an increase of 34 per cent over the previous established high for Cipex in 1947. On the opening day 60,000 persons visited Fipex.

The largest transaction reported by a prominent dealer was the sale of a single stamp for $8,000.

The Grand Trophy for the best exhibit in the show went to Robert Hoffman of Montevideo, Uruguay for his collection of Uruguay, 1856-64.

Two women won top awards. Mrs. Prentice Cromwell of New York City received the trophy for the "Best 20th Century Collection" and Mrs. Ethel D. McCoy of New York City received the Arthur E. Summerfield Trophy for the "Best United States 20th Century Collection."

Speaking of Fipex, a special set of six new stamps honoring the big show has been issued by Liberia. Two of the designs depict a view of the new Coliseum where the exhibition was held. Two depict the Statue of Liberty and two show the Fipex emblem. The three lower values are for regular mail and the higher for airmail. A miniature sheet of these stamps also was issued, reports the New York Stamp Co.

Record Review

Walter Bishop, who writes all kinds of music when he isn't at work at United Press Movietone News, has composed a tone poem in the popular musical idiom that is worth hearing many times.

It's called "Skyline," and young Bobby Scott has given it a brilliant showcase in his ABC-Paramount album, "Scott Free."

"Skyline" is a piece of piano work that the late George Gershwin would have admired, and Scott's keyboarding is a work of artistry that many of his contemporaries will envy.

Bishop already has established himself. He wrote "One O'Clock Blues" with Fats Waller back in 1926 and since has turned out pop tunes of all sorts, his latest being Louis Jordan's Decca recording of "Everything That's Made of Wood (Was Once a Tree)."

But Scott's future still lies ahead of him. He is only 19. In addition to his piano work, he excels on the vibes. Numbers in "Scott Free" include "Over the Rainbow" and "What's New." Scott gets excellent support from Knobby Totah on the bass and Al Levitt on the drums.

Another fine album is Jackie Gleason's "Night Winds," a Capitol LP that features the versatile Jackie's orchestra on 16 smooth selections among them "Alone," "Love Letters in the Sand," "Memories of You" and "When You're Away." The fidelity is high and the mood is soft.

A little bit on the peppier side is Columbia's "Frankie Laine and the Four Lads," a collaboration between one of America's most energetic singers and a top vocal ensemble. Frankie sets the pace on an even dozen numbers, the best being "Didn't He Moan?" "Ain't It a Pity and a Shame?" and "What Would I Do Without the Lord?"

Tops in Pops. "Charleston Parisien" by Guy Lombardo (Capitol), "Fort Knox" by Don Cornell (Coral), "You're the Apple of My Eye" by the Four Lovers (RCA-Victor) and "Hot and Cold Running Tears" by Sarah Vaughan (Mercury).

Show Time. "Anything Goes," the Cole Porter hit musical of the 1930's was received recently for the movies with Bing Crosby and Donald O'Connor in the lead roles. Decca has picked up most of the original sound track and turned out an excellent show LP. It includes all of the show's best songs which, if you don't remember, include "I Get A Kick Out of You," "You're the Top" and "Blow, Gabriel, Blow."

Taylor, Granger Star In 'The Last Hunt'

Not in years has a picture been shown at the Jim Theatre as thrilling as "The Last Hunt," with Robert Taylor, Stewart Granger, Lloyd Nolan, Debra Paget and Russ Tamblyn heading a noteworthy cast.

Based on the novel which won Milton Lott the Houghton Mifflin Literary Fellowship Award, and produced by M-G-M head, Dore Schary, "The Last Hunt" deals with the crucial chapter of Western history in which the buffalo hunters wiped out almost the last of the great buffalo herds which roamed the Dakota Territory in the early 1880's, and of the men who gravitated to the remote frontier to earn their living by killing.

Two of them were Charley Gilson (Robert Taylor), sure shot with a buffalo rifle and a man with a blood-thirsty mania for slaughtering as many bison as he can encounter, and Sandy McKenzie (Stewart Granger), who had quit hunting after seeing the vast herds to the south exterminated and who soon regrets his return to the kill.

They form a strange partnership as they set out to find buffalo, with Windfoot and Jimmy O'Brien, a peg-legged old veteran and a young halfbreed, as their skinners. It is a relationship that becomes explosive, and when Gilson, after the danger-filled excitement of their first furious assault on the buffalo, captures a beautiful Indian girl, an eventual showdown is certain.

Tension and drama mount in a vivid series of adventures in which the lives of the hunters are threatened in a hair-raising buffalo stampede, encounters with attacking wolves, the episode in which Gilson stalks a Sioux encampment and kills all but the Indian girl and her baby, the ruse by which McKenzie helps the girl to escape with her child to an Indian reservation, and the suspense-taut climax, in which a half-crazed Gilson pursues McKenzie and the girl across a frozen landscape and catches up with them for the fateful showdown, one in which the buffalo plays an ironic and retributive part.

The scenes of the buffalo herds, numbering more than 1,500 animals, ranging the valleys, stampeding, making a last fight for existence, are remarkable, and nothing like them has ever been shown on the screen before. To photograph them, Director Richard Brooks, who also wrote the screen play, took his stars and location company to the Badlands and Black Hills of South Dakota, with the dangerous stampede scenes photographed by four heavily barricaded CinemaScope cameras.

Robert Taylor and Stewart Granger offer effective contrast in their repective roles of the hunter who kills for the love of killing and his partner who has had enough of the wanton slaughter. Lloyd Nolan has an outstanding characterization as the veteran skinner. Russ Tamblyn is fine as the half-breed who becomes proud of his Indian heritage, and Debra Paget gives an illuminating portrayal of the stoic Indian girl. They all contribute to making a memorable drama of the last stand of the American buffalo.

One Bite Of Food Starts Her Binge

If any of you have any doubt that there is such a thing as emotional obesity, listen to a quotation from a letter which came from a very intelligent reader.

"Exactly a year ago I joined your Marathon and laboriously whittled off 23 pounds in a little more than two months. I have been on your Marathon ever since. It has been a long pull because I have never overcome fully the real source of my overweight.

"I have always been a compulsive eater, first cousin I suppose to the alcoholic, in that whenever things get difficult I rush to the refrigerator for consolation.

Like Alcoholic

"I have found that I must battle this as the alcoholic does by never forgetting that this is my weakness. I find that if I can just keep myself from taking the FIRST bite of gooey cake, or the FIRST mouthful of spaghetti, or the FIRST spoonful of ice cream, I have won over the awful compulsion to gobble and chew for comfort.

"This is the only way I can make progress. To date I have lost 45 pounds and feel 100 per cent better. I can wear a size 15 dress and am striving now to lose those last 15 pounds of overweight.

"Therefore I am sending for your Marathon again this year. I will not lose the most of all your entrants but we are all winners when we make a conscious effort to improve."

Lost 45 Pounds

Isn't that a wonderful letter? She has lost 45 pounds and is now going for the last 15 pounds of overweight.

It is a wise woman who can analyze herself and see herself objectively! Few of us can.

Many women turn to food for comfort without realizing that they are doing so. Be honest with yourself. If you find that you are a victim of emotional obesity try missing that first bite as this reader did.

If you missed my Nine-Day Reducing Diet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Waterproof Soldier Will Go To Germany

FERRIDAY, La., May 19 —Pfc. Joe D. Cornett of Waterproof is scheduled to leave the U. S. for Germany next month as part of Operation Gyroscope, the Army's unit rotation plan.

Cornett's unit, the 3rd Armored Division, now stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky, will replace the 4th Infantry Division in Europe.

As assistant squad leader in Company C of the division's 23rd Engineer Battalion, Cornett entered the army in June 1955. He attended Northwestern State College.

Less than half the antarctic continent has been explored.

The PHANTOM
By LEE FALK and WILSON McCOY
ONCE MORE, WOBAN FACES A MASKED MAN~ BUT THIS TIME IT'S DIFFERENT! THE REAL PHANTOM.
HE IS LIKE IRON!
HE HURLS THE GIANT THRU THE AIR AS IF HE WERE A FEATHER PILLOW!
PHAN-TOM! PHAN-TOM!
(PUFF) I'M GLAD THAT'S OVER!
THE WINNER OF THE TOURNEY~ AND RULER OF THE JUNGLE~ THE PHANTOM!
THANK GOODNESS HE WON! IMAGINE IF THAT DUMB WOBAN HAD BEEN OUR RULER FOR A YEAR!
IT WAS A CLOSE CALL!
JACK, THE ESCAPED CONVICT, IS RETURNED TO THE PEN~~
I STILL DON'T KNOW WHAT HAPPENED. I FOUND A SUIT AND MASK~ PUT IT ON~~ PEOPLE TREATED ME LIKE A KING~ MADE ME FIGHT A GIANT WHO ALMOST BROKE ME IN TWO~ WHAT WAS IT ALL ABOUT?
WILSON McCOY 5-20

I ALWAYS DID WANT TO MEET A SWELL DISH LIKE HER.
MISS PEACHERINO, YOU PHONED TH' EMPLOYMENT AGENCY...
MY! YOU MADE GOOD TIME GETTING HERE. COME IN AND I WILL HAVE THE BUTLER SHOW YOU WHAT TO DO.
DADDY, I'M GOING OUT AGAIN. TELL THE BUTLER I HAVE A MAN WAITING IN THE HALL TO HELP HIM HANG THOSE NEW PICTURES.
THE BUTLER IS OFF TODAY, DOLLY. I WILL SHOW HIM WHERE TO HANG THEM MYSELF.
GET OFF OF THERE!
THIS IS WHERE TH' LADY TOLD ME TO HANG THIS PICTURE.
SAY, WHO DO YOU THINK YOU'RE CALLIN' NAMES?
I'M GOING TO LOOK THAT ONE UP IN TH' DICTIONARY...IF IT MEANS WHAT I THINK IT DOES, YOU BETTER TAKE OFF FOR AFRICA AND GET YERSELF A BUTLER JOB THERE.

dial
annie fitch

It's that DIAL feeling—

you never worry about odor!

I like coffee, I like tea, I like that Dial feeling—and so will he. No matter what you do, you always have that "just stepped out of the shower feeling." And the reason is—Dial removes odor-causing skin bacteria that other good soaps leave on your skin. Best of all, Dial keeps on working, protecting you all day—and for several days if need be. Dial's AT-7 does it. No other leading soap has it. That's why Dial—and only Dial—stops odor before it starts! People who use Dial say they just don't feel as clean with any other soap.

Aren't you glad you use Dial Soap?
